THE anniversary of one of the families whose ancestors were hanged for newly-organized National Cattle and witchery has been celebrated in Salem. The houses are still standing where the judges of that famous time lived, and on one of the principal streets is a quaint old gabled structure where one of the supposed witches is supposed to have resided. It is now occupied by a corn doctor, who sells witch-hazel ointment to the credulous.

SUICIDES are on the increase in France. Five years ago the number was seventeen to every one hundred thousand inhabitants. Now it is nineteen. Among the self-destroyers the past year thirty-five were under sixteen, thirteen were not fifteen years two in their thirteenth, four in their cape. The flames were subdued before twelfth, and two had not reached the great damage was done, and it was age of ten. Suicides are most numerous in April, May and June.
