

Spearheading War on Typhus in 'Sunny Italy'

Ready with spray guns and other delousing equipment, members of the flying squad of the U. S. army assigned to fight typhus in Naples (left) are off to investigate reports of a case of lice-carried disease. In picture at top a baby member of a Neapolitan family is given a dose of lice-killing powder. The man with the gun is an Italian member of a delousing squad. Right: Here the "target" is a woman who has been exposed to typhus. She has been living in a filthy tunnel in the slum section of Naples.

Navy Opens Drive on Jap's 'Pearl Harbor'

U. S. naval task forces, striking with hundreds of planes, have made their first assault on Truk, Japan's great stronghold in the Western Pacific, and the last major obstacle on our road to the Philippines and China. The attack on Truk, shown on this map, followed with relentless speed the capture of the Marshall Islands.

Back on the Job

The 2,500 striking employees of the Los Angeles water and power department, taken over by the army on President Roosevelt's order, as they began returning to work. This soundphoto shows linesmen back on the job repairing power circuits.

U. S. Nurses Get Jungle-Wise in Indian Jungle

Four U. S. nurses now in training to replace Lieut. Col. Gordon Seagrave and his Burmese nurses on the Burma front, are shown (left) cooking chow over their fire during an eight-mile hike with full combat packs. They are trained to live in the jungle in order that they may be better able to care for their patients. Right: An army nurse pushes her way through thick jungles of bamboo on the Indian-Burmese border.

Learning ABCs of Mines and Booby Traps

Now that the enemy are using more mines and booby traps than ever before, a school has been opened in Britain where units other than Royal Engineers can take a four-day course on our own and enemy mines and booby traps. Picture shows instructors watching students at work behind the Moascar Stock, a device constructed so they can handle various types of mines and booby traps in the dark.

Barkley Breaks With President Roosevelt Zeros His Specialty

Sen. Alben Barkley (D., Ky.), who announced his resignation as Democratic leader of the senate in protest against President Roosevelt's attack on congress in the tax veto message, is shown as he met with members of the press after his sensational speech. A fighting mad congress rallied behind him. Senate Democrats reelected him leader.

Staff Sgt. John A. Murphy, 24, of Columbus, Neb., shown draped with Jap-killing bullets, recently blasted five Zeros out of the air on a single mission, becoming the ace turret gunner in the Rough Raiders' Strafer Unit, Fifth Air force.

Milestones on Road to Eternal City

Their helmets and rifles mark the graves of three British Tommies, killed in the bitter fighting near the town of Castellforte on the Carigliano front in Italy. The road to Rome is well marked with such tragic milestones, some German, some British, some French, and some American.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.
You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
Try Loon's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!
