

FALSTAFF'S

Message of the Week

THERE was a man in our town
And he was wondrous wise.
He scraped up every single cent
That he could utilize.
He socked it into war bonds
For soldiers across the sea,
For sailors and for airmen
Who are socking the enemy!

JUNIOR SENIOR BANQUET

The Junior class of the Chambers high school entertained the Senior class at the Junior-Senior banquet held Saturday evening on the stage of the Auditorium.

The theme of the banquet was "Winter Wonderland," and the stage was decorated artistically to carry out this idea, in green and white the colors of the Senior class.

Upon entering the door you found yourself in a low tunnel formed by soft, white cloth which lead into the main room having the appearance of an Eskimo igloo. This effect was brought about by crepe paper skillfully woven above and to all sides into a solid wall of white.

The tables were arranged in a U-shape and covered with white linen. On them were green and white candles, green pickles, olives, jello and beautiful white roses. At each plate lay a clever snowman in which the young people found their menu, program and committees. The nut cups were green with white ribbon.

The Juniors and Seniors were dressed in lovely formal gowns and dress suits.

The program was as follows: Welcome—Speech, Donald Gibson (Toastmaster).

Opportunity—Response, Marie Gibson.

Northland—Song, Jean Wandering.

Destiny—Prophecy, Edwin Nachtman.

Echoes From the Past—Class History, Bernard Hoffman.

Reign of Winter—Quartet, Jim Adams, Max Farrier, Luetta Lenz and Delores Albers.

Love and Roses—Solo, Arline Hall.

Appreciation—Musical Reading, Violet Sanderson.

Nineteen—Class Poem, Mary Lou Spath (original).

Dashing Through the Snow—Song, group.

Host and hostess for the evening were Delores Albers and Donald Gibson. Credit for the decorating goes to Mrs. Arthur Walter, who was in charge of it and the committee consisting of Delores Albers, Richard Farrier, Duane Bly, Harlan Koch, Gerald Rothechild and Marian Rasmussen.
