THE LAST MEETING OF GARFIELD'S

CABINET. "If Mr. Blaine wants a subject for his pen which he may be confident is worthy of his finest rhetoric," said ex-Postmaster-General James, "let him take the last meeting of Garfield's Cabinet. I can never forget the scene as the President came in, and, saying he wished to read to us a letter before beginnig business, proceeded to read one of Abraham Lincoln's most characteristic epistles, one that 'Bob' had run across, he said. It was his despatchto General Joe Hooker on the eve of a battle, and Garfield, you may be sure, read it for all it was worth. In it Lincoln likned Hooker to a bull trying to get over a fence with dogs in in front of him behind him. The Secretary of war had written some copious instructions to Hooker, but happened to run across the messenger with Lincoln's terse despatch. After reading it he tore his own up, saying he could not equal it."

JAPANESE HEAD-GEAR.

The Japanese do not use a pillow in our sense of the word. They have a small piece of wood, something like a dog in shape, on which they lay their heads, the girls and women serene in the consciousness that their hair will not be disarranged. The wondrful structure of a Japanese head-dress is usually made up once in four days. It is down pillow it would have to be dealt with every day. Children in some cases have the head closely shaved, but more often the hair is fantastically cultivated. A favorite style is to shave the head all round the crown, leaving that covered with hair like a skull cap. Sometimes all is shaved save a few locks over the forehead. Another rather fetching design is to leave a couple of well-defined locks over each ear, just enough to hold the child up by if that were deemed a desirable disciplinary

Why We Cannot Love Tomatoes.

The feminine mind early attains to the consideration of the ethics of the affections. In one of our city schools the other day, the class in English grammar was discussing the difference between the words "like" and "love." "Now," said the teacher, "we can like a tomato, but is it proper to say we can love a tomato?" "No, it is not," said a fresh young miss, "one cannot love a tomato." "Why not?" inquired the teacher. "Because, you know, you cannot-you can't-well, you can't hug a Business is now prepared to fill orders for same on short notice, and tomato."

How Watch Cases are Made.

Imitation always follows a successful article, and imitation is one of the best proofs of real honest merit; and thus it is that the James Boss' Gold Watch Case has its imitators. Buyers can always tell the genuine by the trade-mark of a crown, from which is suspended a pair of secretary scales. Be sure BOTH crown and scales are stamped in the cap of the watch ense. Jewelers are very cautious about endorsing an article unless they not only know that it is good, but that the character of the manufacturers is such that the quality of the goods will be kept fully up to standard.

WILLIAMSPORT, PA., Feb. E. 1880.

The James Boss' Gold Watch Cases go like hot cakes. Each one I sell sells another. Don't need to recommend them; they sell themselves. One of my customers has had a James Boss' Gold Watch Case in use for 20 years, and it is as good as ever. With this case I do not hesitate to give my own guarantee, expecially with the new and improved cases, which seem to be everlasting. Jesse T. Little, Jeweler.

New Brunswick, N.J., Jan. 8, 1883.

This gold case, No. 66%, known as the James Bose' Gold Watch Case, came into my possession about 1853, has been in use since that time, and is still in good condition. The movement is the case when I boucht it, and its condition shows that the case has really out-worn the movement, which is played out.

This warmly expressed regret fell from the lips of an elderly pleasure yourist, last August, and was addressed to a semicircle of commercial travelers seated on the porch of the Lindell Hotel, St. Louis, Mo.

"Yes," responded a New York representative of the profession, "a drummer isn't without his pleasures, but he runs his risks, too—risks outside the chances of railroad collisions and steamboat explosions."

"What risks for instance?"

LAND GRANT BONDS

INTERNATIONAL R. R. & S. S. CO. OF FLORIDA.

1 40 Aere Land Warrant with each $100 Bond. 400 neres with each $1,000.

Agencies for the sale of the Six per cent Gold Bonds of this Company have been opened in the principal cities and towns of the country, and the liberal bonus of valuable lands given to subscribers is proving an eminent success in floating the loan, while it secures to investors, whether men of wealth or of moderate means, a large return for their

These honds, issued at the rate of only $15,000 per mile, and secured by first mortgage upon the road and equipment, and also upon its entire lands, not only constitute what is known as "Al securities" in themselves, but carry with from the extraordinary bounty er bonus of forty acres of land for each $100 invested; 400 acres for each $1,000 and so on. With each bond the subscriber gets a Land Warrant free of cost, for the number of acres called for by the amount of his subscription. These Land Warrants give the holder the right of choice. They are also transferable and negotiable; he may sell if he does not wish to locate. Most of these lands lie in the semi-tropical region of Florids, where oranges, lemons, bananas, pineappies, and other tropical productions grow, and where gardens flourish all winter, while snow and ice prevail elsewhere. It is the climate mainly that makes them so raluable. The Western prairies may have the soil, but Florida has the climate as well as the soil. More attention is at the present time turned towards Florida, and justly so, than towards any other portion of the United States. Investments there are more likely to be in the channel of popular favor than elsewhere, so that whether lands are secured for settlement or speculation, they are sure to be largely remunerative.
