SMALL DOSES

PAST AND PRESENT

By Romaine Saunders
Atkinson, Nebr.

Two brothers down in the "corn belt" say their corn crop is going to pile up 28,000 bushels. At $1.26 the bushel, which they demand of us out here on the sod, these two Nebraskans gents have got something. Old timers of the prairie can recall when corn meant food for the family, feed for the animals and fuel for the winter—but no money.

Global Thinkers Inc., is something new to invade the state. A woman's organization of non-smokers with whom liquor is also taboo. It seems not to be of the professional uplift type but holds to ideals that appeal to most sensible people. Women have done things before that had much to do with straightening out kinks of the social fabric and maybe Global Thinkers is the force to do it again.

Both Vice-President Wallace and the lady of the White House have put the stamp of approval on the Hillman-Bridges communistic group by contributing to the slush fund. Here are two sinister characters, both foreign born, one not a citizen that was scheduled for deportation and saved by executive order, who have captured the democrat party, hypnotized a group of union labor and cast an alien shadow across the American political scene. It would appear that the duty of patriotic citizens is clear in the forthcoming election.

Whether Editor Berney of the Bartlett Independent has had enough of it himself or became disgusted over one man seeking to perpetuate himself forever before the voters he is retiring this year as probate judge of Wheeler county. Judge Berney has presided over the county court for something less than a lifetime and how a newspaper man gets a standing with the public to that extent is a marvel to others of the fraternity. While retiring as judge the popular old boy will continue to function as head of the Independent.

Lyle, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Addison, was found injured and semi-conscious by the road between Amelia and Waldo's corner Wednesday night of last week and is now in a hospital in Omaha with two broken vertebrae. The boy has been attending school in Amelia and staying at the Waldo home. He was found by the occupants of a passing car and his parents notified. How he came to be thus laid out in the road none seem able to tell, though possibly struck by a car or truck. Mrs. Addison took him to Omaha after local medical attention.

The World-Herald would have us vote no when we run down the ballot and come to the proposed amendments. This considerate judgment has been forced upon the editor of a great city paper by that horrible nightmare forever in the political dreams—taxes. It is the considerate judgment of an unimportant dweller out on the sod writing for a small town paper that there are considerations that transcend the demands of the god mammon. I will have to place moral values above the gleanings of tax collectors, with the added conviction that the state which does so is not going broke.

You will learn more about the sentiments and reactions of soldier boys by talking to them than by reading Associated Press dispatches and brewery propaganda. You will learn that there are as many who favor the dry cause as there are wets but somehow it doesn't get into print. Politically, northern boys are favoring Gov. Dewey, while southern lads will tell you in the rich Alabama drawl that they are "pretty proud" of Mr. Roosevelt and in the next sentence admit it is time for a change in the White House but do not intimate they are going to do anything about it. Domestically, the glamorous girls are not so popular with lads in uniform. One lad whose home is in Sioux City told me three girls had asked him to marry them the past six months. He was interested in getting a life companion but does not want one of that type. Modesty, womanly charm and the qualities of the lady still win with men. American boys make good soldier—the best in the world—because most of them are clean fellows who sense the solemnity and seriousness of the job they are called to do.

Red Cross Members of Emmet are requested to meet at the Emmet State Bank, Saturday, October 21, at 3:00 o'clock to organize a branch chapter and elect officers.

Sgt. Delbert D. Alder, Cited For Outstanding Performance Of Duty

With the 12th Air Force Overseas—Sgt. Delbert D. Alder, of O'Neill, Nebraska, now serving overseas with the 12th Air Force P-47 Thunderbolt Fighter Group is authorized to wear the Presidential Unit Citation Ribbon.

Sgt. Alder's group was recently cited by the President for "outstanding performance of duty in action against the enemy in the Mediterranean Theatre of Operations."

After the Allied armies had broken the enemy's seven-month stand before Cassino, Italy, and were threatening his flank from the Anzio beachhead the enemy attempted to form a defense line. Sgt. Alder's group was ordered to maintain continuous armed reconnaissance of all roads leading from the front to the projected defense line.

Although the majority of the planes they were flying—A-36 "Invaders" and P-40 "Warhawks"—had been flown over 400 combat hours on more than 200 combat missions, in almost a year's time, the ground personnel through indefatigable and resourceful effort had every plane prepared for an all-out effort.

In one day the group destroyed or damaged 462 enemy vehicles, inflicted an unknown number of casualties on hostile personnel, established many effective road blocks, silenced several gun positions and interdicted a number of highways being used by the enemy.

The citation concludes "this dawn-to-dusk aerial hammering by the group coordinated with the terrific assaults made upon adjoining areas by other units of the Mediterranean Tactical Force, so crippled the enemy's transport system and disorganized and decimated his ranks that he was forced to abandon his projected defense of Rome and hastily retreat northward to escape complete annihilation."

Sixth War Loan Drive Starts Next Month

Nebraskans will be asked to purchase $94,000,000 in war bonds during the Sixth War Loan, November 20 to December 16, as Nebraska's share of the national 14 billion dollar goal, State Chairman W. Dale Clark of the Nebraska War Finance committee announced today in the first of a series of meetings of county war finance committees to plan for the campaign.

The first regional meeting of county war bond groups was held at Fairbury, Nebr., Tuesday, October 17.

Plans for the drive in Holt county will be outlined at a meeting of the state and local officials at Spencer on October 25.

"The Sixth War Loan must be considered one of the most important war financing efforts to date," said Chairman Clark, "coming as it does at a time when our armed forces are engaged in a crucial struggle that may well determine whether the war is to be won speedily or whether it will be long drawn out."

"Nebraska has exceeded its quota in previous drives. Conditions are very favorable for achieving our Sixth War Loan quota, provided each does his share. Nebraska has been favored with a bumper crop and income from all sources in the state is at an all-time high. It is therefore reasonable to expect that Nebraskans will be willing to loan their money from crops and wages to the vitally necessary financing of the war."

Leon J. Markham, state executive manager, and John B. Smith, Leland R. Hall and E. H. Weerts, field representatives, are attending the series of meetings.

"The war will not end with the defeat of Germany, nor will the cost of financing the war stop there," said Mr. Markham. "The road to Tokyo will be long and costly in lives and money. General Marshall and Admiral King have reminded us repeatedly that the Army and Navy will do the job, provided we supply necessary material. War bond buying is one of the chief ways that we at home can make use of to back up our fighting men."

County quotas for the 93 counties of Nebraska will be established later this month by the state war finance committee. Major emphasis throughout the drive will be placed again on the sale of war bonds to individuals.

Securities to be sold are as follows: Series E, F and G. savings bonds; Series C savings notes; 2 1/2 per cent bonds of 1966-71; 2 per cent bonds of 1952-54; 1 1/4 per cent notes of 1947, and 7-8 per cent certificates of indebtedness. The 2 1/2 per cent bonds will be dated December 1, 1944; due March 15, 1971, and callable March 15, 1966. The 2 per cent bonds will be dated December 1, 1944; due December 15, 1954, and callable December 15, 1952. The 1 1/4 per cent notes will be dated December 1, 1944; due December 15, 1947, and will be issued in coupon form only. The 7-8 per cent certificates of indebtedness will be dated December 1, 1944, due December 1, 1945, and will be issued in coupon form only.

Griswold Urges Importance Of State Problems

With the general election a little more than two weeks away, Governor Dwight Griswold urged Nebraskans to study the qualifications of state legislative candidates and give the unicameral "an intelligent and capable" membership to attack the "tremendously important problems of the next two years."

The Governor made his plea for careful voting in a radio interview broadcast on a statewide basis.

"I hope," he said, "our people remember that under the one-house legislative system, we have the entire law-making power concentrated in the hands of 43 state senators and the governor."

Of his own candidacy, Governor Griswold added, "I have been before the people of Nebraska several times as a candidate and I have now served as their governor for four years. My guess is that by this time the voters know whether or not I have made good and if they want me to continue in office they will vote that way. I know I've made some mistakes, but certainly I have tried to do the best I can."

Governor Griswold listed education as one of the prime subjects involving problems for Nebraska during the next two years. Financial problems of many school districts, he explained, have been made more difficult by the wartime teacher shortage and by the reflection in Nebraska of the general upward trend in education costs.

Since most school districts are opposed to increasing local school taxes, the governor said "there is a growing demand for increased financial help either from the state or federal government."

"To be right honest," Governor Griswold said, "I have not made up my own mind on this problem because I don't yet have all the information I need but it is a problem Nebraskans should be thinking about."

"I don't want to have our local schools run from Washington, or from Lincoln. I want the real control left right at home," he continued. "The important thing, however, is that we see to it that the school boys and girls, in the outlying communities, have a decent chance at education, just as the boys and girls from the more populated centers have."

Predicting a general enrollment increase in colleges and universities, the governor said new buildings will be needed at the University of Nebraska and the Normal schools when wartime restrictions are lifted.

He proposed that the new State Historical Society Building, for which the legislature is already providing funds, be erected on the University of Nebraska campus.

Governor Griswold reported that the state general fund now has a $3,500,000 surplus of which $2,500,000 could be used by the legislature to start a state institutional hospital as well as school-building program without a building tax levy.

While victory at the polls for either the proposed highway gas tax or the prohibition amendments would necessitate adjustments in financing of the state assistance program, the governor says he does not believe there is danger of the assistance program being discontinued. Old age assistance payments averaged $26.29 per recipient in September this year compared with $16.61 for the same month four years ago.

SPORT NEWS AND VIEWS

Richard Cronin

The O'Neill High Eagles won their second consecutive game last Friday evening when they were hosts to the eleven from Creighton. The Eagles won by a 25-0 score. The Eagles, after getting off to a slow start this year, have gained strength and are becoming a fair enough team to make all the teams in this section take notice. This Friday the Eagles will be hosts to the Ainsworth eleven at a night game at Carney Park. With the improvement the Eagles have shown this should be a good game as the Ainsworth eleven are pretty well rated this year.

The St. Mary's Cardinals continued to roll in high gear last Friday as they won their fourth consecutive victory of the season, against no defeats, when they trounced Verdigris 34-10. After giving their hosts a 10-0 lead the Cardinals settled down and began to work. This victory enabled the Cardinals to enter the top ten six-men football teams in the state when, according to Greg McBride's column, the Cardinals were rated in ninth position, just ahead of Emerson, Shickley and St. Paul who were tied for tenth.

St. Mary's record so far this year reads: St. Mary's 48, Lynch 0; St. Mary's 42, Stuart 0; St. Mary's 48, Chambers 0; St. Mary's 34, Verdigris 10.

This Friday the Cards will travel to Butte where they will meet the undefeated Butte six-man team in an afternoon game, in what should prove to be one of the best games of the season for the Cards. I believe the Cards will win and make another notch in their victory string.

Someone mentioned to me that I should try to pick the five most important games of each week and try to pick out the winners. And TRY I will, for in this wartime season anything can happen. Wisconsin will travel to South Bend, Indiana, on Saturday to try and defeat Notre Dame, which is rated as the top team in the game. But we will stick to the Irish and pick Notre Dame to win by two or three touchdowns.

The Navy eleven will travel to Atlanta, Georgia, where they will play the rambling wrecks from Georgia Tech. Here we are going to stick our neck out on a limb and pick the Rambling Wrecks to beat Navy in a close game. Great Lakes will travel to Columbus, Ohio, where they will play the leader in the Big Ten, Ohio State, in what should prove to be a swell battle. My pick is the all civilian Ohio State team to win this one in what may surprisingly become the best game of the day.

Now we will go to the west coast where UCLA will have a week-end engagement with the St. Mary's Bright eleven at Los Angeles. I guess that I will stay with the colleges and pick UCLA to win this one. The second ranking team in the nation, Army, will be host to the Coast Guard Academy at West Point in what looks like another top game of the day. But as long as we are stubborn as a mule, we will stick with Army and hope they win. Well, there are my five selections of the week, whether I am right or all wrong will be decided on Saturday.

On the college and service football front the past week most of the big games went according to schedule. The biggest upset in the Big Six was the Texas Longhorns trimming Oklahoma 20-0, while Missouri fell before Minnesota 39-27. The Nebraska Cornhuskers were scalped by Indiana 54-0, with Bo McMillan showing no mercy as he used the first team for most of the game. Kansas State was also beaten when Michigan State trampled them 45-6. The only league games played last Saturday in the Big Six found Iowa State playing Kansas with the Iowa State winning by a 25-0 score. This week things look better for the members of the Big Six as they all play conference games. In the Big Ten five of the teams had another victory added to their roll as the undefeated Ohio State eleven trimmed Wisconsin 20-7. As before stated Minnesota beat Missouri 39-27; Indiana beat Nebraska 54-0, while Michigan swamped Northwestern 27-0. The team of Illinois went on a rampage and beat Iowa 40-6; the Iowa Seahawks nipped Purdue 13-6. In the service games last week end the Superbombers won their fifth of six games this season when they trounced New Mexico (and we do mean trounced) 89-0. Norman Navy trimmed Arkansas 27-7, with the Lincoln Army Air Base Wings winning their fourth consecutive victory of the season, against no defeats, as they defeated the Skyers from Ottumwa Naval Air Station 15-2. The Randolph Field eleven won their fourth straight as they defeated Southern Methodist 41-0. The Randolph Field eleven is claimed to be the best service team in the country and

Forrest Smith Of Inman Died In Omaha Hospital Sunday, October 15th

Forrest, son of Lola and Arthur Smith, was born March 23, 1879, in Ashland, Green County, New York. He passed away at the Methodist Hospital in Omaha Sunday evening, October 15, 1944, at the age of 65 years, 6 months, and 22 days.

He came with his parents to Nebraska at the age of one year, and has resided on the homestead taken by his father ever since. He attended the public schools in his early life in the Inman community.

On July 1st, 1903 he was united in marriage to Miss Anna Trowbridge at Page Nebraska and established their home on the old homestead where he lived until his death. This home was blessed with four children, three sons and one daughter.

In his early life he became a member of the Inman Methodist Church, and was an official member for the most of his life. He was largely instrumental in the building of the present Methodist Church in Inman. He was a member of the board of the Inman Public Schools, and was interested in all the affairs for the betterment of the community. He was a Trustee of the Inman Church at the time of his death.

Several years ago he suffered a broken leg in an accident. Later there developed an infected knee and he was taken to the hospital where an operation was performed on his knee. He had partially recovered from this and seemed out of danger, when he suddenly passed away.

He was a member of the I. O. O. F. and Rebekah lodges of Inman. In his passing, our community loses one of the few remaining sturdy pioneers, who by their interest and industry have helped to make this country a better place to live. He was a quiet and unassuming nature, but always stood for the best interests of the people about him.

He leaves besides his life companion: one sister, Mrs. Eva Murtten; three sons, Melvin and Curtis of Compton, Calif. and Kenneth of Inman; and one daughter, Ardith, of Omaha. Also five grandchildren and a host of friends around Inman.

some say, and we will not argue, that they have the best team in the country. North Carolina Pre-flight which last week ranked second in the nation, was held to a 13-13 tie by the Virginia eleven.
