THIS week the Red Cloud carriage works have finished a fine double carriage, which for fine workmanship can not be discounted west of New York.

THE spring delivery of fruit, shade and ornamental trees and shrubs now being made is unprecedentedly large. Nebraska is bound to be one of the principal fruit growing states of the Union at no distant day.
DECORATION Day will soon be here and we hope the day will be properly observed by the people of the entire county.

GARFIELD Post No. 80 G. A. R. desires the different churches to hold Memorial services on Sunday previous to Memorial day, and would prefer a union service if arrangements can be made at which the Post will attend in a body.
In our report of the Odd-fellows' celebration last week we failed to mention the fact that the choir entertained the audience with several beautiful selections, all of which were duly appreciated by the brethren and spectators present.

WHILE at the village of Wells our reporter met Dr. L. N. Wells, of Wheatland, who located there about one year ago. The doctor is doing a fine business at Wheatland in the line of his profession. He has built a fine house since his arrival there and improved the property in a splendid style.

STRAY SHOTS.

C. WIENER was in Hastings last Tuesday.
J. N. RICKARDS was in Crete and Omaha this week.
The board of county commissioners met Wednesday.

A. A. POPE has built on an addition to his residence.
MR. HOWE, of Cowles was in Red Cloud this week.
C. W. SPRINGER is building an addition to his house.

W. M. WALLACE, of Iowa, is the guest of J. SAUM this week.
D. H. FERMAN, of Crete, brother of J. H. Ferman, is in the city.
MR. WM WRIGHT made this office a pleasant call on Monday.

C. L. COTTING is renovating his store and treating it to a coat of paint.
H. B. SIMONS has returned from the east, glad to get back to Nebraska.
F. M. DICKERSON has been making some improvements on his residence.

J. H. FERMAN has been selected as census taker for Red Cloud precinct.
REV. McMEKIN was in Minden during the last part of last week attending the Presbytery.
REV. GEO H BROWN will preach in Guide Rock next Sunday, both morning and evening.

J. C. BIRNEY, of Crete, father of M. Birney, of this city, was in Red Cloud the first of this week.
FARMERS are doing an immense amount of fencing just now, as will be seen by the large sales of barb wire.

HOSFORD & YOUNG bought two fine thoroughbred Plymouth Rock chickens from an Illinois firm the other day.
C. H. RUST, of Catherton, is the happy father of a bouncing baby boy. It is C. H.'s first and he is therefore happy.

MR. GRIM, of Catherton, has purchased the lots north of the M. E. Church, and will build a dwelling in a few days.
We would respectfully call the attention of stock raisers to the advertisement of Mr. Decker in another column of today's paper.

GEO B GATES, the new livery stable man, is now running in full blast. THE CHIEF hopes he will be successful and receive a good patronage.
T. B. HANNA has the frame to his dwelling up, and a few days more will have it under cover. It will be a handsome residence when completed.

FISHING is all the go just now, and any time that one may go down to the river he can find the small boy, the large boy, and even the old man and the girls, all fishing.
A FEW days since John Parkes received a handsome quilt from his aged mother at McCook. The quilt was a birthday present, John having passed the first half century of his life.

JUDGE DELL STUART, of the 7th Judicial (Iowa) District, and T. M. Stuart, a distinguished attorney of Iowa, were in the city last Saturday, calling on our friend L. H. Wallace, the jeweler.
MARRIED by the Rev. Geo. Yeiser at Red Cloud Nebraska, on the third day of May 1885, Mr. Anson Courie, of Jewell County, Kansas, and Miss Annie Underwood of Red Cloud, Nebraska.

THE other day Arthur Saum sold his fine yearling thoroughbred colt "Colonel" to Ex-Gov. Garber for $150. This is probably one of the finest colts in the county. It will make a fine horse, and has a splendid record. It was bred by J. Saum, of Red Cloud.
MR. C. W. MARVIN left this city on Tuesday evening to take charge of the B. & M. Railway station at Oxford as agent. Mr. Marvin is an affable thorough business gentleman, and his hosts of friends along the line heartily wish him success in his new position.

LAST of letters remaining uncalled for at the post office in Red Cloud for the week ending May 4, 1885: Miss Anna Andrews, Wm Bartlett, Mrs L M Foster, Aaron Howater, G N Hunter, Charles J Hopp, Wm Lavery, Mrs O McCowan, J C Martin, David L Noble, Charles F Welch, Samuel Worst, Mr and Mrs J F Wheelock. These letters will be sent to the dead letter office June 1, 1885, if not called for before.
A TRAMP was in town one day last week and filled up considerably on tangle foot, at least he became so tired that he found it necessary to camp somewhere, and finally struck A. S. Marsh's barn, where he was kindly permitted to sleep over night. During the evening Mr. Marsh went to the barn to attend to the chores and throw out his coat and forgot it. When he went to the barn in the morning the coat and tramp had both suddenly left. The fellow was arrested and later on the coat was recovered.

AL GALUSHA, who has been clerking in Seward for several years past, left Monday for Red Cloud, where he goes to work for C. Wiener. Mr. Galusha has been one of the most popular and reliable salesmen in Seward, and the Red Cloud firm is fortunate in securing his services. The people of Red Cloud and Webster county will find him to be one of the squareest men they ever had dealings with. We are sorry to see him leave Seward, and join his many friends in wishing him success in his new home.

It has been decided by the commissioners to hold a special election the 9th of June for the purpose of voting bonds to build bridges across the streams of the county. This should carry by all means and have the expense of building and rebuilding wooden bridges stopped.

NEARLY a full line of school books for the surrounding districts were received at Henry Cook's this week.
C. F. CATHER, the new abstract man is thoroughly overhauling the abstract books and records and putting them upon a first class basis. He means business and will soon have the office in good shape. C. F. is one of the staunch citizens of Webster county and THE CHIEF wishes him success.

HEADQUARTERS for all kinds of stylish hats and bonnets at Mrs McBride's the leading milliner.
TAKEN IN—During last Saturday Sheriff Warren and Deputy Ball were on the lookout for a maverick going westward who was wanted by a game county man for towing off a fine colt from that county. The fellow it appears had been trying to sell the colt, and even offered it to one of our livery stable men just previous to being stopped by the sheriff. When asked how he came to have the colt he remarked, by right of possession, but finally settled with the game county man and turned over the colt and a good horse to settle the matter and keep from being sent over the road, the game county man agreeing not to get out a warrant for his arrest. It would be well for such fellows to look a "leedle oude" in running off to hokes belonging to other parties.

DRAMATIC—On last Thursday evening the Red Cloud Historic Association of this city made their first appearance on the stage at the rink in the well known drama, entitled "Among the Breakers". The play is a splendid theatrical production and the participants done well taking into consideration the brief space of time in which they practised. Mr. Geo M Young, as David Murray did his part well. Tom Ferris, did the Irish part of Larry Divine in a manner that plainly showed that he was familiar with the brogue of the Ouid Country. The Hon Bruce Hunter in the person of Frank R Gump placed the Judge in the front ranks of footlights, while C. B. Hosford as Clarence Hunter, did his part well. Jim Hubbell did the heavy work as reporter and was applauded by the audience. Anson Hig by made an excellent stud. The part of Miss Minnie Daze was taken by Miss J J Ferris, while Miss Sadie Becker played the role of Bess Starbright. Miss Clara Becker was a veritable Mother Carey and May Higby a Biddy Bean to perfection. The entertainment netted a neat sum to the church the gross proceeds being about $55.

NOTICE.

A number of our ladies went to Superior last Thursday to organize a W. C. T. U. in that place.
Rev. Fulkerson of the M. E. church being called away by sickness over Sunday, his place was ably filled by A. L. Blackwell.

James and Lovitt have just completed a barn 24 by 30 feet.
There will be a grand ball at Talbot's hall, the evening of May 8 to which all are invited.

Decorations day is to be observed here, this is as it should be all honor to the memory of the "Brave boys in blue."
P. S. McQuire is building a house west of the M. E. church.

Messrs Hagan & Lopenan of the Guide Rock and Red Cloud nurseries have a splendid stock of fruit and forest trees, shrubs, small fruits and every thing that can be found in a first class nursery. They thoroughly understand the business and it will be well for people to patronize home industries where they can be sure of getting what they want.

The assessor has put in an appearance to inquire after our wealth, so when we come to pay our rent next spring the county treasurer will know just what we owe.
D. S. Heiverna has returned from Arkansas, sick with "Arkansas" fever. Not seriously ill, but so much so that he offers to sell Maple Grove farm at a bargain.

Ridge Leggett has 20 acres of ground listed and planted.
A great deal of corn will be planted next week. Most of the corn will be put in with listers. Spring wheat and oats are looking well. Fall wheat is not a bit in hand.

T. C. HACKER.
Maryville - BEST - Flour!
THE GROCER.

Get Your Specks

Ladies, children's, and men's dry goods and notions, shoes and furnish ing goods, hats, caps, and straw goods are cheaper than ever before known. Carpets are cheap. I am selling them at smaller profits than ever. I want your trade, and will try to make it to your interest to come and see me and get prices. Have a complete stock of groceries and wooden ware at lower prices than ever. I want your eggs and butter.

A. S. MARSH.

EAST WEBSTER
Corn planting is the order.
Oats and Spring wheat are looking fine.
Mary McIntosh is teaching school at District 17. The patrons did well to secure her services.

GUIDE BOOK
A number of our ladies went to Superior last Thursday to organize a W. C. T. U. in that place.
Rev. Fulkerson of the M. E. church being called away by sickness over Sunday, his place was ably filled by A. L. Blackwell.

SOUTH SIDE
The assessor has put in an appearance to inquire after our wealth, so when we come to pay our rent next spring the county treasurer will know just what we owe.
D. S. Heiverna has returned from Arkansas, sick with "Arkansas" fever. Not seriously ill, but so much so that he offers to sell Maple Grove farm at a bargain.

PLEASANT HILL
Fine weather we are having.
The clerk of the room planter can be heard in our midst.
The ground is in fine shape and the prospects for all kinds of crops are good, the spring has been late.

SCOTT
Lots of wire fence this spring.
While J. W. Jones was stretching the wire for his new pasture his horse became choked, and while trying to relieve him it fell upon him and injured him severely. He is recovering under the care of Dr. Stapleford.

THE CHIEF wishes the doctor success and prosperity.
MR. PETER CONOVER, lately from New Jersey, has settled down as one of our solid citizens, as will be seen by our advertising columns this week. He has opened up a first-class flour and feed store in Roby's old stand, and proposes by fair dealing and low prices to merit the patronage of the people. THE CHIEF can fully recommend Mr. Conover to its many readers.

On last Friday, if a person had been carefully watching, they might have observed a party of three men very quietly leaving the city for the river on a fishing excursion. The mill was reached in due time and after some four hours angling after the festive cat with the usual luck, quietly retraced their steps to the city, vowing that fifteen cents worth of beefsteak was good enough for them.
Our young attorney, John O. Yeiser went to a temperance lecture the other evening and the room being quite warm that limb of the law was carried off into a troubled sleep (as we inferred it was from the various gymnical operations during the somewhat interval) and as the contribution box was passed around he imagined he had taken a sleeper, and that the conductor was calling for tickets, he therefore placed in the box the regular fare from Riverton to Red Cloud and quietly sank back to repose requesting at the time to be awakened at the next station—Beverly River, Nebraska.
