LINCOLN LETTER
 Lincoln, Nebraska,
 March 24, 1945.

Dear Readers:
 Starting this week I will again try to bring to you readers of the "Frontier" a little bit of news from the "World of Sports". I will write it in the form of a letter and I hope it will be interesting to you and I will try my best to make it so.

The 35th Annual State Basketball Tournament held here in Lincoln last week was a huge success from all standpoints. Even after Lincoln High was upset by Scottsbluff in the first round of the tournament, the fans continued to come and give their support to the teams that were to be crowned as the kings in the four classes of the state tournament.

Creighton Prep is the new Champion in Class A. Prep played a brilliant game in the finals against Scottsbluff to take a well earned 33-23 victory. Prep's Gene Wickencamp started off the scoring in the championship game with a beautiful one-handed shot from far out in the court to give Prep a 2-0 lead. But then the Scottsbluff Bearcats began to move and after making a free throw, Whitehead and Crook each scored a basket to give Scottsbluff a 5-2 first quarter advantage. Scoring was fairly even in the second period and when the half ended Scottsbluff still had a slim 12-10 lead. After intermission Creighton Prep's Bluejays began to move with Salerno and Emery leading the attack. Prep's attack began functioning and they took a 18-16 third quarter lead. In the final period Scottsbluff made two fast baskets to give themselves a 20-18 lead, but then the Creighton Prep machine really began to roll in high gear and Scottsbluff tired out fighting Bearcats failed to stop the tide as Creighton Prep was crowned the new Champion in Class A with a 33-23 victory.

Now turning to Class B we find that the quintet from Sidney was crowned King in Class B when they took a hard-fought 23-21 victory over the Minute Men from Lexington High. Sidney starting the game off with a basket and had control of the first period as they took a 5-2 advantage at the quarter. But in the second period the Minute Men outscored Sidney to tie up the ball game 9-9 at the half. In the third period Sidney led by their fine players Couch and Wilnes again taking the lead and held Lexington to six points as they gained a 20-15 lead at the end of the third period. In the fourth and final quarter Lexington again began to rally after Sidney had moved to a 23-15 lead, the Minute Men closed up the gap with a 23-21 disadvantage with a minute left in the game. Then both sides fought furiously and Bob Smith, tall, lanky center on the Lexington team missed three under the basket shots in the last 30 seconds of play and Sidney was crowned Champs in B with a 23-21 win. College View of Lincoln was crowned champs in Class C when they won a 34-26 triumph over the fighting quintet from Oakland. Oakland started off scoring with a free throw, but the Viewmen scored a bucket a minute later and grabbed a lead which they never relinquished. College View had a 5-4 quarter lead and were in front by 17-11 at the half. And in the third and final periods the Viewmen continued to use the speed to cop a 34-26 victory and their first Class C crown.

Hampton High School won their third Class D title in four years when they outlasted a tough Paxton crew 34-29 in the Championship game in Class D. Hampton held a slim 11-10 lead at the half but moved to a six point lead in the third period and kept their lead in the final quarter as they won by a 34-29 count. Paxton had a good team but Larson and Hann led their Hampton crew to their third title in the last four years, which is great for any team.

Everything was quiet in the Legislature Chamber last Saturday morning except in the front row where State Senator Ray Babcock of Sidney and Senator Loyd Kain of Lexington were having a friendly argument with Greg McBride, sports writer for the Omaha World Herald, as the referee. It happened that Sidney and Lexington the two cities from where the senators were from, were going to fight it out that evening on the hardwood floor for the Class B State Basketball Championship. Although Sidney won the game by a narrow 23-21 margin, Senator Kain didn't seem to be out too much for he noticed the following Monday that he still had his shirt on.

Well readers I guess that I have written enough for this week. I hope that you will enjoy this column and I will say "Adieu" till next week.

SANITY HEARING BILL TO BE CHANGED

In one of the most interesting committee hearings of the session Warden Neil Olson of the State Penitentiary appeared before a special meeting of the Judiciary committee Monday afternoon and asked that he be relieved of the duty of deciding if a condemned person should be given a sanity hearing or not. And so the Judiciary committee decided that they will introduce a bill giving the Board of Pardons the responsibility of instituting proceedings to have a sanity test for the condemned person. The law as it now stands puts this squarely on the head of the warden.

In trying to get the Judiciary committee to repeal or change the present law, Warden Olson declared that he didn't believe that he should be given the duty of deciding if they should or should not be given the right of having a sanity hearing. Warden Olson further said, "I am not a doctor and I don't see how I could be perfectly sure that he was crazy unless it was a severely bad case. I might think that a person was sane while a doctor would say that he was insane."

This was all brought about by the electrocution last week of Joseph MacAvoy, who was dealt the supreme penalty for the slaying of 16 year old Anna Milroy of Sutton in August, 1943. Warden Olson declared that he was firmly convinced and always would be that MacAvoy was perfectly sane and he said that when he talked to MacAvoy about a sanity hearing MacAvoy said to him, "Warden, I am no more crazy than you are." Warden Olson said he had many phone calls up to the last five hours before the death of MacAvoy asking why he wasn't giving a sanity hearing, and so he decided that he did not want the power to decide if they should have a hearing and also decided to try to have the original law repealed.

Senator Sam Klaver of Omaha asked Warden Olson if he believed in capital punishment and if he thought that capital punishment would stop murder. The Warden answered "No" to both questions saying "I have never believed in capital punishment and never will, and I do not believe that by giving a person a death sentence it will help to deteriorate crime."

As ever,
 Richard Cronin

O'NEILL GIRL AN ORATOR
 There's a Holt county 4-H club member that has just a bit better understanding of how to communicate her ideas from a speaker's platform, thanks to her participation in the statewide "Timely Topic" speaking contest. She is Jennie Beth Mellow of O'Neill, county winner in the recent speech event.
 Miss Mellow has the qualities of leadership which come from the ability to present ideas publicly in a clear and understandable way, and is one of the 4-H club members who feels grateful for training as a speaker through the "Timely Topic" contest sponsored, Radio Station KPAB of Lincoln.

Sgt. Jack Kersenbrock arrived home last Saturday from a Pacific port and reports for duty again April 12. Jack is serving as tylist on transports and has been to far distant places. His stay in O'Neill is marked by remaining close to the family fireside.
