MAN ABOUT TOWN.

Albert Nolan, Andy Farmer, Carl Clark and the irrepressible locomotive Charley Deitrich, of Hastings, called to get a copy of the best local paper in the county, Saturday.

Eld S. Reed, of Cowles, called in company with Mr. Crow yesterday. Mr. Reed has been visiting friends in the New England and Key stone states for the past year, and reports crops inferior to those of Nebraska. He will hereafter read the Chief.

The editor of this paper shouldered Post 80, and went to Grand Island, Tuesday morning. All political aspirants will take notice that we are choice of our company, and want it understood that we desire only those to call who come prepared to set 'em up, in accordance with true democratic principles.

C. G. Pearce, representing the Crete nursery of whom we spoke of last week, is meeting with success in falling orders in this county for his fall delivery, which will be delivered sometime during October. The Crete nursery is one of the pioneer industries of our young prairie state, and conducted by a gentleman who has made it a life study, and gives his purchasers the benefit of this experience. Wherever they have made deliveries, and the trees properly cared for, according to instructions, they have proved a success.

A young lady and gentleman from this section were riding on the cars together recently, and as they approached town from the west, the lady happened to see some boys bathing by the dam-site, by the mill, close to track, and remarked: "Isn't it a shame that the boys are allowed to bathe in such public places?" The young man hastily put his head out of the window, and after a sharp look at them, remarked: "They are boys, ain't they?"

Sabbath school picnics are becoming luxuries of frequent occurrence. We think there have been three near Red Cloud, within that many weeks. Well the children, and many older folks enjoyed themselves, and therefore, we conclude they must be public benefactions as we hear of no mischievous influences connected with them, as with some of our boys when they go out to ball plays. They call it "cooning-melons" but we don't admire the name or business.

Among the Iowa editors with whom we were acquainted, were J. Hornstein of the Boon (Iowa), Democrat, George E. Frost, North-west Iowa Advertiser, of Britt, Hancock county, Geo. and we pioneered together about Clear Lake, Cerro Gordo county, 27 years ago. J. M. Brainard, of the Boone county Standard, who was an intimate acquaintance, and friend of Mrs. Lutz before marriage, and also our fellow townsman at Clear Lake, 20 years ago, and at Boone 11 to fifteen years ago.

Ex-Gov. B. F. Gooch of the Home-steader, Des Moines, whom we first met 20 years ago, while out on his farm when we were gathering bed clothing for the newly enlisted soldiers of the 2nd Iowa cavalry. Mr. Gooch was long our pension Agt. at Des Moines. But the one of longest acquaintance, and "the biggest tooth in the puddle," was Dr. J. Wason of the Progress, LaPorte City, in Benton county. Twenty eight years ago we first met him in Vinton, Iowa, and had not met him for twenty-three years before the 17th, when going west. All those whom we heard express themselves were surprised at the appearance of our town. They had no idea that we had anything like such a town as they saw spread out before them. We presented our old friend Brainard of the Boone Standard, with a box of specimen tomatoes from Levi Moore's garden—hard to beat. Three or four varieties of choice potatoes of Roby's raising, and onions to make one's eyes water, and several branches of peaches in a cluster from a tree here in town. He was showing them all around the crowd, and said he would exhibit them in his own office with gladness. Lots of the little Chief extra's were carried away by the party, and we have faith to believe will exert a benign influence for Red Cloud.

The following additional resolutions were adopted at the close of the Institute:

RESOLVED That we present a vote of thanks to Mr. Cornell and Mr. Funk for the thorough and efficient manner with which they have imparted instruction during the entire course of the Institute, also

RESOLVED That we thank Mr. and Mrs. Judson for their kind courteous instructions, coming among us as strangers, we have already learned to appreciate their labors; also

RESOLVED That we return our thanks to the district board for the hospitality with which they have opened the doors of their house for our use; also

RESOLVED That we do most heartily thank Mrs. Zeis, and Congressional society, for the use of organs, and the choir for their services, and the efficient manner with which they have dispensed music for our entertainment.

RESOLVED That Mr. Springer, superintendent, receive the thanks of the teachers, for his untiring efforts, from the beginning to the close of the Institute, so make it agreeable and beneficial to all.

At the meeting of the White Stone, Pleasant Dale and Mount Hope Alliance, in Garfield Precinct, a pleasant time was had. C. C. Coon, president and F. Hoehne, secretary. Several speeches were made by L. P. Munnell, Mr. Stoddard, McCall and Judge Wilcox. McKinney made an interesting speech, followed by Mr. Kaly. The meeting adjourned by giving three cheers in behalf of the Alliance.

They call it "cooning-melons" but we don't admire the name or business.

Among the Iowa editors with whom we were acquainted, were J. Hornstein of the Boon (Iowa), Democrat, George E. Frost, North-west Iowa Advertiser, of Britt, Hancock county, Geo. and we pioneered together about Clear Lake, Cerro Gordo county, 27 years ago. J. M. Brainard, of the Boone county Standard, who was an intimate acquaintance, and friend of Mrs. Lutz before marriage, and also our fellow townsman at Clear Lake, 20 years ago, and at Boone 11 to fifteen years ago.

Ex-Gov. B. F. Gooch of the Home-steader, Des Moines, whom we first met 20 years ago, while out on his farm when we were gathering bed clothing for the newly enlisted soldiers of the 2nd Iowa cavalry. Mr. Gooch was long our pension Agt. at Des Moines. But the one of longest acquaintance, and "the biggest tooth in the puddle," was Dr. J. Wason of the Progress, LaPorte City, in Benton county. Twenty eight years ago we first met him in Vinton, Iowa, and had not met him for twenty-three years before the 17th, when going west. All those whom we heard express themselves were surprised at the appearance of our town. They had no idea that we had anything like such a town as they saw spread out before them. We presented our old friend Brainard of the Boone Standard, with a box of specimen tomatoes from Levi Moore's garden—hard to beat. Three or four varieties of choice potatoes of Roby's raising, and onions to make one's eyes water, and several branches of peaches in a cluster from a tree here in town. He was showing them all around the crowd, and said he would exhibit them in his own office with gladness. Lots of the little Chief extra's were carried away by the party, and we have faith to believe will exert a benign influence for Red Cloud.

The following additional resolutions were adopted at the close of the Institute:

RESOLVED That we present a vote of thanks to Mr. Cornell and Mr. Funk for the thorough and efficient manner with which they have imparted instruction during the entire course of the Institute, also

RESOLVED That we thank Mr. and Mrs. Judson for their kind courteous instructions, coming among us as strangers, we have already learned to appreciate their labors; also

RESOLVED That we return our thanks to the district board for the hospitality with which they have opened the doors of their house for our use; also

RESOLVED That we do most heartily thank Mrs. Zeis, and Congressional society, for the use of organs, and the choir for their services, and the efficient manner with which they have dispensed music for our entertainment.

RESOLVED That Mr. Springer, superintendent, receive the thanks of the teachers, for his untiring efforts, from the beginning to the close of the Institute, so make it agreeable and beneficial to all.

At the meeting of the White Stone, Pleasant Dale and Mount Hope Alliance, in Garfield Precinct, a pleasant time was had. C. C. Coon, president and F. Hoehne, secretary. Several speeches were made by L. P. Munnell, Mr. Stoddard, McCall and Judge Wilcox. McKinney made an interesting speech, followed by Mr. Kaly. The meeting adjourned by giving three cheers in behalf of the Alliance.
