Storz Named Vice President Omaha Chamber of Commerce

Robert H. Storz, prominent civic leader and vice-president of the Storz Brewing Company, this week was elected vice-president and chairman of the executive board of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce.

Storz, who has served the Chamber as chairman of the Industrial Committee and as a member of the Board of Directors for three years, was elected June 12 for the 1945-1946 term. It is customary for the vice-president to assume the office of Chamber President the following year.

A former president of the Omaha Manufacturers' Association, Storz is a Past Commander of Omaha Post No. 1, American Legion, and is the president of Omaha's World War II Memorial Park Association.

"I really welcome the opportunity to serve Omaha in this important Chamber capacity," Storz said, "especially during what we hope will be the post-war years."

"Every city in the state will have to be on its toes during these critical times to avail itself of each opportunity toward getting new business and expanding the old; providing jobs for returning servicemen and ranchers and farmers are anxious to reseed areas which should be used only for grass production. The Nebraska Extension Service PFL program stresses production of beef, pork, milk on grass, the production of high quality hay and the seeding of legumes and native grasses. The PFL cooperators and other Holt county farmers seeded 93 acres of native grass seed during May in cooperation with the Holt Soil Conservation District.

The following are those who secured native grass seed from the District Supervisors: A. Max Koro, of Stuart; Lawrence Skrdla Stuart; D. W. Allard Atkinson; James Havranek, Atkinson; Walter Reis, Atkinson; Joe Wagman, Atkinson; Willis Butterfield, Opportunity; R. B. Marston, Dorsey; Harvey A. Tompkins, Inman; Robert Tams, Inman.

These native grass mixtures include such grasses as big bluestem and hill bluestem, Indian grass, switchgrass, blue grama, hairy grama, side oat grama, buffalo grass, sand lovegrass and sand dropseed. All grasses were not included in the seeding on each field, but only the grasses that would be most satisfactory on particular soil and moisture available.

Seeding of native grasses for range and pasture or for hay is only one of the conservation practices included in the conservation race meet in the middle-west, in fact the largest event of its kind between Chicago and the Pacific coast, will open next Tuesday, June 19th, when Ak-Sar-Ben after a two year voluntary blackout, revives its annual 30-day spring meeting in Omaha.

Horses from every part of the country are gathered here to compete for the largest purse total ever offered in this region. Nebraska and Iowa horsemen will be prominent among those contending for nearly $175,000 in awards.

The committee in charge of the meet for Ak-Sar-Ben, headed by George Brandeis, has made Inaugural Day a "War Bond Day." Every person purchasing an E Bond at a down town booth for a week preceding the opening will be presented with a grandstand ticket, free, with Ak-Sar-Ben paying the state and federal admission taxes. The committee hopes to pile up a total of bond sales which will set a record for any race track in the country.

When the army returned part of the facilities at Ak-Sar-Ben a few weeks ago so the organization could race, it was immediately announced that the proceeds of the meet would be used for patriotic and civic purposes. A considerable portion of the receipts will go to Nebraska's county fairs, which share in the proceeds. A large slice will go to Ak-Sar-Ben's "Smiles for Soldiers" program, which provides entertainment and athletic equipment for the armed forces. In keeping with this program, too, Ak-Sar-Ben will admit all members of the armed forces without charge throughout the race meet.

Twilight racing will be introduced for the first time this year, with a trial program on Thursday, June 21, beginning at 4 p. m. Racing on all other days will start at 2:15 p. m. The meet continues through Saturday, July 28th with no racing on Sundays or Mondays.

Traffic Tips

When is an accident not an accident? When it's just plain carelessness or recklessness.

Two Nebraska Safety Patrolmen, when recently coming into an eastern Nebraska town, could hardly believe their eyes when they saw two boys sitting on top of the back of the seat of their sport roadster, driving down the street. The driver was driving with his feet.

Every one of us is entitled to a full ration of living—at least we shouldn't have our ration of life bottled at the hands of some driver who abuses his privilege of driving a car.

Reckless driving always has been and always will be an inhuman and almost criminal practice.
