The latest American tourist in Euroupe took a notion to buy a scal skin cloak for his wife. On nearing New York it occurred to him that it would be a fine peice of economy to avoid paying the duties on it Accordingly he asked a female acquaintance to put it on and ware it ashore as her own. She was only too happy to accommodate. She were it ashore accordingly, but she omitted to meet the gentleman afterward, and so the wife of a prominant manufacturer of Springfield will have to go without her sealskin this winter. "A MAGNIFICENT CONCEPTION, WONDERFOL LY CARREST OUT."

The necessity of a popular medium for the representation of the productions of our great artists, has always been recognized, and many attempts have been made to meet the want. The successive failures which so invariably followed each attempt in this couply to establish an art learnal, did not prove the indifference of the people of Amerlea to the claims of high art. So soon as a proper appreciation of the want and an ability to meet it were shown, the public at once railied with enthusiassa to its support, and the result was a great artistic and commercial triumph-THE ALDINE. THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscallany of pure, light, and graceful literature; and a collection of pictures, the rurest sprimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be must appreciated after it is bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior chespness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, THE ALDINE is a untore and original conception alone and unapproache !- absolutely without competi-

a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and ongravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, The national feature of THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of entive art. Its mission is to entryate a broad and appreciative art taste, one that will discriminate only on grounds of intrinsia foregin sources. The artistic illustration of American ed by any inferior page. The judicious intermeraton of land scape, marine, figure, and animal subjects, suctain an unabated interest, impossible where the scope of the work confines the artist too closely to a single style of subject.
