SOUTHWEST BREEZES

By Romaine Saunders

Raymond Bly marketed a load of cattle at the Chambers pavillion Thursday.

Truck loads of Hampshires were taken to market Tuesday from the James place.

John Bower has added three cows to his herds from the Adams sale last week near Chambers.

Miss Birdie Doolittle, an instructor in the Amelia schools, visited Sunday at the home of her sister, Mrs. B. Kennedy.

E. E. Young leaves today for Kansas after Mrs. Young and little Samy, who have been visiting relatives for a few weeks.

Mrs. Louise Williams and her son, Raymond and wife, all of Albion, visited Sunday at the Riley ranch. Mrs. Lawson is a sister of Mrs. Riley.

Howard Berry and George Holcomb headed south of Amelia Monday with four fleet hounds in anticipation of ambling onto one or more coyotes.

George Traver is convalescing from the effects of the ordeal of having his teeth taken out. Mr. Traver has been in ill health for some time and it is believed the dental surgery will ultimately restore his accustomed vigor.

Tomorrow afternoon Mrs. Raymond Bly will entertain the Good Cheer club, a group of ladies, and serve lunch. The purpose of the club is to make household articles to dispose of and send the proceeds to the orthopedic hospital at Lincoln.

Of the various tribes of Indians that once inhabited the plains, the Kiawas were said to be the most devoted to anything savoring of a contest. They would become worked into a frenzy of excitement over a coyote chasing a rabbit. The pale face has much of this savage instinct. A nation is aroused as radios blare out the story of a few half naked huskies in a corn picking contest.

Automobile and radio salesmen, peddlers of extracts and flavorings, scalpers from the numerous sales rings scheming to "do" the chap with a few cattle and various others with this or that to sell are keeping the sands of the southwest stirred with the rubber tires. And a bombardment every day in the mails with emblazoned "special sale" literature we are not lacking opportunity out this way to dispose of the season's earnings.

Lapse of time mitigates all things. It has become clear what was implied by the one-time familiar but ambiguous declaration of a zealous group, "We don't want the old saloon back." Too tame—give us something a little wilder, with mother, daughter and son wallowing in the Bacchanalian orgies. Repeat was effected by false pretense. There is growing indication thru-out the nation of a ground swell, faint rumblings of an eruption. The People will again speak.

Odd things become incorporated in legal verbiage when a lawyer undertakes to give notice to individuals and the public in general of an action begun in court. Barrett Scott, victim of a mob, and whose remains have reposed in an untimely grave more than forty years, and others long ago lain away from life's petty affairs, are given notice that if they have anything to say concerning the ownership of a dinky town lot to come on into court. Perhaps such conforms to the prescribed legal requirements, but to the bulk of we plebeians it is pure nonsense.

Mrs. Frank Williamson lately had word from her brother in Illinois that he had gathered an average of 104 bushels per acre of corn from a field and 94 bushels per acre from a second field. Holt county farmers this year husk for a week to get a hundred bushels of corn. Some young fellows of this community who have been in the southwest corner of Nebraska working in the apple harvest tell of one orchard which produced 70,000 bushels. Interesting figures telling of prolific yields in this community are also available. From a little garden patch Floyd Adams harvested 20 bushels of sweet potatoes while my own experience with this famous southern product was one bushel from 13 plants. Bernard Kennedy outclassed us all with a 13-acre field of sorghum which stands in uncultured shocks and will be threshed next month, indications being that there will be seed enough to cover most of the cultivated area of the southwest.

NORTHEAST HOLT

A reunion was held at the Ray Siders home on Oct. 31. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Taylor of Laporte, Colo. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Taylor and family of O'Neill, Mr. and Mrs. Jonnie Sorenson and family of Page, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor and family of Opportunity, and the Ray Siders family. A very pleasant day was enjoyed by all, as well as a lovely dinner.

On Nov. 5, twelve of the Dorsey men folks accompanied by their women folks met at the Dorsey church and the men reset the church yard fence, putting in new posts and restretching the wire. They also did other repair work on the church and out buildings, cleaned the yard and chopped up the old posts for fuel. All posts and work was donated. The ladies cleaned the church and served a lovely picnic dinner. The Ladies Aid meeting was in the afternoon and lunch was served again at 4:30 when the men were finished with their work.

Mrs. Edward Carson is enjoying a visit from several of her relatives the past week. Those visiting her are her brother, Jess Carson, of Cowles, Nebr., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith of Brandsville,

Mr. Mrs. Smith being a sister of Mrs. Carson, and a nephew, Mr. Smith, wife and son, of Wood River, Nebr. Another sister and her husband are expected from Montana any day.

EMMET ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. John Conard have purchased the Methodist parsonage and will remodel it for their home.

Three calves belonging to William Tenberg were run over by a car on the highway Wednesday night. One was killed instantly and the others seriously injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex McConnell visited at the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry and family, at Wausa, Nebr., Saturday.

A fire of unknown origin damaged the John Bonenberger home Saturday evening. It was discovered in time to prevent serious damage.

Rev. A. J. May of O'Neill, preached Sunday afternoon in the Methodist church.

John Conard, Herman Grothe, Harry Werner and Pat McGinnis were hunting on the Niobrara last Thursday. John and Herman returned with a Canadian goose each. They also got a few ducks. Duck hunters here have had excellent luck this season, but these were the only two geese taken by local hunters.

Mrs. Guy Cole left Tuesday for Sioux City where she expects to visit for several days.

PLEASANT DALE

Mrs. William Bantz, who is 83-years-old, came here from Auburn, Nebr., to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Vera Hickman.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Heeb visited their daughter, Edna, in Atkinson Sunday.

Mrs. Fred Dobias visited Friday with her parents, near Atkinson. Myrleen Beckwith was a week-end guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Seger.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ernst and children visited Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bellar.

Leonard Lawyer is here from CCC camp visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lawyer.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Seger have Christianized their baby daughter Janet.

Miss Olive Beckwith was an over-night guest of her aunt, Mrs. Ralph Beckwith, Wednesday.

Miss Charlotte Crandall, who teaches the Pleasant Dale school, spent the week-end at her home north of O'Neill.

Rev. and Mrs. S. M. Ohmart left the latter part of last week for Pomona, Calif., where they will spend the winter.

MEEK AND VICINITY

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hubby and Mrs. Ben Freeberg and sons spent Wednesday evening at the Eric Borg home.

The Ladies Aid met with Mrs. Emmet Slate Thursday afternoon. A large crowd attended. Mrs. Slate served a delicious luncheon. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Art Auker and the Aid are planning a Christmas program for that meeting.

Mrs. Dude Harrison and son, Billy, of Chadron, and Wayne Stevenson, of Valentine, came Friday afternoon to spend the week-end with the Orville Harrison and Elmer Duvall families.

Sam Shults is in the O'Neill hospital recovering from an attack of pneumonia. At last reports he was improving. Sam and his family formerly lived in this community, but lives west on Eagle Creek now. His friends hope for his speedy recovery.

Walter Duvall, Leroy Spindler, Mabel and Lucille Jones and Patricia Robertson were dinner guests at the Anton Toy home in O'Neill Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rouse, Lawrence, Lloyd and Delbert, and Arthur Rouse were dinner guests at Eric Borg's on Sunday.

Will Devall has been suffering with an attack of the lumbago the past week.

Mrs. Fred Johring spent Thursday with her sister, Mrs. Will Devall.

Mrs. Gallentine, of Norcat, Kansas, is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Clouse and other relatives.

Mrs. Fred Johring and children were guests at the Henry Storchmann home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Arrison and children, of Meadow Grove, were guests at the Orville Harrison home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Devall and baby, Dwayne, were guests at the Will Devall home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thomas and children and Joe Harrison were evening callers at the Orville Harrison and Elmer Devall homes on Saturday.

Bob Burgland, who worked for A. L. Borg during the summer and who left there in September, is back and working for Eric Borg.
