

THE RED CLOUD CHIEF.

WEDNESDAY JAN. 27, 1875.

On Friday last, the Legislature elected Hon. A. S. Paddock, of De-

While this result may have been a surprise to many, and could hardly have been anticipated by any one after the balloting had fairly begun, we think no one need have any regrets at the success of our new Senator.

Mr. Paddock came into the Territory in 1857, and was from the beginning a wide-awake and useful citizen. In 1861 he was appointed Secretary of the Territory by President Lincoln,

Gov. Paddock, is a genial gentleman, full of good nature towards every body in general, and the straight-forward manner in which he carried on the Senatorial contest has made him many warm friends.

THUS far the Legislature has not done much in the way of general legislation, the great interest having been centered in the Senatorial fight, but now that is over we may look for some hard work, on the part of our lawmakers.

SEED TIME will soon be here, and there has been nothing done to provide the necessary grain for the spring sowing. In this latitude small grains need to be in the ground as early as possible, generally the first week in March.

There is something exceedingly touching in the suffering of a dumb brute and my warmest sympathies have been aroused in behalf of those on the border of Nebraska.

It is reported that the U. S. Supreme Court has rendered a decision on the question of taxation of railroad lands which is adverse to the railroads. If true, this will relieve many counties from their present embarrassing tax burdens.

GOVERNOR GAMMEL has fallen into the usual routine of duties belonging to his position, and is gaining in personal popularity every day. We predict an administration that will bring Nebraska to the front as being the most prosperous of the Western States.

THE present indications are that the coming spring will bring large immigration into the State. The world at large has faith in our future, and the calamity of the past year is too well known to be an exceptional condition to materially affect the future influx of those seeking new homes and cheap lands.

THE HUMANITARIAN BILL. We are in receipt of a letter from Senator Hitchcock stating that the bill extending the time during which landowners may be abroad from the claims in the regions devastated by grasshoppers, has been incorporated by some of the newspapers, and enclosed the copy of the bill as amended.

I hope the people of the different portions of the state where aid can be rendered, will correspond with me freely, and do all in their power to make the relief as prompt and efficient as possible. I have undertaken a course.

under such regulations as to proof of the same as the Commissioner of the General Land Office may prescribe; and where such grasshoppers shall appear in eighteen hundred and seventy-five, to the like destruction of the crops of settlers, it is right to leave and be absent as aforesaid shall continue to July first, eighteen hundred and seventy-six.

Sec. 2. That during such absence no adverse rights shall attach to said lands; such settlers being allowed to resume and perfect their settlement as though no such absence had been allowed.

Sec. 3. That the time for making final proof and payment by pre-emptors whose crops have been destroyed or injured as aforesaid, is hereby extended for one year after the expiration of the term absence provided for in the first section of this act.

Approved, December 23, 1874.

STARVING CATTLE. The Dumb Animals in the Grasshopper Region-General Brisson Proposes to Relieve their Sufferings-The Plan He Will Follow.

We invite the careful and earnest attention of the people and press of Nebraska to the following card from Gen. J. S. Brisson, U. S. A.:

I am credibly informed that there are in the grasshopper region of Nebraska, some 3,000 head of horses and 1,000 oxen that are in a state of starvation in consequence of the destruction of crops last year by grasshoppers.

Appeals are made to me to keep these animals from perishing by furnishing a little corn or oats to subsist them on until grass grows again.

The loss of crops caused the farmers to work their animals very hard last fall, in order that they might break up as much ground as possible knowing that the horses and oxen would be weak in the spring and perhaps unable to plough.

As long as the grass lasted they got along very well, but the cold winter found them feeble and lean and now that the snows are beginning to fall and cover up what little grass there is unless we ship corn or oats to feed the animals, I fear many will die.

There is something exceedingly touching in the suffering of a dumb brute and my warmest sympathies have been aroused in behalf of those on the border of Nebraska.

The prevention of cruelty to animals is a noble work and one that all men may engage in with honor.

Surely there could be no greater cruelty than to work a horse and not feed him; yet the people of the grasshopper region are not to blame for this for they have nothing to eat themselves.

We all know how much a farmer is dependent upon his team for support. Without a team he cannot plow or seed, and unless he sows the family will have no bread. We dare not let these animals die, or we shall deprive the farmers of their very means of subsistence, and have them on our hands as permanent paupers.

Moved by these considerations, I have, after consultation with General O'G, and the executive committee of the Nebraska State Aid and Relief Society, determined to appeal to the public for aid to relieve the distress of dumb brutes.

I have this day established an office in the aid building, at Omaha, and now ask the people of Nebraska for donations of corn and contributions of money. Nebraska people ever generous notwithstanding the heavy losses the state has this year has met with from grasshoppers and drouth, I am sure will respond liberally and enable me to feed the suffering beasts until I can procure aid for them from the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

I believe many thousands in this city, in the towns and throughout the rural districts will feel it their duty to lend me their assistance in so good a work.

We are all lovers of horses and however indifferent we may be to prevent distress few can witness so unmoved the suffering of dumb brutes. Even those who are mindful of their own kind are touched by the voiceless misery of animals.

The office established at Omaha, under the patronage of the Nebraska Aid and Relief Society will be known as "The Nebraska Horse Relief," and I wish the people of every town and rural district in the state not devastated by grasshoppers to send in contributions of corn, oats and money.

COMMUNICATED. LONE TREE JOHNSON Co. IOWA, January 13th '75

ED. CHIEF—I suppose the people in the North West part of your county would like to hear from me, and know what I am doing. I hope they will get something substantial in a short time in the shape of a car load of provisions &c., which I shall ship next week.

Perhaps you would like to know my method of proceedings to get the people together, so that I can talk to them a little. My friends got up a Concert almost impromptu. Vocal and Instrumental. Miss Dilaway of Muscatine, one of the best pianists in the state, presided at the piano.

Rev. Chas. Brooks of the Baptist church, and Mr. Whitaker are the leading men in this little affair, and to them will the people of Harmony and North Franklin be under obligations for this car load of supplies. There is to be another Concert at Nicholas Darant on 23rd for the benefit of our people.

M. S. BURLONG. GUIDE ROCK GRANGE, No. 549, P. O. H.

Held a special meeting on Monday, January 18th, 1875. The Master in the chair, and a good attendance of members present, and the utmost good feeling and cordiality prevailing.

The meeting was very pleasant and profitable. Ten new members were initiated and more asking to be admitted, and the "Goat" was in good order and condition and quite frisky, and some of the candidates felt somewhat difficult to prevent being thrown off, but all managed to get safely through, and all went "merry as a marriage bell."

The next regular meeting is to be held on Friday Jan. 29th, and members of other Granges will be welcomed. The "lamb string is out." This Grange never has been in a more prosperous condition, and notwithstanding the scarcity of money, incidental upon "The Grasshopper Raid." The membership will largely increase, and a renewal of interest in the Grange shows itself.

And the truth of the old saying comes home to all "In Union there is strength, all our danger is in discord." GRANGER.

The Omaha Republic of Friday last, contained a full account of the "King of the Cannibal Islands." He passed through Omaha on his way east some time since, and is now on the return trip to the Pacific Coast and thence home. The first performance after resting from their journey was a royal game of billiards, the King and his partner winning the game. After dinner came a visit to the High School with which the King was well pleased.

At 7 p. m. the Knights Templar rallied to force and went to the Grand Central. The King was escorted to the Conclave, and speeches followed. This is the first reception the King has been favored with by the K. T., although he is a member of that order. At 9:30 King David was escorted back to the Grand Central where an immense crowd had assembled to see his "Royal Highness."

At length K. D. took his position in the east parlor where people were introduced to him by Major Chase. One woman actually kissed the King, to the jealousy of all the rest. After the reception all retired except those who participated in the dance among whom were the leading citizens and their ladies. His Majesty entered the ball room during the first dance courting Miss Williams of H. who was carried by all the other fair ones. So much for being a King. "Vive Roi!"

We learn from the Republican of Sunday that "the woman who kissed the King" was Mrs. R. Laing. Laing all jobs aside, we think it was being in on a pretty thing, but then most women are fond of Laing.

A Representative and Champion of American Art Taste! THE ALDINE, THE ART JOURNAL OF AMERICA, Issued Monthly.

"A MAGNIFICENT CONCEPTION, WONDERFUL BY CARIS' OUT."

The necessity of a popular medium for the representation of the productions of our great artists, has always been recognized, and many attempts have been made to meet the want. The successive failures which invariably followed each attempt in this country to establish an art journal, did not prove the insincerity of the people of America towards the art of high art. So soon as a proper appreciation of the want and an ability to meet it were shown, the public are called with enthusiasm in its support, and the result was a great artistic and commercial triumph—THE ALDINE.

THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or flimsy interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light, and graceful literature; a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated when it is bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, THE ALDINE is unique and original—absolutely without competition in price or character. The production of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for the same cost; and then, there is the dramatic beauty!

The national feature of THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art. Its selection is to cultivate and disseminate the best artistic talent, and will discriminate only on grounds of intrinsic merit. Thus, while placing before the patrons of THE ALDINE, as a leading characteristic, the productions of the most noted American artists, attention will also be given to prominent foreign masters, and instruction obtainable from home or foreign sources.

The artistic illustration of American scenery, original with THE ALDINE, is an important feature, and its magnificent plates are of a size more appropriate to the satisfaction of its patrons than can be afforded by any inferior paper. The judicious illustration of the most famous foreign masters, and instruction obtainable from home or foreign sources.
