The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Once a year, the Locomotive Engineers of the country meet together in convention to discuss matters relative to their calling. This year they met in San Francisco, and being a body of men who, when on a vacation, wish to make the most of it in the way of recreation and comfort, they naturally chose the route to their meeting place, which guarantees them greatest immunity from danger and the most facilities for sightseeing and enjoyment en route. They have an open credit with the railroads, for all lines transport them free of charge, hence their choice is a voluntary act upon their part. This year the great bulk of the fraternity chose the Great Rock Island Route, and were carried toward the Occident in half a dozen of the magnificent new Pullman cars, for which this great route is noted. They chose wisely and well, since they passed over a road with the smoothest of track, through a country of surprising fertility and loveliness, and while journeying ate the best viands the market afforded, cooked and served in the very best manner, and at night slept in the most luxurious sleeping cars to be found in the United States. A true Engineer is observant and quick to discern danger. There is nothing heedless or reckless in the composition of the Knights of the foot-board, hence their choice of the Rock Island route, was a compliment or a testimonial from men best qualified to judge, that they believed that the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway, combines in its road-bed, equipment and management, all the qualities that makes a railway worthy the patronage of the public.

A Correspondent Views.
From letters and papers this day received from the Hoosier state, your correspondent believes that the state will give a neat republican majority in November. It would seem that the better class of the people there have cut loose from the tribe of Benjamin, and have also concluded that St. John is not the St. John of the New Testament. It appears that all sensible honest republicans everywhere are opening their eyes to the absurdity of the attempt on the part of fanatics to compel the republican party to shounder the great moral question of temperance. Then, too, the idea of purifying the government by helping into power a party, whose rottenness produced its own dissolution and whose putrid carcass has become an intolerable stench in the nostrils of civilization, is asking decent citizens to perform an act which on second thought they cannot afford to do, and hence will not do.
"Like cures like" will not do in politics. To eradicate an ounce of corruption found in the republican party, by administering a pound of the putrescent nastiness found in the democratic party, will not be to help reform the government. By the way, three fourths of these howlers about reform, do not know what abuses if any have crept into the administration. Imagine the following for a battle cry: "Cleveland, Hendricks and reform." It could be well to return these free traders no doubt. It would be placing a premium on false and injurious political doctrines to elect those gentlemen to the highest seat in the national synagoga.
