Miner Bros. sell Superior flour. Roby has plenty of Kerosine oil. Choice, early, seed Potatoes at Roby's.

Live hogs are worth $4.25 in this market. Roby's store is head-quarters for Gilt-Edged Butter.

Roby has received Garden Seeds in bulk and in papers. Go to John G. Potter's if you want goods at bed rock prices.

The famous Havana Cheroots can be had at Roby's, 5 for 10 cts. Mr. Henry Waller of Cowles, has become a subscriber to the CHIEF.

The Kirby has changed hands. Mr. Jacob Wiggins is the new proprietor. Full assortment of Garden and Field Seeds, at PERKINS & MITCHELL'S.

A small cyclone visited the eastern part of Smith county, Kansas, recently. Fresh Virginia Peanuts, for seed, at PERKINS & MITCHELL'S.

We acknowledge receipt of catalogue of Tabor, Iowa, College, for 1890-91. Dr. Kendall's "horse books" for sale at the CHIEF office at 25 cents apiece.

Mr. Simons has moved his cows, milk wagon &c., to the north side of the river. The goods at J. G. Potter's are all fresh and new, and are selling at bottom prices.

Flour Exchange—Standard Brands, good as the best, and fully warranted. Call at PERKINS & MITCHELL'S.

The roads are said to be in a very bad condition—worse than was ever known in this country before. All kinds of staple and fancy groceries at the old stand.

PERKINS & MITCHELL'S. John Waller, who recently made a trip to Washington Territory, subscribed for the CHIEF again last Tuesday.

The Rev. Geo. O. Yeiser will preach next Sabbath morning and evening at the Congregational church in this place. Potatoes, Butter and Eggs, always on hand—and more wanted, at PERKINS & MITCHELL'S.

Mrs. N. B. Holyoke will return and give her second lecture on Wednesday evening March 23 at Congregational church. Those who have seed wheat for sale would find it a profitable investment to put an advertisement of a few lines in the CHIEF.

"Uncle Jack" Rennecker has again become a citizen of Red Cloud. He will start with his wife to Arkansas in about a month.

Henry Cook, the popular druggist, started east last Monday to see his wife and babies. He will bring his family with him on his return.

The ferry is inadequate to meet the demands made upon it. Last Monday it was said that fifty teams were waiting on the river bank at one time. J. G. Potter has just received a large stock of Boots & Shoes, dry goods &c., which the public are invited to inspect. Prices as low as the lowest. Call in.

The Guide Rock News and the Webster County Argus look enough alike to be twins—the same reading matter may be found in each of them from week to week.

Fred Stuart left the country very suddenly last Tuesday morning, not stopping to bid his friends good bye. He left several letters, however, addressed to the principal mourners—his creditors.

The fear of being lynched will never deter us from performing our duty as a publisher, therefore our readers will find Prof. Tice's weather predictions for April in another column of this issue of the CHIEF.

We are glad to note the fact that John G. Potter has just received a large and well selected stock of goods, such as the people need; and would say to one and all, give him a call when you come to town.

Plant forest and evergreen trees on your premises; it will beautify your home, make life pleasanter, and when the property is sold, finally, at sheriff's sale, bidding will be livelier and your creditors will realize more from it.

Mr. Kaley informs us that the bill, the object of which was to provide seed wheat for the destitute settlers in Nebraska, passed the house and was killed in the senate by the howlers who pretended to believe that it was unconstitutional.

Mr. John Boesch, our genial German friend from Amboy, called last Saturday and aided us financially. He is not a woman's righter and thinks that the agitation of that question will yet drive him from Nebraska. Don't let it do it, John.

George Wilson, a worthless scamp of Grand Island, lost his wife recently and being poor and shiftless sold her body to the attending physician for enough to cover the expenses of her sickness and burial, and skipped out before the citizens had a chance to hang him.

We have received a most little pamphlet published by the Nebraska Press Association, containing the address of Hon. C. H. Gore delivered before the Press Association in 1890, and also Mr. E. M. Carroll's poem read before the Press Association at Lincoln at their last meeting. Copies can be had by addressing M. A. Brown, Beatrice, Nebraska.

Those who may feel inclined to grumble at the scarcity of news in this issue are reminded that an editor is liable to get sick once in a while, as well as common mortals, and while soaking his feet in hot water, and taking nasty medicine he is not in the best of trim for writing newspaper articles. Well, that's what ails us; like the monkey and the parrot, we've had a holo' a time the last week.

We invite our lady readers to discuss the subject of woman's suffrage through the columns of the CHIEF. We will only ask that they make their articles on the subject reasonably short, say a half column, and refrain from abuse, which of course they will do. This important subject will soon be brought squarely before the people, and we deem it but just that the women should be heard, hence this offer. Will "Betsey" of Inavale, please rise and address the meeting.

MARRIED.—At the residence of Geo. W. Ball, in Red Cloud, Neb., on March 7th 1891, by Abram Kaley, J. P., Allen W. Carpenter to Miss Maggie Saladen, all of Amboy, Webster county Neb.

MARRIED.—At the residence of the bride's father near Guide Rock, on the 25th of March 1891, by the Rev. Geo. O. Yeiser, Mr. Frank Bailey and Miss Mary D. Parker, daughter of Edmond Park Esq., all of Webster Co., Neb.

Lew Hawley was in town trying to sell a dog, not receiving proper bids, he donated the pup to the town. It is a greyhound and will be promptly shipped to Red Cloud. Mr. Simpson has a bump on his head—the result of an accident? Morey has a hat for sale. On Tuesday the Dutch fought, on Wednesday the Yankees, and on Thursday the Irish celebrated St. Patrick's day. Par.

A correspondent of the Sherman County Times gets the following: Scene the first—Cow-boy and farmer standing on the prairie in August, 1876, when the grasshoppers were flying so thick as to almost obscure the sun, and the destruction of the crops was inevitable. "Let them come," said the herder, "they will rout out some of those darned 'orghum tickers,' and we will have a larger range." Scene the second—Same parties standing in the door of a dug out in Custer county, in February 1881, when the snow was flying so thick that one could scarcely see ten steps. "Isn't this fearful," said the man in cow skins. "Let it storm," said the man of the plow, "it will rout out some of those darned 'cow-punchers' and we can farm in peace next summer."

COMMISSIONERS PROCEEDINGS. March 15, 1881. Board met in special session pursuant to call of Clerk. All present. Propositions were submitted by committee from Guide Rock and Red Cloud looking to the rebuilding of the bridges across the Republican river but no definite conclusion was arrived at. Adjourned to March 16th, 1881, at 1 o'clock p. m.

A. H. CHARY, ch'n. J. A. TULLY'S clerk. March 16, 1881. Met pursuant to adjournment. Present Isaac May, Hugh Stevenson, commissioners. J. A. Tully's clerk. The Sheriff was authorized to take charge of all lumber found from the Red Cloud bridge and see that the same was properly cared for. Adjourned sine die.

ISAAC MAY ch'n, pro tem. J. A. TULLY'S clerk. Prof. Tice's Weather Predictions for April 1891.

1st, clear or fair, 2d, to 8th, clouding threatening weather with heavy storms; 6th and 7th, clear or fair; 8th to 11th, clouding and threatening weather with local storms; 11th and 12th, clear or fair; 13th to 17th, clouding threatening weather with rain; 18th and 19th, clear or fair; 19th to 23d, clouding, threatening weather with storms about the 23d; 23th and 26th, clear and frost if heavy storms occurred; 25th to 30th, clouding threatening weather, with heavy storms if preceding period was exempt from them; 30th, clear and frost if storms occurred.

The comparatively warmer days will be about the 4th, 10th, 15th, 23d, and 28th. The comparatively colder days will be about the 1st, 6th, 11th, 19th, 23d, and 30th. Earthquake causes exist in their greatest energy about the 2d, 9th, 14th, 19th and 26th. Auroras will probably be visible about the 1st, 7th, 12th, 18th, 24th, and 30th.

No apples superior to those sold by Putnam—splendid for eating or cooking.—Bottom figures given.

Every woman who has experience in brood making knows the thing of the difficulty in always getting the best results during the winter season when the "frosty pots" chilled and the dough won't work just right. The best thing you can do under such circumstances is to buy your bread of Lutterbach, who has only Red Cloud Patent Flour. C. E. FARRER tells us.

The Parable of the Partridge.

Now there was a certain man who had two sons. And the younger of them said to his father, "Father give me the portion of goods that falleth to me." And he divided unto him his living, and the younger son purchased himself an oil-cloth grip sack and got out of that country.

And it came to pass that he journeyed even unto Buckskin and the land that lieth over against Leadville. And when he was come near unto the gates of the city, he heard music and dancing.

And he got into that place, and when he arose and went his way, a hiring at the gates smote upon him with a slung shot of great potency, and the younger son wist not how it was.

And in the second watch of the night he arose and was alone, and the peices of gold and silver were gone. And it was so.

And he arose and sat down and rest his clothes and threw ashes and dust upon himself. And he went and joined himself unto a citizen of that country, and he sent him down in prospect shaft to dig.

And he never before dug. Wherefore when he spat upon his hands and lay hold of the long handled shovel, wherewith they were wont to shovel he struck his elbow upon the wall of the shaft wherein he stood, and poured the earth and rocks over against the back of his neck.

And he waxed exceeding wroth. And he tried even yet again, and behold! the handle of the shovel became tangled between his legs, and filled his ear high full of decomposed slate and the perphy which is in that region round about.

And he wist not why it was so. Now after many days the shovels with their shovels, and the pickers with their picks and the blasters with their blasters, and the hoisters with their hoists, banded themselves together, and each said to his fellow:

Go! let us strike, and they stroke. And they that stroke were as the sands of the sea for multitude, and they were as terrible as any army with banners.

And they blew upon the ram's horn and the cornet, and the alto horn, and the bass drum. Now it come to pass that the younger son joined not with them that did strike, neither went he out to his work nor on the highway, lest at any time they that did strike should fall upon him and fatten him out, and even send him unto his home packed in ice, which is even after the fashion of that people.

And he began to be in want. And he went out and joined himself unto a citizen of that country; and he sent him into the lurch rooms to find tourists.

And he would fain have filled himself up with the adamantine cookies and destructible pie, and the vulcanized sandwiches which the tourists always did eat.

And no man gave unto him. And when he came to himself he said: How many hired servants hath my father on the farm with bread enough and lots to spare, and I perish with hunger.

And he resigned his position in the lurch houses and arose and went unto his father. But when he was yet a great way off, he telegraphed to his father to kill the old cow and make merry for behold he had struck it rich, and the old man paid for the telegram.

Now, the elder son was in the north field plowing with a pair of balky mules, and when he came and drew nigh to the house he heard music and dancing.

And he couldn't seem to wot why those things were thus. And he took the hired girl by the ear and led her away, and asked her, whence cometh this unbecomingly hilarity?

And she smote him with the palm of her hand, and said: "this thy brother hath come, and was dead, is alive again," and they began to have a high old time.

And the elder son kicked, even as the Government mule kicked, and he was hot under the collar, and he gathered up an armful of profanity and flung it in among the guests, and got him up and girded his loins and lit out.

And he got him to one learned in the law, and he reploried the entire ranch whereon they were together with all and singular the hereditaments, right, title, franchise, estate, both in law and in equity together with all daps, spurs, angles, crooks variations, leads, veins of gold or silver ore, mill-sites, damsites, flumes, and each and every of the them firmly by those present.

Then Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad company is burning pits of coal and clay for material for ballasting their road. First a layer of Iron, coal, then of lumpy clay, then of coal and so on. The first layer of coal is fired before the laying on of the clay commences. The pit is in the form of a cone and burns for months. The product resembles coal cinder but is much harder. Two pits have recently been fired at Red Oak. Six hundred miles of road will be ballasted with this novel material.

Last Monday night a party of seven—four armed and mounted men surrounded the residence of a man about seven miles northeast of Belvidere, and gave him until the 21st of this month to leave the state. The offense charged against him is that he is attempting to jump the timber claim of an old citizen, S. J. Davis.—[Hebron Journal.]

Woman May Vote. Woman may vote—in school meetings. That is, she may vote if she properly qualifies herself. The requirements are of three kinds; she may have personal property upon the assessment roll; or she may have babies more than five years old. If she complies with either of the conditions, she may exercise the yeoman's privilege. The property requirement may be defeated simply on the ground that if she pays taxes she has interest in the disposal of school money; but when the privilege of voting is dependent upon her babies, we submit that it is rather hard to require her to commence five or six years back. Two good yielding babies are worth as much as one five year old any time. And we believe that this should be like the naturalization law, which does not require an applicant to be fully naturalized, but lets him vote when he has declared his intention.—[Fall City News.]

THE EXTRA SESSION. When the congressional apportionment bill passed the lower house of Congress, it was considered certain to pass the senate in the same form, and the provision of the bill, which required each state to be divided into as many congressional districts as the number of members to which it was entitled, would have required an extra session of the legislature of Nebraska for the purpose of forming the congressional districts of this state. The United States senate, however, failed to reach the bill and it was lost. Perhaps at an extra session of congress, perhaps at its next regular session, another bill will be introduced and passed to apportion the congressional membership among the several states. If the new bill contains the same provision as the old one and permits but one member to be elected from one district; an extra session of our legislature will be demanded. If congress shall merely designate the number of members to which each state is entitled and shall permit the state to elect in its own way, Nebraska can elect her three members "at-large," and thus avoid an extra session. Under any of the proposed schemes of apportionment, Nebraska will be entitled to three members of congress, but will not get them for two years.—[Globe.]

THE SUNDAY MAGAZINE FOR APRIL. The present number overflows with reading matter to suit all classes, and which cannot fail to prove instructive, entertaining and profitable. It is a publication which must find a welcome in every family. The contents are abundant and varied, but we can only glance at them. "How the Poor Folks Live," by the editor, is deeply interesting, and the twelve illustrations serve to intensify the interest. "Memories of Egypt," by S. K. Hunt, "Easter and the Days Before it," "Good Friday in Munich," "The Great South American Struggle," etc., are among the particularly notable articles. In the department of fiction are, a continuation of the admirable serial "Out of the World," by Mrs. O'Reilly; "A Ghost Story," by Rev. J. Hyatt Smith; "For the Coming of the King," by Helen W. Pierson, etc. There are several excellent and instructive essays, sketches of Rev. John Macintosh, D. D., Bishop Atkinson and Kerr, Rev. Dr. Chapin, Carlyle, Rev. J. Hyatt Smith, Rev. Dr. Hoge, etc. etc. The poems are quite numerous, and of great merit. Among the peculiarly interesting feature are "The Home pulp," "Hard places in the Bible," by Rev. Dr. Percan, "With a smile in it," "The Invalid's Dream and Thoughts for the Afflicted," "Tem-Talk," "International Sunday-school Lessons," "Editors Portfolio," etc., etc. The miscellany is unusually abundant. There are 126 quarto pages and over 100 illustrations, and a single copy is only 25 cents; annual subscriptions, $3, postpaid. Address Frank Leslie's Publishing House 53, 55 and 57 Park Five New York.
