Miss Ruth Osenbaugh And Private Robert Hilderhoff Married

Tall baskets of pink gladiola, white stalk white snapdragons and pink carnations arranged against a background of ferns and cathedral candles burning in two seven-branch candelabra, formed the background for the marriage of Miss Ruth Osenbaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Osenbaugh, to Pvt. Edward Robert Hilderhoff, of Etna, Penn., son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hilderhoff, which was solemnized at four o'clock Sunday afternoon, March 19th at the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Kenneth J. Scott officiated at the double ring ceremony.

While the guests were assembling, piano music was played by Mrs. Harold Lindberg, who also played the bridal music from Lohengrin as a professional and the Mendelssohn March as a recessional. Mrs. Pete Herford sang, "Oh Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly."

Miss Mabell Osenbaugh, sister of the bride as maid of honor, appeared in a gown of light blue taffeta, designed with a closely fitted bodice which had a sweetheart neck line and bracelet length sleeves, and a full skirt. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses and carnations.

The bridesmaids, Miss Lavetta Lehn and Miss Dorothy Larson wore pale pink taffeta dresses with sweetheart necklines in closely fitted bodice and elbow length sleeves and full skirts. Their bouquets were of pink roses, white carnations and sweetpeas. The candles were lighted by Lou Annler, who wore a sheer white dress with small blue and pink flowers over it with fitted bodice, short puffed sleeves and full skirt.

The flower girls were Caroline and Marilyn Lindberg, who wore a pink net and blue net dress with tiny bows of ribbon around the bottom.

Roy M. Sauer served as best man and the ushers were Fred Osenbaugh, brother of the bride and Robert Krutz.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of heavy white slipper satin for her wedding. The hip length bodice was closely fitted and fashioned with a yoke of Irish lace and sweetheart neckline. The long sleeves tapered from shoulder fullness to points at the wrists and the soft folds of the full skirt ended in an oval train. The two tiered veil of white illusion was held to the head by a coronet of seed pearls and the bridal bouquet was of gardenias, snapdragons and white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The refreshment table was arranged with a linen cloth and appointed with pink and white sweetpeas. White tapers burned in crystal candle holders and a three tiered wedding cake, circled with smilax was in the center of the table. Those serving were Mrs. Pete Herford, Mrs. L. C. Walling, Mrs. L. B. Sheehan, Mrs. H. G. Kruse and Mrs. George Marshall. Mrs. Robert Krutz was in charge of the guest book.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Rens of Ainsworth, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Peterson of Ainsworth, Mrs. Albert Lemar, Mrs. Leona Landon and Mrs. Minnie Martin, Atkinson, Miss Lavetta Lehn of Lincoln and Miss Mabell Osenbaugh of Mullen.

The bride wore a going away suit of white wool and light top coat with black accessories and wore a corsage of gardenias, carnations and roses.

Bull Sale Monday At Local Pavilion Successful; Cattle Run Is Heavier

The O'Neill Livestock Commission Co. reports a satisfactory Bull Sale last Monday with several out-of-town buyers. We are pleased to announce that the breeders who had consigned the bulls had them all here. They were a good rugged set from our home breeders.

Dewey Schaffer had the top bull which sold for $200.00 and went to Frank Searle of Redbird. The next highest price was $185.00 with the bull going to William D. Langan.

The Polled Herefords came into the ring next and were consigned by Ed. White of Amelia. The top bull sold for $147.50 and went to John Fiala of O'Neill. Next were the bulls under one year old which were owned by the C-M Ranch. The top bull in this class was a nice calf and sold for $140.00, going to Carl Pfeil. Fay Puckett's good calf sold for $121.00 to Herman Held of Chambers. E. R. Carpenter's Shorthorn calf sold for $133.00.

The run of stock cattle was some heavier than last week and prices were fully steady.

The hog alley was full of hogs and these sold for higher prices with a top of $13.60. The pigs were fully steady and there seemed to be plenty of takers for them.

Down At The Capital City

Maybe the talk should be budgeted along with cash and table supplies.

The cocky slant at which soldiers wear their cap may be a military requirement, personal taste or a military secret. The colored boys give it a little extra tilt.

Maybe the nation's schools are not turning out a grist of polished scholars but the youngsters are doing a good job of producing air planes, tanks and ships. Given a chance they will raise the corn and cotton.

Among 80 men to board a Burlington train for Omaha to be physically checked for induction into the army one fellow had it in mind to join the army to get away from a nagging wife. He didn't pass.

It is said the colored races outnumber the white race three to one. Whites are the superior race because of a certain degree of loyalty to Jehovah. The colored races have been pagan through the centuries.

Perhaps the mustering powers have a real or fancied need of taking fathers from their wives and babies to participate in a war not of their making but streets throng with hundreds of soldiers doing nothing much but taking in the skating rinks and shows. Many of them have been recently married and live with the young brides in city apartments. I overheard a husky young sergeant say he had been hanging around Lincoln for sixteen months.

Lincoln has drawn to its hospitable arms Nebraskans from all over the state and you are not here long until you meet a Holt county product. I saw Dr. George Sturdevant recently. Now graying at the temples, he with his brother was the pride of the Atkinson band a half century ago. The two little student boys in uniform clanging the cymbals made the Atkinson band famous. Dr. Sturdevant maintains a city dental office. He says it gives him a thrill to meet some one from Holt county, which he still regards as home.

Nebraska's cultured capital city garners a quorum of mountebanks who play upon the ravished emotions of heart sore fathers and mothers now turning anxious eyes from the tragedies of earth for light from above. Neither organized society nor organized religion has been able to lift the world out of the horrors of war. And amid the few sincere voices raised in honest effort to guide to the rainbow of promise and hope others lay defiled hands on sacred things and convert them into a racket. More over, "heap big talk" comes from official and unofficial notables appearing before community groups and radios blare more noise than sense. If you would think straight it will be necessary to step aside from the confusion.

The country editors have been in town the past month and reaffirmed the journalistic tradition that their first duty is to the local community. Visitors to the annual art exhibit found a liberal collection of grotesque productions along with the colorful works of the masters. Eleventh street between O and P took on a military aspect when Germans planes, guns and tanks taken in the African campaign were put on exhibition for the inspection of the crowds. Now the town will have the legislature in special session. Our neighbors "up home," Mr. and Mrs. Fred Watson were in town and we called at their hotel but they were out at the time. Lincoln printers have an organization incorporated as the Ben Franklin Club. By way of diversion from business worries they recently had a banquet. After the important activity of absorbing both dainty and rugged nourishment moving pictures were shown of the university bone miners at work in the fossil beds of northwest Nebraska. Snow and rain through March and late February has moistened the dry earth down here.

The forepart of the week Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rickly received word from Dash Point, Wash., of the death of Mr. Rickly's brother, William J. Rickly. Mr. Rickly was drowned Sunday while out in a speed boat with two friends. He was only 32 years old, leaves a wife and one daughter. His mother had also been making her home with them in Washington.
