Opening of the Red Cloud Schools.

The public schools of Red Cloud will open Monday, Sept. 4th, in a new brick building, with six departments, under the direction of Prof. J. J. Judson, of Iowa, and a full corps of able and experienced assistants. A full course common school studies will be established, which will include many of the higher branches of study, affording to young men and women a favorable opportunity to fit themselves for college or the duties of life. Prof. Judson is a teacher of high experience and popularity. The student body has declined steadily into the highest and most important pupils from outside of the district at a remarkable rate. By order of district board.

We need rain. To make the late corn rise. And might stand a deluge. Of forty days and forty nights. And then come out with our heads above water.

Teachers examination to-day and tomorrow.

Teachers Institute of this county, closes to-day.

Number 1 was three hours late last Tuesday evening.

Pat. McKenna, run 1 and 2 during Mr. Crosby's recent illness.

Mr. Jno. Fenney, of Hastings, made this office a pleasant call Tuesday.

The bridal party returned from their eastern pleasure-tour last Sunday evening.

The stock shipping season is upon us; seventeen car-loads fed here last week.

The school furniture for the new school house, has arrived, and is being arranged.

Mr. McLane and family have removed to Wymore, where they will reside hereafter.

It looks very much like rain, but as "all signs fail in a dry time," we may miss it.

New subscribers still continue to come in and have their names put on the roll of honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Seely and daughter will accept ye local's thanks for that bountiful dinner.

If any circus that is traveling in the west will come to Red Cloud, they will be well patronized.

The dust is temporarily suspended, the elements having seen fit to give us a refreshing shower.

Several of the b'boys went "koonin'" the other night and came in with sixteen melons. Aww!

About fifty men and boys indulged in bathing in the peerless waters of the Republican Sunday.

Miss McDaniel of this place, has been employed as one of the teachers in the school at Riverton.

The Rev. Geo. O. Yieser, will preach next Sabbath, morning and evening, D. V., at the Congregational church.

The Red Cloud Reds played the Riverton's at Riverton Wednesday. The score stood, 17 to 10 in favor of the Reds.

The Misses Richardson and Spanogle rendered some very nice vocal music at the entertainment last Friday evening.

Mr. Burney, formerly master mechanic at Hastings, will hereafter reside in Red Cloud, holding the same position.

Prof. Judson and wife arrived in Red Cloud last week from Iowa, and will take charge of the schools at their opening here.

Several of the b'boys went to Hastings Tuesday, to witness the playing between the Colorado "cracks" and the Hastings ditto.

Mr. Thomas, ex-editor, but now a man of fortune, "without visible means of support," returned last week, after rusticated several days in the east.

Loer—A child's gold chain and Turkish knot with a pearl set. The finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving the same at the store of W. B. Roby.

Sheriff Warren was called away to Lincoln yesterday, so could not aid in the excursion reception to-day, but L. P. Albright of the Webster county bank will take his place.

The Q. and B. M., on the main line, have been slaughtering the baggage and passenger brakemen's wages. Baggage men now get $55 and brakemen $40. So it goes.

Fourteen to two in favor of the Leadville nine, at Hastings last Tuesday. This is the first time, be believe, the Hastings Reds have experienced a defeat since its organization. Jes so.

Uncle Sam Gardner, is still quite poor, but we understand his physician, Dr. Smith, of Guide Rock, says he is doing as well as could be expected, and hopes for his restoration to health.

Joseph Cheatham, Baptist minister of Walnut Creek, was in town Wednesday on his way home from a visit to southeastern Iowa, from whence he brought with him Mrs. Pierce, is mother-in-law.

If some one was to knock English bell out of Mr. Clute, our foreman, we think he would be a real cute printer but even so he is we do not know what we should do without him, and we suspect he knows it.

"Pappy" Willis; one of the biggest hearted men we ever met, and skilled in his profession; "throttled" the Iowa and Illinois editors from McCook to Akron; Colorado, last week. The boys say he got 'em."

The bell for the Congregational church is on the way. We propose to have an ice cream festival at the first ringing of the bell. Further notice will be given of the time.

By order of committee.

Miss McBride, well known in Hastings literary circles, has been conducting a class in elocution in the Webster county normal for the past week. Next week she will take a class in the York county Teachers Institute, after which she will take a long needed vacation and rest, by a visit to the mountains—Gazette-Journal.

Charley Steffen who came in last fall, has a show for a big corn crop. He has a few of the country. He has a fine crop of young about trees from seed this year from 8 to 25 inches high. He believes if a man will do his part, he can have a crop without fail.

The Red Cloud Center recently changed hands, Mr. Thomas retiring and Mr. Lutz assuming control. Our young friend A. J. Clute, Jr., familiarly known to many of our readers, has charge of the mechanical department, and is making many handsome improvements on the paper.—Doniphan Index.

Mr. C. E. Putnam has purchased the bakery owned by Mr. Parks, just south of his down-town store. He is turning out an excellent quality of bread, and delivers it to his customers in all parts of the city. He is making some very valuable improvements, and we may look for a superior quality of breakfasts.

The following explains itself, for which compliment we return our hearty and sincere thanks:

D. LUTZ, ED. RED CLOUD CHIEF:

Dear Sir—You are cordially invited to be present and participate in the Iowa Editorial Banquet, at the dining hall, Red Cloud, Thursday evening, August 16th, 1882, at 7 o'clock, P. M. Yours very truly,

A. R. GACK.

On our trip south lately, we ran across some natural curiosities. We found a 3 year old heifer 16 1/2 hands or 67 inches high, or as tall as the six legged cow which most of our readers no doubt have seen, belonging to J. M. Brown. Brown is doubtless a coming showman.

N. Edwards has just received from St. Joe, a full and complete stock of groceries. From the manner in which he has commenced operations, it looks as if he has calculated himself a fixture of Red Cloud. His long experience at the business enables him to give first-class bargains. Call and see him. "Competition is the life of trade."

Mr. C. G. Pearce, representing the Crete nurseries, left at our office last Monday morning to visit the office of Crab-apples—the Hyslop and Siberian, and two varieties of summer apples—the Dutch Oldenburg, and Red Astrachan. For plumpness and delicious flavor, they cannot be excelled. This nursery ranks among the growing industries of our state, being superintended by one of the best nurserymen in the state. Mr. Pearce has our thanks and we hope he may be successful in taking orders in this county, for which purpose he is now here.

Two young "knockers" from the rural districts took too much of the corn-juice last Sunday, and upon leaving town it began to work mysteriously upon their systems. They indulged in showing their girls who were with them, how nice it would be to ride at locomotive speed, and proceeded to put their horses on a run. Just before they arrived at the railroad crossing, the yard men saw them coming and immediately proceeded to flag them, but they headed not, and passed just ahead of a train running through the yard. Fortunately no one was injured.

On our way home from Smith Center the other day—or night rather, we were taken in and cared for by friend J. M. Brown, of Judson, formerly from Jones county, Iowa. In the morning "Jack" showed us his "outlay" for the future, and far from a mean one did it prove to be. He has 580 acres, 200 in cultivation, 160 under fence, with 46 head of horn stock—40 head of hogs and ten head of horses and colts. This stock farm of Mr. Brown's is on the White Rock, 12 miles from Red Cloud near the state line. Mr. Brown began here in 1872. He has just erected a new frame house 28x36 feet, one and a half stories high; has plenty of timber and stock water on his place. In fact as we told him, he has a lay out for an independent farmers fortune.

Last Friday, the 15th, we went to the Normal to hear the children—old and young—"say their pieces," and after waiting a long time for them they finally commenced, led by the leader, Mr. Campbell, who did very well, but we thought subjected himself to some just criticism. All were entitled to credit for prompt response when called upon. We came away before the award of premiums, but understood that the "Red ribbon" was awarded to Mrs. A. J. Clute, Jr., which we regarded as a well merited award, her subject was, as we understood, "The Polish Boy," exceedingly pathetic and rendered by rehearsal. Mrs. C. is doubtless an efficient teacher, of actual experience.

In this week's issue will appear what has been put out as a "Center extra," which doubtless will satisfactorily explain itself to most readers. To others we will say that it finds its way into our regular issue for more than a single reason. First, the issuing of the extra broke in hugely on our time table in getting out our regular, and second it is deemed a matter of interest to our regular patrons to know what we are up to, and what we have to say to other folks besides them. We aim to make the Center the friend and servant of the entire community, and they must be the judges whether we succeed or not.

We understand that some persons are circulating the rumor that we are getting the much talked of "Center extra" for nothing. We believe the rumor is true, and we would like to mention here, support our regular issue, and hold ourselves responsible for all the rumors that are spread, and we would like to see you expect him to look for us before he does for any body else.

Geo. W. E. Dorsey of Fremont, Neb., called at this office yesterday in company with Gov. Garver. We learn that Mr. D. is on the gubernatorial race course, being put there by a resolute of ardent admirers, and friends. He looks at first sight as if he might be as good a governor as our own Silas, which we think would do.

Rev. C. H. Stebbins of Bonanza College, Salina, Virginia, has accepted a call from the Trinity Ev. Lutheran church (English), at Red Cloud, Neb., and now becomes their permanent pastor. Divine services will be held every Sabbath at the court house, at 11 a. m., and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. All are cordially invited to attend.

If the effusion found under our door Saturday morning was the product of the mind of our genial bachelor friend "James of the golden fleece," who liveth in a lovely vale by himself—at whose door we have been strongly inclined to lay it, in our minds—we regret that he did not assume a bolder standing which we believe might have made his applause more appreciable and secured to him a surer guarantee of his desired object.

Last Saturday at 3:30 P. M., in response to a note from sister M. Gillespie, we ordered out "Lady White Stockings," and sulky for a 35 mile drive, to make her a short Sunday visit at her daughter's Mrs. M. E. Edson, near Smith Centre, Kansas. The moon going to its bed below the horizon, we were compelled to find one above, and wait for the direct light of the sun, as we regard no man safe in driving through such a section by flashlight alone. Rough as it is, though they have some good crop prospects, but they are suffering much more than we from drought. Some fields are already burned to death in the vicinity of Smith Centre, farther south, we were told, it is still worse, but nowhere north of the state line did we see a field of total failure of crops. We noticed that where corn had been put in early and well tended, it was a good crop and not yet suffering from drought. We found that Mrs. Edson had plenty of peach sauce and peach pie on her table, and an abundance of them on the trees some of which were quite ripe, most of them however not so, but will be in a couple of weeks.

Last Saturday morning as we came to the office we noticed a folded slip of paper under our office door, and unfolding found the following verbatim, as nearly as we were able to decipher it. We see nothing specially bad in the spirit of it, and grant the writer's request to print it and let our respective inclinations. As to ourselves we are ready to say that we think Miss McBride's rendering of the subject, evidently referred to—which by the way we understood to be a selection from "Romeo and Juliet" as our contributor has it—deserved a higher compliment if such a thing could be: red cloud chief office bearing lady court house last night I got to thinking & thought I ought to let the world now how that woman made me feel 2 dont know if I can let it so you'll no if you can let it so I hope you'll be able to rede and get it out so soon how so the girl find out how she made one feel fer fer she that pose that romulus and julia was the lovenest thing I ever felt in all my life, I had no wife if I ever ever find one one like her I'll give her a clean deed of my 160 if she'll just live me an no body else while I live I wish you would print this if you can make any thing out of it humble homstead.

DIAMONDS.

I wish to call the attention of the public to the finest selection of jewelry that ever found its way to Red Cloud. This stock of diamonds and jewelry was selected in the east from a 200,000 stock. Everything is new and of the latest designs and will be sold at prices that defy competition. The celebrated Seth Thomas clocks always on hand. Special attention is given to repairing fine watches and clocks. Cash paid for old gold and silver.

T. F. MONROE, Proprietor. Opposite Chicago Lumber Yard.

BRICK!

All in need of good brick, call on the Red Cloud brick yard, and you will be satisfied that it is the place to get them. Another kiln just burned. I. H. & B. F. Lindor.
