sumption of hard liquors is clearly the main purpose of operations. I am sure that people who have the facts and a genuine interest in law enforcement join me in urging more vigorous action be taken to put so-called "roadhouses" or "spike joints" out of business. Their operations are contrary to the policy of the liquor control law of our state as determined by the Nebraska legislature, and careful observation proves them dangerous and detrimental to the public welfare."

Additional Machinery Now Price Controlled

Used garden tractors, and tractor mounted including semi-mounted (power take-off driven) mowers are added to the list of farm equipment subject to ceiling prices, it was announced this week by M. E. Rawlings, Sioux City OPA Director, when sold by one individual to another, or when sold at auction. All new farm equipment, and all used farm equipment is subject to price control, when sold by dealers. In addition, certain types of farm machinery, in great demand, such as tractors and combines, have for some time been price controlled at auction.

The auction and individual sale ceiling price of any of these machines sold "as is" is 85 per cent of the manufacturer's suggested retail price, if the article is less than one year old—70 per cent if older. For the exact ceiling price of any of the listed items, prospective sellers and buyers of farm machinery are referred to the OPA district office, Sioux City, Iowa, or the local War Price and Rationing Board.

Farmers Must Report All Meat Sales

Effective August 21, any farmer who sold up to 6,000 pounds dressed weight, of meat produced from his own livestock during the last twelve months and having a point value higher than zero must file with the office of Price Administration a report of his sales on Form R-1609 (revised), M. E. Rawlings, Sioux City District OPA Director announced Monday.

Previously, reports were required on all sales of meat by farmers slaughtering under War Food Administration slaughter permits. Since May 25, however, WFA has not required farmers to obtain slaughter permits.

Today's action is designed to continue reports to OPA of all sales by farmers of meats produced from their own livestock. Farmers slaughtering over 6,000 pounds, dressed weight, of meat produced from their own livestock are to continue to report to OPA on form R-1606 (revised) or R-1607.

Restaurant Ceiling Prices Now On Display

Distribution of the new ceiling price posters listing the 40 basic food items should now be on display in all eating establishments, according to M. E. Rawlings, Sioux City District OPA director. The deadline for posting and display was August 16th.

Eating establishments which do not serve all of the 40 basic items selected by the District Advisory Committee must post the April 4-10, 1943, prices of those items which they do serve.

These posters, the Director said, must be prominently displayed in all eating places so that all customers may check the prices against the purchase slip which they are given after purchasing food.

Nebraska Record Good On Liquor Control

Lincoln—While greeting as "good news" a report that not even one Nebraska licensed beer tavern was listed "off limits" by the U. S. Army, Charles E. Sandall noted today that "many 'spike joints' are on the army 'black list'." He voiced sharp criticism of these unlicensed, unregulated places where "set-ups" for spiking soft drinks are a main stock in trade.

As state director of the Nebraska Committee, Brewing Industry Foundation, Mr. Sandall's information on the army "off-limits" record for Nebraska was secured in a check-up of army records.

State Director Sandall declared that "citizens who are informed of all the facts can readily draw a clear distinction between licensed, strictly regulated beer establishments and those unlicensed, unsupervised places—sometimes referred to as 'roadhouses'—where selling of 'set-ups' for con-
