STILLWATER.

C. A. Teal is building a barn. The Crozier boys have started out to shell corn.

Miss Mary McIntyre's school is out in district 37. She contracted a three-month term in what is known as the Taylor district.

Mrs. Fannie Thompson died on Saturday the 6th, from hemorrhage of the lungs.

John Blaine is building a corn-crib. He is also having a porch built on the front of his house which will improve its appearance.

HIGHLAND TP., KANSAS.

Fine weather. Grandma Lewis is on the sick list. Corn husking about through with in this neighborhood.

Wm. Gates' fattening steers are looking well.

Some of our farmers are hauling their wheat eleven miles and selling it for thirty-five cents a bushel.

V. Williams created a small frame house for T. Lewis last week.

We wonder what has become of all the agents and peddlers for there has only been three agents and one peddler here this week.

Some are using corn for fuel, they think it is cheaper than coal.

NORTH-WEST WEBSTER.

Fine weather for corn husking. Chas. Fisher, L. D. Mouse, Joseph Rachenrdfer, and others go to Red Cloud Tuesday to attend court.

Isaac Cowley is building a large cattle shed.

The Wheatland school-house is rapidly nearing completion.

Prof. McFann, of Blue Hill, is teaching the Little Blue band at Wells.

The social at Ira Flagler's last Wednesday night was an enjoyable affair.

A billiard hall is being erected at Wells.

The band boys will have a big dance at the G. A. R. hall at Wells on the 18th for the benefit of the band. Everybody invited.

The corn buyers at Wells are paying the highest market price for corn. Don't haul your corn to Blue Hill when you can get the cash for it at Wells.

FRANKFORD.

Election is over and Cleveland takes the chair, but we are not discouraged, still hanging on to the gospel according to St. John.

W. Smith has been west and taken land. His report of the country is favorable.

W. M. Ricker lost two cows lately.

The season has come when the natives are nightly serenaded by the prairie orchestra which consists of no less than three or four dozen wolves, whose howls, barks, and whines make one think a band of Indians are about to take him captive.

The Mount Hope literary is progressing finely. Everybody seems to enjoy themselves.

Mr. Erickson's new windmill looms up in the distance.

Finley Hale has completed his residence. It presents a fine appearance. The question is, is he going it alone as in former days?

Mr. Orchard, who bought the Mead farm, is fencing a good pasture.

PLYMOUTH ROCK.

As news from this part of the county does not often appear, perhaps some would like to know where P. R. is. If so let them ask the people around here and find out.

The farmers are all husking corn and feel sorry it is so low, but glad that they have plenty.

The U. B. minister sent to the circuit has not made his appearance yet, so folks have been disappointed.

Prayer meeting every Sunday at school house, and singing Friday nights by Prof. Walker.

We anticipate lots of fun, and more of singing.

Spelling match Monday night, December 1, when the school was spelled down by Clarence Wilson. The house was full but all seemed to enjoy the spelling when the "trapper" would first be up, then down, and scratch his head, and finally go down on "pomegranate," and Mr. Grice go up on the same word.

Surprise parties are quite frequent. One at Mr. Pitney's and one at Charles Cather's the same night. All had lots of fun, and every Josephus had his Jularkus and was happy for a time at least.

Look out for orange blossoms before Christmas, for Cupid's darts fly thick and fast and usually leave a Payne or two.
