DEMOREST'S Magazine for April is a highly entertaining and instructive number. The articles are varied and of an interesting nature; among which may be mentioned, "How we live in New York—the Charities of a Great City," by Jennie June; "Two sides of the question;" "The Diamond Pendant," and the admirable serial, "The Shores of Nothing." The various departments contain much that is useful, and the illustrations add considerably to the interest of the magazine. The frontispiece of this number is a beautiful steel engraving.

GUIDE ROCK.

The severest wind storm of the season is raging and the dust is just a little "too too."

The new Occidental begins to loom up. The streets are nearly blocked to-day with teams from the country, laden with lumber, machinery and fencing material.

Mr. Varrell was out on crutches this morning. He has been having an attack of rheumatism.

C. E. Dimmock of Red Cloud was in our town Monday, shaking the hands of old friends.

Mrs. Harmon of Bloomington, is here visiting her parents.

A number of strangers are here looking at the county with the view to "pitching their tents" and becoming citizens.

Mayor Parker has purchased a corner lot fronting the M. E. church. Just why he has chosen to live so near that institution, he alone can tell. But his honor being religiously inclined may have an eye to business.

Yesterday the full force of carpenters who were at work on the Sherman block came to an abrupt pause. Stillness reigned for the space of five minutes. Then the contractor lifted up his voice and bewailed the present state of affairs. The village has licensed a drayman; and the citizens have been threatened with prosecution if they should employ any others than the draymen to haul their lumber, coal, grain, or anything else. The result is, that in case drays are otherwise engaged, all work, be it public or private, must come to a standstill until the drays can be had. If a grain merchant has 10,000 bushels of grain that needs to be placed elsewhere in the city, he must depend upon the dray. If the ordinance contemplates such a monopoly as this, then it needs to be sat down upon. ROCKET.

Sing, Oh Sing, that Song Again.

Seek No Further.

It is said an old philosopher sought an honest man with a lighted lantern, and humanity has since been seeking an honest medicine by the light of knowledge. It has at length found it in Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic, which cures all diseases of the blood, removes pimples, and acts promptly on the liver and urinary organs. Only 50 cents a bottle to be had of A. Lindley.

A Wide Awake Druggist.
