

Shaves and Shines Given to Invasion Yanks

Because few Chinese have any hair on their faces until they reach an advanced age, the shaving engaged in by American soldiers seems to be a most unusual operation. Here, Corp. Harvey H. Powell, a horse-shoer with a veterinary company in China, but a barber on the side, exercises his tonsorial art on Pvt. Stanley C. Phillips of Dayton, Ohio, to the amusement of Chinese soldiers. Pfc. James P. Royle, Boston, Mass., wants to look neat during the invasion, so Italian youngster shines up his shoes. Italian youngsters soon found that they could earn good money with a shoe shining kit in almost any camp.

Set Up 'Ye Old Gun Shoppe'

In "Ye Old Gun Shoppe," part of an ordnance unit attached to the 32nd division in New Guinea, all size small arms are repaired by trained ordnance men. The unit does light and medium maintenance work, repairing everything from large artillery pieces to the smallest watches. This is one of the first units to be set up as the troops move ahead.

Collaborationist

A French girl, resident of Laval, France, who allegedly collaborated with the Nazis when they controlled the town, is paraded about the streets marked with a swastika, after the liberation of the village by American troops.

Expand Wash Stand To Fit Large Space

IT IS easy enough to make a small serving table out of an old wash stand but, when there is a large wall space crying for an imposing piece of furniture and nothing but a small wash stand on hand, the problem is something else again. Here you see the solution achieved with odds and ends of lumber, a pair of wooden boxes, a little paint and some plain gingham with the old wash stand at the center of it all.

The lower sketch shows how the carpenter work was done. Note the piece across the bottom of the stand to cover the irregular line, also the hinged arms so that the skirt may open out.

NOTE—This furniture remodeling idea is from BOOK 7 which contains directions for more than 30 other ways to use things on hand and inexpensive new materials to make your home attractive. Send for this book today. It will help you keep your home fresh and gay while you save money for bonds and war stamps. Copies of BOOK 7 are 15 cents each. Order from:

American Troops Continue Advances Into France

This railroad bridge, east of Toulon, was demolished by the retreating Huns as Allied forces continued to push steadily inland on the southern coast of France. The Nazis left little in the way of railroad tracks or bridges or highway for the advancing Allied armies. Engineer units were soon able, however, to repair or rebuild bridges and roads so that operations were not materially slowed down. The Yanks march past an eight-foot steel and concrete wall that runs the length of a beach in southern France.

Flour Supply Line

Italian patriots form a supply line to carry flour across the blasted Ponte Vecchio to where it was badly needed on the other side of the river. The Germans blew up the historic bridge to prevent its use by the advancing Allies.

All They're Fit for Is Hanging

American soldiers examine pictures of high ranking Nazis discovered in a French hotel, formerly occupied by German officers. In nearly all former German officers' quarters captured by the Allies, large collections of photographs were found. In removing their personal effects they made no attempt to save photographs of Nazi leaders.

Hero of Children

French youngsters throng about Lieut. Gen. Omar Bradley, commander of U. S. forces in northern France, as he tours St. Brice. Any American soldier is a subject for hero worship with these children, a general is "something special."

Captured 700 Nazi Prisoners

Sgt. Rodney Cloutman, 26, of Athol, Mass., (left) singlehandedly captured 400 Nazi prisoners, outdoing the famed Sergeant York. Like York, he was armed only with a rifle. Capt. J. R. Willingham, Tuscaloosa, Ala., (right) captured 300 Germans by circling overhead in plane and herding them to the Allied armored columns who took charge. Due to this exploit, he has been called the "flying cowboy" of the American Air forces. The German prisoners stated that they were tired of fighting and in addition were afraid of being fired upon.

Captured Weapons

Chinese soldiers who captured Tapa, one of the Jap strong points near Lungling on the Burma road, look over a mass of weapons and supplies abandoned by the Japs as they fled to the hills before the advancing Chinese in Salween river campaign. Chinese soldiers have put these arms to good use.

Japanese Prisoners of Chinese

The picture of defeat, these Japanese soldiers who surrendered to the Chinese rather than be killed, are being led down to the Salween river, southwest China, to be ferried back to headquarters for questioning. They are only a small part of the prisoners who have been taken during the present Burma road campaign, which attests to its success.

Takes Small Army

Sgt. Alexander Balter of Pittsburgh, Pa., a mighty-talking fighting man. He smooth-talked 400 Nazis to surrender their three strong points on the outskirts of Brest.

Funeral of 'The Powerful One'

Killed by mortar fire in the town square of Florence shortly after the Allies entered the city, the body of "Il Potente" (The Powerful One), leader of the Arno division of the Garibaldi patriots, is being borne through the city while townspeople salute from the sidewalks. Entry of Allies was signal for outbreak against Fascists.
