

THE RED CLOUD CHIEF

New arrivals every day. -Get ready to celebrate. -Red Fish & July doing else where. -Friend L. Dye shakes hands with gloves on. -With the rest friend Weber is improving his clock. -Mr. Medary of the North Iowa Journal called Tuesday. -The frame of the new Church building is erected. -The lumber is on the grounds for the new court house. -Joe Warner's building is rapidly nearing completion. -Miner Bros' store, since enlarged presents a neat appearance. -Did you see those chromos of R. B. Fulton and Vandyke and Perry? -People are now beginning to drive around the court house square. -See the "new row" of buildings on Prospect Hill. Prospect for more. Call on Mr. Fulton whenever you wish a good job in the building line. -The surveyors are busily engaged preparing the work on the new railroad. -We learn that a child of Mr. Jackson, living east of town had his arm broken. -Commence now planting and cultivating for our county, district and state fairs. -The village of the past is fast losing itself in the city of the present and future. -Frank Borin and family and Jas. Allen and family paid the CHIEF office a pleasant visit last week. -MINER BROS' new store room is ready for the large stock of goods now on the road for them. -Rev. Neiley, the other day, brought in a notice of a tied couple, and then proceeded to give a tide theory. -Guide Rock reports seven new railroads—all coming right up the valley. -Isn't it about time something was done with regard to incorporation? -Every one should take an interest and assist the Agricultural Society to get up a good fair. -The happiest people you see just at present are those who buy their family supplies at MINER BROS'. -Messrs Loeffler and Kluse are thinking of establishing a foundry and machine-shop in our midst. -Sheriff Post is smiling and happy cause why it keeps his teams more than busy to supply the livery trade. -Our hotels are all so crowded that many of the guests can scarcely find accommodations and the rush is increasing. -Mr. Shinn of the Lincoln Journal chatted pleasantly with us and told the readers of the Journal how Red Cloud looks. -Go to Sherer's for lemons. -You should have been up last Monday and seen us make pi by the column; then you would have thought "I pried a."

Mr. Burton gladdened our eyes with the sight of the Rollins' little washer. No more work in washing but just the rubbing of a stray cuff saturated with printers ink. -The Emmert Proprietary Co., manufacturers of Ebers and Winchell's medicines and Uncle Sam's Harness Oil are making immense sales as they ought to do, for their medicines are known to be as good as recommended. -WHAT is home without a few purchases, at least, from the large stock of dry goods and groceries at MINER BROS.? Deary and desolate, indeed. FOR SALE. Entire stock of Merchandise consisting of Clothing, Dry goods Boots Shoes Hats, Caps, Groceries and Queensware at reduced price, also House and Lot for Sale inquire at L. BAUM. -At a meeting held last Monday evening it was decided to hold a celebration at Red Cloud this coming Fourth. The attendance was small, and the meeting adjourned to meet Friday evening to complete arrangements. BEESLEY & WHITSON, will put a large stock of Hardware Stoves, and Tinware into their new building opposite the bank. They wish to see the people and show them their goods. Low prices and bound to please. PERFECT TRUST. He was young, he was innocent, he had a fortune coming to him and he would build a billiard hall and make multitudinous millions. To do this he must have a partner and found one His fortune didn't come so-n-ough and he, young, innocent and confident confided in the baker to the tune of B sharp, double (V) measure. "Money coming—wish the bank was open—pay you tomorrow", were the words. Pretty tune, but the baker had to sing the chorus—from Nasby's opera, "Pay me what you owe me." As innocence couldn't sing his part of the chorus effectively it was thought best to have an accompaniment, so the baker rested and secured a couple of wind instruments when they had some broken time. Confidence not wishing to play second fiddle, engaged a stentorian bawler and the way he waltzed around on his ear and shot off his barzo was delightful to behold. Then they had some lively shin music under the direction of a sandy conglom. ed, white cravated, reverential square. The innocent was requested to face the music and pay the fiddler, and came near being fined for contempt because he couldn't pay. -F. M. SNOW, May 25th, 1878. Thomaville Items. -Another dog-fight last week. -Crops looking well. -Breaking in order now. -Dan letters a shade lighter. -Our J. P. is out of luck lost a hog with colic. -That wedding ceremony was all in due form, the J. P. had all his clothes on, and "was not scared a bit either. -Corn and potatoes looking well. -Potato bugs looking striped and some of the potato plants look a little stripped. -C. Johnson has traded off his rooster and is now on the horse trade. -Thed., Cole is making his mark with a mule team an ox team and a sulky breaker. -Mr. Moody lost a horse this spring. -A ad now the ag't for farm machinery stops with us for dinner, and when he is told it is 25 cts innocently draws that same twenty-dollar green-back that he carried last year. -Mr. Wilkinson says, "It's a girl and I can afford to take the CHIEF." -Mr. Heets feels well since the rain.
