EDITORIAL.

The Beatrice Courier, and other papers throughout the state, propose to work on a cash basis from and after January 1st.

George Francis Train tried fasting for six days and quit. He has been beaten on fasting by many a man before him.

We learn from the State Journal that the B. & M. land department will issue in a short time a map of the South Platte country which shall contain every improvement on each quarter section.

Henry Ward Beecher has been talking upon himself to point out what a just God should do and what he should not, and from his late sermon on "Hell" he seems to encourage his hearers that no such place exists, and is doing considerable "divine swearing" which is probably a "holy passion" against his so-called demon who presides over heaven.

Now comes a man to make India rubber from the dandelion, lettuce and the Canadian milk weed, which is another proof, you young men on the homestead, that if you do not take the entire map of the world that the irresponsible inventor is changing every day.

Yes, and you may awake some morning, not as did Byron to find yourself famous, but to hear the voice of your neighbor miles away, as it vibrates on the frosty air, saying to you, "Buy a sound preserver, so that instead of having to write everything down, or being obliged to read it you can hear your own words repeated to your utter dismay and astonishment. By all means take the newspaper. Don't you forget it."

I look abroad over the map of popular freedom in the world, and it does not seem to me accidental that Switzerland, Scotland, England and the United States, the countries which best observe Sunday, constitute almost the entire map of safe popular government.

THE RED CLOUD CHIEF.

"Eternal Vigilance is the price of Liberty." and $2.00 a year is the price of the Red Cloud Chief.

VOL. V. RED CLOUD, WEBSTER CO., NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, JAN. 3, 1878. NO. 23.

Our Trip to Guide Rock and Observations Thereon. On Friday last we took passage with our County Superintendent, Mr. Pope, in company with himself, Mrs. H. A. Howard and Miss Julia King, and started for Guide Rock, to attend the Teachers' Association.

Early next morning we started out to take in the town and its environs. We first called on A. Garber & Co., whom we found busy at their counters, and, judging from their well-filled shelves, and piled up counters, we should say that they are the principal dealers in town.

A. M. Talbot is one of our most enterprising farmers; as his groves, cattle and hogs will attest. He was busy Saturday in looking after the wants and comfort of the teachers, and we would say just here, that for genial hospitality, openly expressed, we doubt if any town in the west is ahead of Guide Rock.

The Bailey Brothers were all out, and they are alive to the interests of education. The exercises of the Association on Saturday were varied, including Physiology, by Mr. Pope; Grammar by Mr. A. Bailey; Arithmetic by Mr. J. Bailey; Map Drawing by Mr. Springer; Orthography by Mr. Craw, and Select Reading by nearly all present.

The Association closed its session at 4 o'clock after voting to meet next month at Inavale, in Dist. No. 6. Red Cloud was virtually voted out of the question as a point for holding anything of the kind. This was rather hard, but we cannot blame the Association for its action.

We took supper at Mr. Sabin's again, and about half past 5 started for home, our party being increased by Miss Wilson. We arrived about 9 p. m., cold and tired and ready to settle down again to the sober relations of every-day life.

FRATERNITY.

For the Red Cloud Chief. Friendship's whole soul ally, I Respect love's ambition, Insisting that her claims so high Embrace a purer mission; No'er stopping to desecrate on birth, Deth friend belong to kin; So long as worthy, full of mirth, He has a home within.

Republican City News: All you loyal citizens of the Republican Valley, do you know that there are immense past bogs in this country sufficient to supply the home fuel for a hundred years? It is very true; and instead of making a great effort to believe in our lignite coal let it be understood that the abundant timber of the southwest of the state and the bogs of post on the upper Republican, particularly north of Burton's Bend, have already decided that the price of fuel in the garden valley will never be greater than it is now.

An Extraordinary Sentence.

The following extract is taken from a sentence recently pronounced by Judge Reading, of Morris, Ill., upon the liquor dealers who had violated the law by selling liquor to minors: "By the law you may sell to men and women, if they will buy. You have given your bond and paid your license to sell to them, and no man has a right to molest you in your legal business. No matter what families are distracted and rendered miserable; no matter what wives are treated with violence; what children starve or mourn over the degradation of a parent, your business is legalized and no one may interfere with you in it. No matter what mother may agonize over the loss of a son, or a sister blush at the shame of a brother, you have a right to disregard them all and pursue your legal calling—you are licensed! You may fit up your lawful place of business in the most enticing and captivating form. You may furnish it with the most costly and elegant equipments for your own lawful profit; you may fill it with allurements of amusement; you may use all the arts to induce visitors; you may skillfully arrange and expose to view your choicest wines and most captivating beverages; you may then produce thirst by all contrivances to produce a raging appetite for drink, and then you may supply that appetite to the full, because it is lawful; you have paid for it—you have a license. You may allow boys, almost children, to frequent your saloon; they may witness the apparent satisfaction with which their seniors quaff the sparkling glass; you may be schooling and training them for the period of 21, when they too, can participate, for this is lawful. You may hold the cup to their lips, you must not let them drink—that is unlawful. For while you have all these privileges for the money you pay, this poor privilege of selling to children is denied you. Their parents have the right to say, 'Leave my son to me until the law gives you privilege to destroy him. Do not anticipate that terrible moment when I can assert for him no further rights of protection. That will soon be enough for me, for his mother, for his sister, for his friends and for this community to see him take his road to death. Give him to me in his childhood at least. Let us have a few hours of his youth, in which we can enjoy his innocence, to repay us in a small degree for the care and love we have lavished upon him. This is something which you who now stand proprietors at the bar have not paid for; this is not embraced in your license. For this offense, you are sentenced to ten days' imprisonment in the county jail, and that you pay a fine of $75 and costs; and that you stand committed until the fine and costs of this prosecution are paid.'

Organized Emigration. From the Omaha Exchange. We call the attention of the readers of the Exchange to the coming visit of the Boston Board of Aid to Land Ownership, and to the letter of Franklin W. Smith, president of the board, published in this connection. The secretary invites correspondence from all portions of Nebraska giving definite information of locations and prices of township tracts of land or large bodies adapted for colonization purposes. The county authorities of every county should be active boards of immigration in absence of any state organization. Accompanying is the letter of the president of the Boston Board of Aid to Land Ownership, dated Dec. 15, 1877.

DRAB SIR:—Mr. Minor has placed with me your favor to the Board of Aid to Land Ownership, through him, for reply. We appreciate your interest in the work for which the East and West have a mutual interest for the benefit of our common country. We are aware also of the advantages and the promise of your thriving state, now being added to the list, which will be in history a marvelous phenomena of rapid development. I hope to leave with a committee on Tuesday evening for the West and South to investigate facilities most favorable for colonies. Probably we shall reach Omaha about the 25th, when I expect a conference with you and the advantage of your information. The enterprise has been received here with unanimous favor and, I am confident, it will be quickly developed when locations of land are viewed. I mail with this a copy of the paper which induced the formation of the board. Yours most respectfully and truly, FRANKLIN W. SMITH, Pres't.
