The Senate Judiciary committee have reported an amendment to the constitution, to be acted on in the several states, which aims to prevent any state from establishing any religion or appropriating any of the public property or funds to the support of any sectarian school or educational institution.

Ben Butler has accepted the nomination for congress proffered by the republicans of the 7th district. This looks as if Massachusetts were rapidly getting over its morbid sentimentalism and becoming practical and worldly wise once. Old Ben will fill Blaine's place in the House with as much terror to the democrats as Jimmy himself inspired.

The good people of Juniata were scandalized recently over some rumors that were circulating about the Rev. Chas. Reilly. Mr. Reilly was said to be purchasing and consuming large quantities of liquor on the sly. These charges were so notorious that the Gazette called for an investigation. Below we give the report of the committee exonerating Mr. Reilly from all blame. It is needless to say that with the rest of the citizens of Red Cloud we rejoice heartily in his acquittal.

EDITOR GAZETTE.—We, the undersigned, being members of the M. E. Church, of Juniata, and having been appointed to inquire into certain reports in circulation derogatory to the character of Rev. C. Reilly, a part of which were published in your last issue, wish to say that we have carefully examined into the case and find nothing whatever against Bro. Reilly, but have traced these reports to certain church members who have acknowledged their untruthfulness, and expressed their willingness to retract everything they have said damaging to the character of Bro. Reilly.

Signed, ROBERT ASH, S. L. BRASS, N. H. MAXON, Com. S. W. NILES, S. J. SHURLEY.

The latest rumour is that Sitting Bull is a former graduate of West Point.

Gov. Garber has appointed Lou Cropley his private secretary. Mr. Cropley is a fine fellow. The Boies in this appointment incontrovertible evidence that Garber is under the thumb of Hitchcock. The Boies is not acquainted with his man this time.

The Journal runs out some pretty severe charges against Rosewater, accusing that gentleman of receiving money, while a member of the State Central Committee, from the candidates, and appropriating it. The Journal has exhibited a great deal of caution in its remarks in the past, and has gained a reputation for prudence and truthfulness, which gives telling effect to its accusations.

According to Nasby, Tilden is for hard money softened in the west, and Hendricks is for soft money hardened in the east.
