Fred Johring Summoned At Crofton January 1

Fred H. Johring passed away at the hospital at Crofton, Nebraska, at 1:50 o'clock Saturday morning, January 1, 1944, after an illness of about five months, at the age of 60 years, six months and nineteen days. The body was brought to O'Neill by the Biglin ambulance and the funeral was held Monday afternoon at two o'clock from the Presbyterian church, Rev. Ohmart officiating, and burial in Prospect Hill cemetery.

Fred had not been feeling well for the past five months and about December 1 went to a hospital in Crofton for medical treatment. He seemed to be getting along fine and it was thought he was well on the road to recovery, when he had a hemorrhage and passed away shortly afterwards.

Fred Johring was born at Lincoln, Neb., on June 12, 1883, and the following spring came to Holt county with his parents when he was nine months old, so that he was a resident of this county practically all his life. His father located northwest of O'Neill, where Fred grew to manhood.

On June 30, 1914, he was united in marriage to Miss Martha Storchmann, daughter of one of the pioneer families of northwest Holt county. Five children were born to this union, three sons and two daughters, all of whom with their mother are left to mourn the passing of a kind and affectionate husband and father. The children are: Melvin, of Atkinson; Mrs. Velma Duhon of Crowley, La.; Donald, Bennie and Shirley of O'Neill. He is also survived by three sisters: Mrs. Emma Lawrence, Mrs. Rose Jennings and Mrs. Fannie Ernst.

Fred Johring was a splendid man and had a host of friends in this city and county. A quiet and unassuming man, he attended strictly to his own business and looked after the welfare of his immediate family. For the past forty years he had been one of Holt county's progressive farmers and stockmen and met more than average success in his chosen profession. The large number of citizens of northeastern Holt that were in attendance at his funeral Monday attested to the high esteem in which he was held by the people in the section of the county that he had made his home for many years. The Frontier joins the many friends of the family in extending condolence to them in their hour of sorrow.

Former O'Neillite Enjoys Frontier's Weekly Visits

This office received a letter Wednesday from Mrs. O. F. Herring, Eugene, Oregon, formerly a resident of this city, enclosing a renewal of her subscription to The Frontier for another year. Mrs. Herring says in her letter: "We always look forward to the weekly visits of The Frontier, as it keeps us posted on the happenings in the 'old home town.' We are having a nice warm rain here today (January 1st) after about ten days of freezing fog. We wish all O'Neill friends a Happy New Year and hope and pray that 1944 will bring us victory in war. We are about 45 miles from Camp Adair so that week ends we see quite a few soldiers here, as a good many are taking special training in schools here."

THE CHAMBERS SUN SUSPENDS PUBLICATION

The Chambers Sun, which has been published by Mrs. Alderson since her husband entered the Navy some months ago, has suspended publication for the duration, the last issue appearing last Thursday. Shortage of help during these trying times was the cause for the suspension and they promise that the Sun will shine again after the conclusion of the war.

Mrs. F. H. Griffith entertained at dinner on New Year's, honoring her daughter, Mrs. Jean Griffith Jones of San Antonio, Texas, who was spending the holidays here. Those present were: Miss Maude Rouse, Arthur Rouse, R. D. Spindler, Mrs. Henry Grady and Mrs. Minnie Bay were callers during the day.

Miss Patty Schaffer returned to Lincoln on Tuesday, where she is attending the University of Nebraska, after spending the holidays visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Schaffer. Miss Rose Mary Biglin returned to Trinidad, Colo., Wednesday, after spending the holidays visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Biglin, and other relatives.

Second Lieut. Norman Gonderinger, who is stationed at the advocate general's office in Omaha, returned to that place Monday, after spending a few days here visiting visiting friends.

Mrs. Mildred Roche Died Wednesday Afternoon

Mrs. Mildred E. Roche died at the O'Neill hospital last Wednesday afternoon at 3 p. m., after an illness of about four months, of a heart infection, at the age of 43 years, four months and twenty-two days. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Biglin Mortuary and burial in Prospect Hill cemetery.

Mildred E. Holly was born at Hartwick, Iowa, on August 13, 1900. About 1922 she was united in marriage to Edward Roche, the ceremony being performed at University Place, Nebr. After her marriage she came to this county with her husband and since that time she had lived on a farm north and west of Page, until she was brought to the hospital here for medical treatment last Friday.

Mrs. Roche was the mother of five children, all of whom survive and are left to mourn the passing of a kind and affectionate mother. The children are: Leo James, Janet, Eugene, Mary Ann and Jack. She is also survived by one brother, Everett Holly, who resides in the state of Washington.

Mrs. Roche was a splendid woman and had a host of friends in the eastern part of the county, where she was well and favorably known for the love and devotion she gave to her children.

Schools To Be Cited For Part In War Work

The contribution to the nation's war effort made by several thousand Nebraska schools which took part in the recent emergency waste paper drive is to be formally recognized by presentation of a special citation to each of the participating schools by the Knight of Ak-Sar-Ben, according to information reaching this office from Omaha.

County superintendents have been asked to supply the names of all schools which helped on the drive, so that specially embossed Citation certificates may be prepared for them. Ak-Sar-Ben's state-wide corps of ambassadors, who represent the organization in practically every city and town of Nebraska, have offered to cooperate with County Superintendents wherever possible in making presentations of the certificates to the schools.

Announcements of awards has met with warm approval of school leaders, according to William D. Lane, chairman of Ak-Sar-Ben's War Activities Committee, who praised the schools for their accomplishments in the drive. "The enthusiastic response of Nebraska schools, both large and small, had much to do with the fine showing this state made in relation to other states in the drive," he said.

"Presentation of these citations is an excellent method of helping the children of the country feel that they, too, have a part in the winning of the war," said Seward County Superintendent E. A. Austin. "Ak-Sar-Ben's citations will be as welcome as the Navy 'E' for performance."

Miss Evangeline Waite, superintendent of Sherman county, said: "The schools are going to be greatly surprised to know that their efforts are being noticed. I thank you in their behalf," and other comments include:

Fred S. Lecron, Platte county: "Sincerely thank you for the encouragement . . . given the schools."

James F. Callaway, Saunders County: "Heartily in favor of the program . . . and consider it to be very much worth while."

Rev. and Mrs. Dawson Park and family left Tuesday morning for Nebraska City, Neb., being called there by the serious illness of Mrs. Park's father. They are still there and there will be no services in the Methodist church here next Sunday, either morning or evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Holm of Pierce were New Year's guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hanson.

BREEZES FROM THE SOUTHWEST

By Romaine Saunders
Atkinson, Nebr., Star Rt. No. 5

There is an extra day this year. Hope it is not needed to finish off the Axis.

A man's word may be worth nothing, but his money has the same value as that of the honest man.

I have endeavored to read a book that is said to lead all "best sellers" in public favor. If so, the American literary taste is badly warped.

The new year fans us with a mild south breeze and the weather gauge recording 65 above in mid-afternoon. A January thaw with nothing to thaw.

Forty-four has arrived. In a few months we may expect to hear the battle cry, Win the War With Roosevelt. How would this sound: "Win the War With MacArthur!"

Numerous republicans are brot forward as amply qualified for the job of chief executive of the nation. Democrats have but the one shrine which holds their undivided devotion.

It is given out as authentic that the 1943 federal expenditure of money exceeds the combined totals for the previous 150 years. Sowing abroad the "mammon of unrighteousness" in a really big way.

We are told from Washington that we owe this big debt to ourselves—we let it go at that. I owe Tom Salem over at Amelia 47 cents. Maybe he will tell me not to worry—we just owe it to ourselves.

Sacrifice to win the war. We are a great people to put it in print, but about the only hope to goodness sacrifices are among our men where the battle rages; most others are depending their pound of flesh.

Mrs. Alderson of the Chambers Sun has found it necessary to close up shop. I have regretted that I was unable to give her occasional "lifts" to the extent that the paper could continue to function. Running a home, caring for a baby and getting out a four and six-page tabloid is more than one woman's job. If you think you can do it, try your hand.

Union leaders foster the false notion among the workers that there are "enemies of labor" shaming up throughout the country. Labor has no enemies, but labor racketeers should be crushed. Sensible citizens everywhere are for even-handed justice for all elements of society. Heads of labor organizations have made themselves the objects of public disapproval because of political activities.

Mrs. Bernice Kennedy went to Red Cloud a day last week for a visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. Medlin. Fifteen airplanes in formation of fours and one of three crossed high above our doorway, 16 on a return trip the next day. Meadowlarks go into the New Year with us without a song, maybe ashamed of their dull gray winter coats. Many 6-ton loads of baled hay have been moved from the Garwood Bros. meadows to Atkinson and Stuart. Coyotes fed on a fat lamb from the Cap Addison flock, since when Cap sees that his sheep are in the shelter of the nightfold. Fredricks were the latest in the neighborhood to butcher a fat one for home consumption.

Patrons of Holt county business concerns are pleased to observe that their patronage is thought enough of to bring forth spontaneous and decorative, sincere and

O'Neill Girl Wins Honors At Doane College

Wayne Weber, Friend, and Betty Jane Puckett, O'Neill, two Doane seniors, were revealed as the students' choice of Duke and Duchess of Doane College at the annual Phi Sigma Tau Christmas party in Butler Gym, Saturday night, December 18.

Miss Puckett will complete the work for her AB degree at the close of the present term, February 26. She will graduate with a major in psychology and two minors, philosophy and Spanish. During her college course, she has assisted in the library, but she has also found time for responsible participation in the student life. She served her class as secretary-treasurer in the Sophomore year; as social chairman of YWCA and May Queen attendant in her Junior year; and in her senior year as class secretary-treasurer, and for one term as secretary-treasurer of the House Council. She is also active in the choir and Drum Corps and is vice president of Phi Sigma Tau Sorority.

Clinton E. Cronin Made Lieut. (j. g.) In Navy

Clinton E. Cronin of Grand Island has been named a Lieutenant (j. g.) in the U. S. Navy and reports at Tucson, Ariz., on Saturday, January 15, 1944, for duty.

Clinton was born and grew to manhood in this city and after his school days and admission to the bar, practiced law here for a short time. For the past ten years he has been engaged in the practice of law at Grand Island, Nebr., being a member of one of that city's leading legal firms. For the past year he has also been city attorney of Grand Island. His wife and two daughters will probably continue to make their home in Grand Island.

O'Neill Sale Barn Will Reopen Monday, Jan. 10

Several Holt county stockmen have leased the O'Neill Livestock Sale Barn from Ed Hall and will open for business next Monday, January 10. The Livestock Commission Company will be under the management of H. G. Moses and George P. Colman, who have been employees of the sales barn since it was established here a few years ago. Both of these men are well known to the stockmen of the county and we predict that the O'Neill Livestock Commission Company will hold its place as one of the leading sale barns in the state.

unstinted expression of appreciation, joined with the season's good wishes from our business people through the medium of the press. Perhaps the few that remained silent either don't care for public patronage, have thoughtlessly overlooked this opportunity, their business has been such there isn't much to crow over or they look upon it as a sort of annual newspaper racket. We believe these expressions of our leading business concerns and professional people are wholly genuine and set mighty well with the public.

As I catch the pink glow of the early January sunset, memory says we are 56 years removed from the blizzard of '88, when rode the pale form with death's hand of ice. Little is known, nothing can be known by a later generation clothed in snug comforts, of the suffering and death on bleak prairie lands of those overtaken by an overwhelming avalanche of snow and crushing cold, nor the anxious hours spent in rude shelter even some who found refuge and life among the swine in their pens. A winter day in Nebraska of unmatched violence, suffering, death and heroic endurance. Early January, 1944 finds the prairie land without a snowflake, jagged hills in the sombre robes of autumn on the distant horizon, the winter sun moving like a celestial wanderer across the heavens from dawn till nightfall and the sky aglow with nocturnal glory. The weather has done its best for a Happy New Year.

Miss Helen Van Sant returned to her home in Omaha last Saturday, after spending a week visiting at the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Kubitschek.

Three Holt County Boys Meet In Italy

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peter received word from their son, Sgt. Louis L. Peter, stationed in Italy, that he again met Cpl. Leonard Winkler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Winkler of Emmet, on December 13, 1943. Sgt. Peter and Cpl. Winkler located S. Sgt. Bill Miller, son of Mrs. Miller of O'Neill, at a distance twenty miles from their own camp. S. Sgt. Miller was certainly surprised to see them and remarked that he hadn't met up with any old friends since he met Sgt. Peter in the States in September, 1942.

Clubs Learn How To Pep Up War Time Meals

Home demonstration project club members in Holt county are going to discover new and old ways of "Pepping Up War Time Meals" at their next meeting. The Schedule for the training meetings is as follows: O'Neill, Monday, January 24; Atkinson, Tuesday, January 25; Chambers, Friday, January 28.

The women folks will discuss a new bulletin entitled, "Pepping Up War Time Meals," which has been prepared by Extension Specialists at the College of Agriculture. Copies of the bulletin will be given to each home demonstration project club member at their next meeting.

The demonstration at the training meetings center around the preparation of home preserved foods in interesting and tasty ways with the least amount of time and energy.

Pattern recipes will be demonstrated to add variety to war-time meals and save time. Efficient use of the home food supply will be discussed and demonstrated by Miss Della F. Lewis, district home demonstration agent. The meetings will also emphasize healthful meals through the use of the basic seven foods. Club women will exchange ideas on shortcuts in meal preparation and service which will save time and energy.

Lost Cost Loans Multinly

Banks in Nebraska have been quick to seize the opportunity of serving small borrowers with lower cost installment loans since this field of service was opened to them by the recent act of the state legislature. The Director of Banking has just announced that where twenty-one banks were licensed to make installment loans a year ago, 116 banks are already registered to provide such loans now.

The installment loan act was sought at the last session by the banks in this state to the end that they might serve the small borrower at rates lower than those of the average loan company. The extent of the benefits that have come to the small borrower by reason of the availability of lower interest rates was reviewed by the Committee on Installment Loans of the Nebraska Bankers Association at a meeting in Omaha last week, where the growth of this lending field was announced. This committee, which was active in seeking the legislative act, is planning later improvements in the program aimed to further benefit small borrowers.

Mrs. Rose McNichols Died Sunday Morning, Jan. 2

Mrs. Joseph McNichols died at her home northwest of O'Neill at 7:40 o'clock last Sunday morning, after a long illness, at the age of 57 years, eight months and fifteen days. The funeral services were held at the Catholic church in this city at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, January 4, 1944. Rev. Father Brick officiating, and burial in Calvary cemetery.

Rose McDermott was born at Dunlap, Iowa, on April 17, 1886. She grew to womanhood in her native state and in 1908 she came to Holt county with her parents and this had been her home ever since. On October 15, 1913, she was united in marriage to Joseph McNichols, the ceremony being performed in O'Neill. Four children, all daughters, were born of this union, who, with their father are left to mourn the passing of a kind and affectionate wife and mother. The children are: Mrs. Leonard Shoemaker, Estelle, Catherine and Helen, all of O'Neill. She is also survived by three grandchildren. Also surviving are one sister and two brothers. They are: Mrs. Ed Slattery of Winder, Wis.; J. D. McDermott of Cody, Wyo.; P. J. McDermott of East Pepperville, Mass.

Mrs. McNichols was a charming woman, a splendid wife and mother, a good and kind neighbor and friend. While she had been in poor health for the past couple of years, she never complained, her whole attention and devotion being extended in the care and welfare of her loved ones, without regard to herself. She had hundreds of friends in O'Neill and this community who sincerely regret her passing, in the very prime of life, and to the sorrowing family; these friends join The Frontier in extending to them sincere condolence in their hour of sorrow.

Infantile Paralysis Drive Starts Soon

The campaign for raising funds for the victims of Infantile Paralysis will soon be starting.

Mrs. R. E. Armbruster, who has been appointed chairman of the drive in Holt county this year, has her plans well underway. But she needs the cooperation of everyone in Holt county to make the drive a success. Judging from the past, I have assured her that she will have your support.

Mrs. H. E. Coyne, Chairman, Holt Co. National Foundation For Infantile Paralysis.

AAA News Notes

A meeting has been scheduled for all producers, truckers, dealers and processors of livestock to be held in O'Neill, in the assembly room of the court house, on Friday, January 7 at 8 o'clock p. m., at which time a local livestock industry transportation committee will be selected. ODT Manager Robert Stauffer announced today.

This committee will advise and assist the area livestock industry transportation committee and the ODT administrator in directing the movement of motor trucks used in the transportation of livestock to or from points in Holt county. This committee shall be representative of persons having control over livestock to be moved within the territory, persons engaged in motor transportation of such livestock, and dealers and processors, if any, who deal in or process livestock within the territory.

In order to conserve and properly utilize vital transportation equipment, materials and supplies and to provide for the prompt, continuous and equitable movement of livestock, the attainment of which purposes is essential to the successful prosecution of the war, it is urged that all interested persons attend this meeting.

Pressure cookers, which were on the rationed list last year, have been removed and are not rationed for 1944.

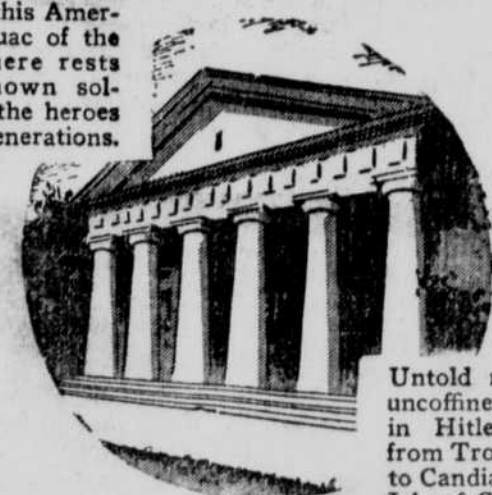

Harry E. Ressel, Chairman, Holt Co. AAA Committee

Bert Brennan returned to Washington last Sunday, where he is attending the Millard Military Academy, a preparatory school for West Point, after spending the holidays here visiting his mother, Mrs. F. M. Brennan, and other relatives and friends.
