"As to the success of your medicine, this I know, whereof the results are, I was weak, lame, and sore—shoulder to neck and down back, so I turned down so upon the floor, and my wife went in tossing and tossing about a sleepless bed, whose days were banished by the unwelcome reverses or blighted by blasting hopelessness. I say whereof that was the case then. Now after the use of your Good Samaritan remedy, I feel myself a MAN—erect, strong, weight 185 lbs., sizzle so good that I venture to this store and to sit out of doors. In spite of all this fine talk and unbecomingness, I write I might be able to benefit by of my deluded young men by recommending your remedy."
The original letter from which the above is an extract, and several hundred others expressing similar opinions in equally strong terms, are on file, and will be shown to any one calling at our offices who shows that his interest in the matter arises purely from a desire to guard against imposition.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 2, 1885.

There has been a superabundance of rain the past week, and while the weather north was below zero it was very mild in the south. Old residents say it has been the wettest spell this winter seen here for many years. It cleared up fair and cool yesterday with a light freeze.

New Year was ushered in with the usual noise and good cheer incident on such occasions. In this city it was observed mostly by the Creole population. However many other citizens celebrated the advent of the new year by receiving callers, with wine, cake and other refreshments with that peculiar warm and southern hospitality. At the exposition grounds quite a musical entertainment was given by the official band on New Year's eve. The old year was rung out, while 1885 was welcomed in by the chimes in the tower of Main building through Pat Widdows. The incandescent electric lights in music hall were turned on in full force, which presented a very cheerful appearance. Nearly all the school teachers have left after a most agreeable visit here. Numbers promptly tearing their note books filled with notes and ideas for future reference. Many thoughts were recalled during their brief sojourn in the city and at the World's Fair to which they will often refer with pleasure, profit and pride.

The car drivers' strike which occurred last Saturday, greatly annoyed the public, as it was difficult for the crowd at the exposition to reach the city. It lasted for three days, when difficulties were adjusted. This is the second strike within two months, but is not likely to occur again.

While the attendance at the Exposition is not excessively large, it increases daily, and the railroads centering here are already adding extra cars. Their agents tell us they will put on extra trains in a few days. Several passenger steamboats are fitting out to accommodate the public by river travel.

One point of great importance to those who will attend the Exposition is to get information respecting board and lodging, consequently your correspondent called upon Messrs. Wolf & Morelion, 23 Carondelet St., New Orleans, who make a specialty of furnishing accommodation for from one to one thousand visitors, and was told that comfortable and agreeable quarters could be had for $1.50 and $2.50 a day.

Another feature to be inaugurated during the season is that of frequent excursions by rail or water up and down the Mississippi, to the beautiful lakes and gulfs, even to Mexico, Central America, or Cuba at trifling cost.

Your correspondent celebrated New Year on the Exposition grounds, visiting departments not yet mentioned in these letters. It would require a whole volume in this paper to properly inform your readers of even the smallest of the dozen separate places of interest outside of the Government and Main buildings, which are in themselves each a little world.

Work continues on the extensive machinery sheds connected parallel west from main building. While they are in course of completion, machinery such as cotton gins, compressors, and hundreds of other kinds, is being placed in position so that when the building is finished the machinery can be started up immediately, which will require a week or two.

A visit to the live stock stables is well worth the attention of all. Illinois seems to be ahead in point of numbers at this writing. Indiana, Kentucky, Iowa, Wisconsin and Michigan show fine stock but not now located in quantity. The horses are Cydesdale, Norman, Percheron, interspersed with a few Shetland ponies for contrast. Some thoroughbred race horses are arriving. There are a dozen fine Jacks and Jennets to be seen. The cattle are mostly fat beef, exhibiting a blooded class of Galloway, Jersey and Hereford. But few hogs are yet shown among them, we noted Chester, Jersey, Suffolk, Essex and Berkshire. Some sheep appear to good advantage. A lot of dismembered deer with horns are pretty and affectionate. There are six large stables, only two of which are filled.

Adjoining the stock department and near the Government building an oblong race track now been graded. It will be in readiness for driving soon as the ground dries. An electric light house stands in the middle of the circuit.

One of the most attractive publications for general distribution yet got out concerning the World's Exposition is a Tourist Visitors Guide issued by Thos. Pehlmann, of New Orleans. This contains an accurate map of the city showing Exposition grounds, lines of street railways, points of interest, &c., also illustrations of the different Exposition buildings, with a birds eye view of buildings and grounds. Full information upon all points necessary for the visitor. It is a valuable little book in every line. Mr. P. sends it post paid on receipt of 14 cents in stamps.

In the corner of the Main building large storage rooms for fruit and liquor are under way for preservation of their delicacies. A cider mill is in operation where all the fruit or cider which begins to decay, is worked and made into cider. Thus here in mid winter you will find the novel operation only seen elsewhere in mid-summer.

The Steamer Kate Kearney has just returned from Central America loaded down with tropical plants and flowers where she was sent in charge of Commissioner Lever to collect specimens for the Exposition.

Mrs. Geo. McChesney, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, who was visiting here, was called home by the illness of her husband, and when found was so nearly exhausted she died. Alternation of the mind was the cause.

J. A. H.

We remember some time ago of reading about a mill in which was posted up a notice as follows: "Don't monkey with the buzz saw when in motion." We were reminded of this by a similar sign which appeared at a recent meeting of the Iowa Pool Line Railroads in Chicago. The Pool is composed of the various roads which run from Chicago to Council Bluffs—Chicago & Northwestern, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, and the Wabash. The representatives of one of the roads made charges against Mr. E. St. John, General Passenger agent of the Rock Island, of irregularity in business methods. Mr. St. John was absent at the time and considerable was said in the papers about how the Rock Island was working to beat the pool, but upon his return he at once took up the matter and issued quite a lengthy as well as spicy circular, in which he "goes through" the allegations made against him and the "alligator" very much as a horse was would go through a person who was as fearless as the "Rock Island hokey" is when it was in motion. It is our opinion that the roads making charges against Mr. St. John found their match, and "caught a tartar in the middle," and hereafter when they want to stir him up they will feel like having the service of Pat Crowe to the young man about to marry.—Don't.—Toledo, (Ia.) Chronicle, Nov. 20, 1884.

Sing Oh Sing That Song Again

How can you when you cough at every breath? Why get a trial bottle of Dr. Bigelow's positive cure and you will be surprised. It cures coughs, colds, consumption, whooping cough, and all diseases of the lungs, and it will cost you nothing to test it if you call at C. L. Cottings drug store.

Seek no Further.

It is said that an old philosopher sought an honest man with a lighted lantern and humanity has been searching by the same light of knowledge. It has at length found it in Dr Jones Red Clover Tonic which cures all diseases of the blood, removes pimples and acts promptly upon the liver and urinary organs. Only 50c a bottle to be had of C. L. Cotting.

THE insane dodge in matrimony is becoming so very common that no one may be expected any minute that a bright lawyer will spring up and declare that Eve was laboring under some emotional insanity when she ate the apple, but no one would notice such an accusation against a lady.—DeLand's Chemical Baking Powder.

Good Resolutions for 1885.

That you will not let the winter weather run off your stock.

That you will make a garden when young America wants a school book.

That you won't leave the plows and harrows and farm implements in the fence where you last used them, to be handy for use in putting out your next crop.

That you will straightway buy your wife a clothes wringer a new and such other washing apparel to make her comfortable.

That you will smoke less cigars chew less tobacco, drink no intoxicating liquors and stay at home and read some good newspapers during the long winter evenings.

That you will not move the stable or allow the rains to haul out your manure, but will haul it on the field.

That you will put a chicken proof fence around the garden and a rabbit tight fence around your young orchard as soon as the weather will permit.

That you won't allow an animal to suffer for want of plenty of good food and water.

That you will keep your swine pens clean and well supplied with clear fresh water and plenty of good healthy food.

That you wont think it a sin to have children ask questions concerning business transactions.

That you will buy more and borrow less and pay cash for what you buy. If you must sell corn at 15cts per bushel and time pay no "thanks" or five per cent interest.

That you wont grumble or borrow trouble but always look on the bright side.

That you will not buy property until first be sure the title is perfect.

That you will support the gospel, the minister, the sabbath school, and all religious institutions.

Finally, that you will not swear at the make up of your county news paper (that you haven't paid a penny on for three years) 329 days out of the year and don't the editor the other thirty six days, but pay all dues and at once subscribe for half dozen other good agricultural news papers and be posted on the issues of the day.
