CHAS. E. SANDALL SAYS:

NEBRASKA IS PROUD OF HER MODEL LIQUOR CONTROL LAW

Director of the Brewing Industry's self regulation program in Nebraska; prominent member of state bar; former county attorney, state senator; U. S. District Attorney during prohibition era.

I think perhaps many of our citizens take our liquor control statutes for granted. Actually, these laws are probably as well drawn and as effective as any in the entire country. They are often considered the model by legislators of other states. The wisdom of our law-makers who, back in 1935, studied the state's problems and devised our comprehensive and practical liquor control legislation, has been well proved.

Thanks to this law, conditions in Nebraska are good. Where occasion arises, however, this Committee cooperates closely with the authorities, taking action against any who abuse their license privileges.

Yes—Nebraskans can be thankful for wise and enforceable liquor control laws.

ATTENTION! ALL HOME CANNERS!

Before you begin your 1944 canning, Good Housekeeping Magazine advises you: use the boiling-water bath method for tomatoes and fruits, only. Can all vegetables except tomatoes by the correct use of a pressure cooker to be sure of killing botulinus germs. In the last few years, cases of botulinus food poisoning have cropped up in widely different parts of the country. Buy, borrow, share a pressure cooker—but don't can low-acid vegetables any other way. If you want further information, write Good Housekeeping Magazine, 959 Eighth Avenue, New York 19, N. Y.

His Pick-Up is his Jeep

To an American ranch boy whose older brother is fighting Japs somewhere in the South Pacific islands, driving the ranch pick-up truck could be dull, monotonous work.

But not to a boy whose heart is all in the war effort.

As he drives about the ranch or back and forth from town with supplies to keep the ranch hands equipped, the boy lets his fancy roam. His pick-up becomes his jeep. He imagines himself beside his soldier brother. His war work becomes exciting, too.

And so American ranchers and farmers carry their offensive to the enemy by providing food for a hungry world at war. Millions of head of cattle, hogs and lambs will be raised and fed to be converted into meat and by-products in meat packing plants such as those of Swift & Company.

America's meat packing plants are operating at full capacity to handle this increased volume of livestock. Slaughter records for the first four months of the year show that Federally Inspected meat packing plants handled 52% more hogs, 19% more cattle and 3% more lambs than in the same record-breaking months of a year ago. This was accomplished despite serious shortages of experienced help and other handicaps.

Swift & Company and livestock producers are working together to supply America at war with the meat needed to win.

We have for your use the following films:

- "A Nation's Meat"
- "Cows and Chickens, U. S. A."
- "Livestock and Meat"

Please feel free to ask us for them.

Livestock prices are the result of competitive buying by 3,500 meat packing plants in the United States and 22,500 other concerns and individuals who slaughter livestock commercially.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Judge, I've had a lot of calls for that book you took out last week. Tell the Boys Back Home! How did you like it?"

"Fine, Sarah, fine... it's just the kind of book I like to get hold of... I enjoyed every word of it. Wish I could have been along with the author myself... actually living with the men right on the fighting fronts. He got mighty close to them and they certainly opened up their minds and their hearts to him."

"There were lots of new things in the book I hadn't seen in any other reports from front-line writers. But there was one question the men asked the author that I have seen time and time again in these stories. That was 'Are you going to put prohibition over on us soldiers again... and without getting our vote?'"

"I noticed that, too, Judge, and I think the least we can do for those fighting men who are doing so much for us is to respect their wishes on that subject!"
