

T. C. HACKER.

Marysville - BEST - Flour!

THE GROCER.

Chief Premiums.

A Silver Watch, A Castor, and A Set of Silver Forks for only $1.50.

THE CHIEF contemplates making some necessary improvements in the office and furniture soon, and proposes putting in a power press at an early date and therefore we want our friends who owe us to come forward with the money so that we may be able to make these improvements soon. Our circulation is rapidly increasing and we feel the necessity of having a faster press and better facilities for work with, and need all that is due us. In order to induce all to be prompt we have decided to give away a fine silver watch, a fine castor and a nice set of silver table forks, as a premium to our subscribers both new and old who pay up arrears and one year in advance. We will give each a receipt numbered and a corresponding number will be placed in a box which will be drawn January 1st 1886. The awards to be made by three disinterested parties. This will be your chance to draw one of the three prizes. Come right along with your subscriptions. The whole business will be honestly conducted and every one will have an equal chance to secure the premiums.

PAY DAY

Don't forget that June 20 is pay day in the Red Cloud Homestead, Building and Loan Association. All parties who have subscribed to the capital stock of the association will call on C. B. Chrono Assistant Secretary after the 13th and receive their stock certificates which will be ready after that date. The secretary's office will be one door north of THE CHIEF office, with Mr. Cator. Don't forget the date.

THE RED CLOUD CHIEF

A. C. HOSMER, Proprietor

FRIDAY, JUNE 12, 1885.

CITY NEWS.

CIGARS at the post-office. Mrs. Birney goes east about the 18th. Straw hats at C. Wiener's Golden Eagle. Sam Garber has returned from New Mexico. SEVERAL correspondences crowded out this week. FOUR children were slightly poisoned by cheese, this week. MR. GRIM is getting his new house on Edward street nearly completed. SOME one stole some young pigs from P. Barkley the other day. Mr. B. will be glad to have them returned. MARRIED, by Rev. Geo. O. Yeiser, at Red Cloud, June 8, 1885, Mr. George W. Smelser to Miss Maggie E. House, all of Webster county. IF the people have any complaints to make against the railroads they will soon have a chance to present them to the commissioners. RAILWAY COMMISSIONER BUSCHOW left Monday for Lincoln, to be present at the organization of the board of railway commissioners in that city. MISS MATTIE HACKER, while opening a glass jar on Saturday, had the misfortune to severely cut two of her fingers, through the breaking of the jar. AN interesting program has been prepared for the Children's Day at the M. E. Church, next Sabbath, commencing at 11 a. m. Concert by Sabbath school in the evening. MR. BENT KALEY, of Carey, O., is in the city the guest of Kaley Bros, and "barrin" the fear of the Indians, which will soon wear away, is delighted with the beauties of Nebraska. MICHAEL WALTERS, an old resident of Red Cloud, departed this life May 9, at Burr Oak, after a few days illness, of heart disease, aged 54 years, six months and eight days. He had lived in the county ten years. GARFIELD POST, G. A. R., adjourned its meeting of June 8, to re-open on Monday night, June 15, for the transaction of important business. All the members are requested to be on hand. W. B. ROBY, P. C. THE assessor's returns for the year 1885, show the total valuation of real and personal property in Red Cloud precinct to be $688,860 exclusive of railroad property not yet reported for 1885. The railroad property as valued in '84 was $37,100 which, added to the above would make the valuation of all taxable property in Red Cloud precinct $725,960. A pretty good showing. On Tuesday night four tramps stole a ride on the B. & M. in a car load of ties on No. 75, which came very near being the last earthly ride to at least one of the vagrant quartet. While the train was being switched in the Red Cloud yard, the ties became loosened and slid together, shaking up the "bums" in a promiscuous manner and severely jamming the head of one of their number between two ties, nearly severing the tie that binds him to this mundane sphere. He was probably provided with a tie pass, but like many others of his ilk, got a head put on him for not complying with the rules of the road.

IMPORTANT POINTS.

Let us have a railroad. Mrs. Mizer went to Ohio on last Thursday. E. V. BUDROW was on our streets this week. A COLD wave visited this country this week. M. W. DICKERSON was in Denver this week. EDWARD W. HIGHTON's new advertisement. John Parker is now running Parker's shoe emporium alone. Tax commissioners are in session as a board of equalization. GUS LAUTERBACH is building a wash room to his restaurant. O. F. HACK, of Iowa, is the guest of his sister Mrs. W. D. Forrester. NOAH PERREY received $1000 in pensions a few days since, from Uncle Sam. THE fair grounds are now being put in condition for the fair and the race track graded. SEVERAL capitalists were in the city this week looking up locations for speculations. MR. Wm. Parker and wife left last Monday for Utah, where they will be gone for three months. The subject of lectures at the Presbyterian church next Sunday evening will be "Nebuchadnezzar." THE regular meeting of the Agricultural Society will be on Saturday, June 27, at 10 o'clock in the evening. WARREN'S OFFICE. Mrs. W. B. BLACK and two children, from Ohio, and Mrs. Betty Kelly, are the guests of C. W. and J. L. Kaley, this week. MR. L. P. BRAWNER, of Fairfield, father of Mrs. C. B. Leifert, is in the city. Mrs. Leifert will return home with him. KNIGHTS, attention! There will be a regular convention of Calanthe Lodge, K. P., next Tuesday evening. Work the first part of the evening. The boys found a skeleton of a man west of town Wednesday. Some of the parts were wet and together as if it had belonged to some doctor. The new sidewalk to the depot is being rapidly completed. This is one of the most needed improvements in the city and will be a great convenience. We are indebted to Mrs. L. E. Rust for a box of Hudson strawberries, raised by our friend, L. Rust, the veteran horticulturist of Red Cloud many thanks. The democratic paper has been located and will be launched into the "newspaper world" from Mrs. Fowler's building, opposite the Chicago Lumber Yard, this week. LOST—A gossamer, at the Queen Esther entertainment, with Alice Hall, Fairmount City, marked on the neck of gossamer. (Finder will please leave the same at this office.) SOME one told a CHIEF reporter that there was an election last Tuesday. We hope it won't get noised around and spoil the prospect for winning the river. MR. M. W. DICKERSON received intelligence on Thursday morning of the death of his father, who lived in Iowa. In her 8th derivation Mrs. Dickerson has the sympathy of her many friends. ONE of the latest residences in the city is that of Mr. C. B. Crono, a fine green, designed and built by Carpenter Ochsborne, of this city. The rooms are all large and neatly arranged, with plenty of light and every modern improvement possible. Good, substantial residences are what are needed. THE interesting exercises at the Baptist church Sunday evening, were assisted by a favored band of music. It was closed by the society. The house was decorated with flowers and evergreens, and a program prepared especially for the occasion. Singing, responsive readings and recitations were all excellent. Good collection. B. W. SHELLEY and son, who have been visiting in Iowa this week, returned home this week by overland route. Just before they left Iowa they came in contact with a cyclone which upset their wagon and scattered their goods far and wide. Fortunately they were not in the wagon at the time, for would, in all probability, have been severely injured. On last Tuesday the bride and groom and six celebrated the tenth anniversary of their marriage in the presence of a large number of guests. The occasion was one that will be remembered by all present as a very enjoyable affair. At a proper season refreshments were duly served and as promptly dispensed with by the guests, after which the bride and groom were married again performed. The numerous gifts were then presented to the happy couple by the Rev. Geo. W. Hummel. THE CHIEF extends its best wishes to the happy couple for a continuation of the many blessings which have fallen upon them in times past.

STRAY SHOTS.

STATIONARY at the post-office. B. F. WATERMAN has returned from the west. AS MARSH has the addition to his house completed. WM GATES is making some improvements on his residence. THE heated term is upon us and 'biled shirts' are in order. FINE cigars at the post-office news depot and stationery store. THE carpenters are all busy in Red Cloud, building new houses. NOAH PERREY will build a new house south of Geo. Able's we understand. MR. POND slings the cleaver for Will Mosher's best market in elegant style. J. O. CHAMBERLIN got a rib broken the other day by a kick from a horse. A NEW bank has just been organized at Blue Hill, with C. L. Pope, cashier. WE notice that Mr. Brakefield has his fine new residence about finished. GEO. B. GATES, our new livery man, wears a sore hand from a scratch received. MR. HAKNA and C. B. Crono have their new and elegant residences about completed. THE festival at the Congregational church last Friday night was a complete success.

THE TOTAL VOTE OF THE COUNTY LAST TUESDAY, WAS AS FOLLOWS:

For county bonds.....	419
Against bonds.....	128
Majority against bonds.....	291
For precinct bonds.....	271
Against.....	65
Red Cloud-For bonds.....	271
Against.....	65
Line-For bonds.....	29
Against.....	27
Garfield-For bonds.....	27
Against.....	15

D. B. SPANGLER of Red Cloud, of our firm of Spangler & Rinker, was in town the first of the week on business connected with the firm's branch establishment at Oberlin. Mr. S. went down to Oberlin with some machinery, Monday. A number of loads preceded him and more are following. These gentlemen report a flourishing business in implements, and the demand is increasing, hence the Oberlin branch. McCook Tribune.

LATEST BRIDGE NEWS.—"We shall meet beyond the river." But the question is "How shall we get there?" "All quiet" on the Republican, is news from the seat of war.

The bonds, "Oh! where are they?" A cold wave visited this county last Tuesday, and the bridge bonds came in contact with an ice corge.

"Ruined under," is what is said of the bridge bonds.

LOST—At the court house last Tuesday night one bridge bond, due in twenty years, bearing interest at 6 per cent per annum, payable when the mists shall have rolled away. A liberal reward will be paid for the return of the same to Dennis' high water pants factory.

THE Nebraska and Kansas Farm Loan Company is now in good shape to loan money to farmers of Nebraska and Kansas. R. V. Shirey the secretary and treasurer having made excellent arrangements while in the east to get all the money that will be wanted in the Valley for farm loan purposes. The eastern people are gaining confidence in western firms and now readily take hold of any enterprising institution that is founded on a solid basis, as is The Nebraska and Kansas Farm Loan Company. The company proposes to do a first-class banking business and will be glad to see all who want to secure loans. This is bound to be one of the flourishing institutions of Red Cloud. Success to it.

REPORT of Batin school in District No. 22, for month ending June 5, 1885. The pupils whose average standings were 95 and upwards on the scale of one hundred, are May Widdersheim, Ophelia Williams, Joe Widdersheim, Freddie Knutson, Andrew Knutson, Oat Widdersheim, George Widdersheim, Freddie Williams and Anna Knutson. Those who have not been absent a day are Joe and George Widdersheim. Addie F. Hayer, Teacher.

FROM CHINA.

FROM CHINA. (From our own correspondents.) Peking, China, March 23, 1885. Dear Editor and Friends:—Perhaps it may be of interest to this side, and to know that we are still in the enjoyment of peace, that the Franco Chinese war has not yet ended, as here in the north we have thus far been confined to the southern border, where they have been fighting in the open ports. Thus far it has been quite evident that the French and has rendered it self-evident that with their present forces they are unable to gain entrance to China, much less force her to accept any of her propositions. The power of China is in her numbers as well as in her advanced position for defense, and not in skilled soldiery. Whilst we are free from the immediate ills of the war, we can but feel the unsettled condition of things which exists to a certain extent throughout the country. No one has yet been able to tell just where it will end. It is clearly to be seen that China is preparing for her defence, already having great armies around the north and heavy forts at the mouth of the Pei-ho will prevent the enemy gaining access to the river which would endanger the seat of government. If it were possible I would like to give you some idea in regard to a Chinese soldier and then you may imagine what a tremendous army they make. Whilst these things are going on and the sentiment of freedom moves a people to sustain the right. In the death roll the historian preserves their names—honored names—for the general public but comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic, fathers, mothers, wives, children, sisters, brothers, who you suffered in the sacrifice, memory more vividly keeps the page, for to you death meant more than a seal to principle. It meant self denial and hardship; it meant empty chairs and sorrowing hearts; it meant lonely hours, not for a day, but five, ten, twenty years; but it meant a seal of love to country that can only be broken when earth's course is run and the godly greet the new heavens and the new earth. Sacrifice will live when other words and works are forgotten. And now we turn from the white road to the extended sympathy where the world of sorrow wrung from the heart of a wife or mother who grieved the treasure. I have stood on the field of strife, amid the groans of the dying and the imploring cries of the suffering, and thought of the lonely homes and hearts, the wails and tears of anguish when the record of the day's doings should be made up and the column should be read under this title, "List of the Killed," in any mountain cottage, valley home or city mansion. But sacrifice was not all on the side of loyalty. Our misguided citizens of the south made heroic sacrifices, and southern homes like northern homes were shrouded in the gloom of the deepest sorrow, because of the loss of loved ones that should no more return. I will mention a sad incident at the battle of Franklin in Tennessee. It was my lot to be in command of the skirmish line, both before and after the battle. Among the general officers killed in the front of my command was Brigadier General Adams. I did what I could for him till death relieved him from suffering, and then I secured his personal effects, among which I found a letter of recent date from his wife and served to cast a gloom over the minds of all who knew him, and for the last quarter of a century he has lived to enjoy the honors of nations and subjects as reward to him for his honor and bravery during his prison life in this same city. Those who are familiar with English history can recall to mind Lord Egmont's second Embassy to China in 1860 in which it was necessary for him to bring China to terms by the active measures of war, and after capturing of Taku forts made his way to Tientsin and finally to Peking. It was during their march to this city that the treachery of the Chinese were manifested and under a flag of truce they captured some dozen prisoners, one of the two survivors was the illustrious Sir Harry Parkes, and just how a man could endure such brutal and cruel torture from the hands of the Chinese as he did and yet maintain his courage is a question that but two have been able to answer. It will be quite enough to tell you that they were after having their hands lashed behind their backs, thrown into two wheeled carts which were driven at full speed over a rough road for twelve miles when they were brought to the Hall of punishment here in this city where they one after another perished in agony. Parkes being the only one refused any conciliation in his own favor other than that offered to his fellow prisoners, but finally the British Minister released by a Mandarin just two hours before their death sentence came from the Emperor, and they by that time had been gladly welcomed into their comrades quarters, who by the 23 days that had elapsed since their capture had succeeded in taking possession of the emperors summer palace. Soon negotiations were entered into the treaty signed, and the British Parks appointed as England's Minister to this place where he discharged his duty to the entire satisfaction of all who knew him. Thus ended the life of a great and glorious man. Yours respectfully, L. D. DENNER.

THE NAVAL CADERSHIP, SECOND DISTRICT.

Congressman Laird has concluded to throw the appointment of a naval cadet from the Second congressional district open to competitive examination. He desires all candidates of his district to address him personally by letter without delay, and to report in person at Hastings for examination July 14th at noon.

LET THE EAGLE SOAR.

It is now time that Red Cloud make some effort to celebrate the 4th, if such is the intention. Only a few days now remain to get the plans made out. Every surrounding town of any note will celebrate, and the Gate City of the Valley should do likewise. Hoop up the eagle, boys!

A NEW BOOK.—"Our Famous Women"

is the name of a grand new book for the ladies. It is superbly illustrated and is a first-class book in every respect, and is an excellent history of the famous women of America, written by twenty of the most distinguished authors. Mr. A. C. Watt is now canvassing for this celebrated book and will call on you in a few days.

STOCK SALE.

I will sell at public sale at my farm about 15 miles southeast of Bismarck and about 12 miles south-west of Red Cloud, 1 mile north of Judson post-office, on half of Buffalo creek, on Thursday, June 23rd, the following stock: About one hundred head of cattle, consisting of cows and heifers. Young stock in general, most of them good grades. One short-horn pedigree bull, one bull, Jersey cow, and one cow. Terms—Trade cash, time given without interest, with approved notes. If not paid when due, ten per cent interest from date of sale. THOMAS EYAL.

THE RED CLOUD CHIEF.

On last Thursday Calanthe Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Red Cloud, was visited by the grand chancellor of the jurisdiction of Nebraska, Mr. J. C. McNaughton, a prominent bank official of Brownville. The order is fast gaining prevalence over the land as one of the most benevolent and flourishing institutions in America, and from close adherence to and teachings of Friendship, Charity and Benevolence has attracted the attention of the masses, and as a consequence large numbers are seeking admission within its mystic vales, and to-day the membership in the United States and Canada alone reaches an aggregate of 300,000, picked from among our best citizens, and this, too, from a membership twenty two years ago of only five. In Nebraska there are about 3000 Knights, and it becomes the duty of the grand chancellor to visit each lodge once a year, and hence his visit to Red Cloud. After spending a few social hours with the brethren of Red Cloud Knights tendered the grand chancellor a banquet at Lauterbach's restaurant. It was a very pleasant event and will be remembered by every Knight present, who will be pleased to meet the grand chancellor.

A WORTHY APPOINTMENT.—On last Saturday our worthy and highly esteemed citizen and friend, Charles Buschow, treasurer of Webster county, received word from Lincoln that he had been appointed secretary by Wm. Leese, on the board of railway commissioners for the State of Nebraska, pursuant to a law enacted during the session of the last general assembly, with a salary of two thousand dollars per annum. Mr. Buschow has been treasurer of Webster county for four years and during that time has made one of the most efficient and careful officers in the state, and we believe will be found just the man to fill the position which he has been called upon to fill for the great state of Nebraska, a most important one indeed, both for the people and the corporations with which he and the other commissioners will have to deal largely. THE CHIEF takes a pride in mentioning the fact that the Republican Valley has been recognized as a prominent factor in the future of Nebraska, and believes that on no man could the appointment better have fallen than on County Treasurer Buschow, who will be alive to the interests of the people of the valley and entire state, and having a knowledge of the burdens often placed on the poor man, will use his utmost endeavors to correct them, as far as it lies in his power to do so. THE CHIEF congratulates the good brother over his appointment, and bespeaks for him success and prosperity. During Mr. Buschow's absence with his new duties Mr. Frank Buschow, of Blue Hill, will be acting treasurer, having been deputized for that purpose, and has entered upon the duties of his office. Frank will make a good officer, and his selection was a wise one on the part of the county treasurer.

THE NAVAL CADERSHIP, SECOND DISTRICT.

Congressman Laird has concluded to throw the appointment of a naval cadet from the Second congressional district open to competitive examination. He desires all candidates of his district to address him personally by letter without delay, and to report in person at Hastings for examination July 14th at noon.

LET THE EAGLE SOAR.

It is now time that Red Cloud make some effort to celebrate the 4th, if such is the intention. Only a few days now remain to get the plans made out. Every surrounding town of any note will celebrate, and the Gate City of the Valley should do likewise. Hoop up the eagle, boys!

A NEW BOOK.—"Our Famous Women"

is the name of a grand new book for the ladies. It is superbly illustrated and is a first-class book in every respect, and is an excellent history of the famous women of America, written by twenty of the most distinguished authors. Mr. A. C. Watt is now canvassing for this celebrated book and will call on you in a few days.

STOCK SALE.

I will sell at public sale at my farm about 15 miles southeast of Bismarck and about 12 miles south-west of Red Cloud, 1 mile north of Judson post-office, on half of Buffalo creek, on Thursday, June 23rd, the following stock: About one hundred head of cattle, consisting of cows and heifers. Young stock in general, most of them good grades. One short-horn pedigree bull, one bull, Jersey cow, and one cow. Terms—Trade cash, time given without interest, with approved notes. If not paid when due, ten per cent interest from date of sale. THOMAS EYAL.

MEMORIAL SERVICES COMPLETED.

We held in grateful remembrance those who have arms honorably in the conflict to save our country, but especially now the fallen. Some fell where

FROM CHINA.

FROM CHINA. (From our own correspondents.) Peking, China, March 23, 1885. Dear Editor and Friends:—Perhaps it may be of interest to this side, and to know that we are still in the enjoyment of peace, that the Franco Chinese war has not yet ended, as here in the north we have thus far been confined to the southern border, where they have been fighting in the open ports. Thus far it has been quite evident that the French and has rendered it self-evident that with their present forces they are unable to gain entrance to China, much less force her to accept any of her propositions. The power of China is in her numbers as well as in her advanced position for defense, and not in skilled soldiery. Whilst we are free from the immediate ills of the war, we can but feel the unsettled condition of things which exists to a certain extent throughout the country. No one has yet been able to tell just where it will end. It is clearly to be seen that China is preparing for her defence, already having great armies around the north and heavy forts at the mouth of the Pei-ho will prevent the enemy gaining access to the river which would endanger the seat of government. If it were possible I would like to give you some idea in regard to a Chinese soldier and then you may imagine what a tremendous army they make. Whilst these things are going on and the sentiment of freedom moves a people to sustain the right. In the death roll the historian preserves their names—honored names—for the general public but comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic, fathers, mothers, wives, children, sisters, brothers, who you suffered in the sacrifice, memory more vividly keeps the page, for to you death meant more than a seal to principle. It meant self denial and hardship; it meant empty chairs and sorrowing hearts; it meant lonely hours, not for a day, but five, ten, twenty years; but it meant a seal of love to country that can only be broken when earth's course is run and the godly greet the new heavens and the new earth. Sacrifice will live when other words and works are forgotten. And now we turn from the white road to the extended sympathy where the world of sorrow wrung from the heart of a wife or mother who grieved the treasure. I have stood on the field of strife, amid the groans of the dying and the imploring cries of the suffering, and thought of the lonely homes and hearts, the wails and tears of anguish when the record of the day's doings should be made up and the column should be read under this title, "List of the Killed," in any mountain cottage, valley home or city mansion. But sacrifice was not all on the side of loyalty. Our misguided citizens of the south made heroic sacrifices, and southern homes like northern homes were shrouded in the gloom of the deepest sorrow, because of the loss of loved ones that should no more return. I will mention a sad incident at the battle of Franklin in Tennessee. It was my lot to be in command of the skirmish line, both before and after the battle. Among the general officers killed in the front of my command was Brigadier General Adams. I did what I could for him till death relieved him from suffering, and then I secured his personal effects, among which I found a letter of recent date from his wife and served to cast a gloom over the minds of all who knew him, and for the last quarter of a century he has lived to enjoy the honors of nations and subjects as reward to him for his honor and bravery during his prison life in this same city. Those who are familiar with English history can recall to mind Lord Egmont's second Embassy to China in 1860 in which it was necessary for him to bring China to terms by the active measures of war, and after capturing of Taku forts made his way to Tientsin and finally to Peking. It was during their march to this city that the treachery of the Chinese were manifested and under a flag of truce they captured some dozen prisoners, one of the two survivors was the illustrious Sir Harry Parkes, and just how a man could endure such brutal and cruel torture from the hands of the Chinese as he did and yet maintain his courage is a question that but two have been able to answer. It will be quite enough to tell you that they were after having their hands lashed behind their backs, thrown into two wheeled carts which were driven at full speed over a rough road for twelve miles when they were brought to the Hall of punishment here in this city where they one after another perished in agony. Parkes being the only one refused any conciliation in his own favor other than that offered to his fellow prisoners, but finally the British Minister released by a Mandarin just two hours before their death sentence came from the Emperor, and they by that time had been gladly welcomed into their comrades quarters, who by the 23 days that had elapsed since their capture had succeeded in taking possession of the emperors summer palace. Soon negotiations were entered into the treaty signed, and the British Parks appointed as England's Minister to this place where he discharged his duty to the entire satisfaction of all who knew him. Thus ended the life of a great and glorious man. Yours respectfully, L. D. DENNER.

THE NAVAL CADERSHIP, SECOND DISTRICT.

Congressman Laird has concluded to throw the appointment of a naval cadet from the Second congressional district open to competitive examination. He desires all candidates of his district to address him personally by letter without delay, and to report in person at Hastings for examination July 14th at noon.

LET THE EAGLE SOAR.

It is now time that Red Cloud make some effort to celebrate the 4th, if such is the intention. Only a few days now remain to get the plans made out. Every surrounding town of any note will celebrate, and the Gate City of the Valley should do likewise. Hoop up the eagle, boys!

A NEW BOOK.—"Our Famous Women"

is the name of a grand new book for the ladies. It is superbly illustrated and is a first-class book in every respect, and is an excellent history of the famous women of America, written by twenty of the most distinguished authors. Mr. A. C. Watt is now canvassing for this celebrated book and will call on you in a few days.

STOCK SALE.

I will sell at public sale at my farm about 15 miles southeast of Bismarck and about 12 miles south-west of Red Cloud, 1 mile north of Judson post-office, on half of Buffalo creek, on Thursday, June 23rd, the following stock: About one hundred head of cattle, consisting of cows and heifers. Young stock in general, most of them good grades. One short-horn pedigree bull, one bull, Jersey cow, and one cow. Terms—Trade cash, time given without interest, with approved notes. If not paid when due, ten per cent interest from date of sale. THOMAS EYAL.

THE RED CLOUD CHIEF.

On last Thursday Calanthe Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Red Cloud, was visited by the grand chancellor of the jurisdiction of Nebraska, Mr. J. C. McNaughton, a prominent bank official of Brownville. The order is fast gaining prevalence over the land as one of the most benevolent and flourishing institutions in America, and from close adherence to and teachings of Friendship, Charity and Benevolence has attracted the attention of the masses, and as a consequence large numbers are seeking admission within its mystic vales, and to-day the membership in the United States and Canada alone reaches an aggregate of 300,000, picked from among our best citizens, and this, too, from a membership twenty two years ago of only five. In Nebraska there are about 3000 Knights, and it becomes the duty of the grand chancellor to visit each lodge once a year, and hence his visit to Red Cloud. After spending a few social hours with the brethren of Red Cloud Knights tendered the grand chancellor a banquet at Lauterbach's restaurant. It was a very pleasant event and will be remembered by every Knight present, who will be pleased to meet the grand chancellor.

A WORTHY APPOINTMENT.—On last Saturday our worthy and highly esteemed citizen and friend, Charles Buschow, treasurer of Webster county, received word from Lincoln that he had been appointed secretary by Wm. Leese, on the board of railway commissioners for the State of Nebraska, pursuant to a law enacted during the session of the last general assembly, with a salary of two thousand dollars per annum. Mr. Buschow has been treasurer of Webster county for four years and during that time has made one of the most efficient and careful officers in the state, and we believe will be found just the man to fill the position which he has been called upon to fill for the great state of Nebraska, a most important one indeed, both for the people and the corporations with which he and the other commissioners will have to deal largely. THE CHIEF takes a pride in mentioning the fact that the Republican Valley has been recognized as a prominent factor in the future of Nebraska, and believes that on no man could the appointment better have fallen than on County Treasurer Buschow, who will be alive to the interests of the people of the valley and entire state, and having a knowledge of the burdens often placed on the poor man, will use his utmost endeavors to correct them, as far as it lies in his power to do so. THE CHIEF congratulates the good brother over his appointment, and bespeaks for him success and prosperity. During Mr. Buschow's absence with his new duties Mr. Frank Buschow, of Blue Hill, will be acting treasurer, having been deputized for that purpose, and has entered upon the duties of his office. Frank will make a good officer, and his selection was a wise one on the part of the county treasurer.

THE NAVAL CADERSHIP, SECOND DISTRICT.

Congressman Laird has concluded to throw the appointment of a naval cadet from the Second congressional district open to competitive examination. He desires all candidates of his district to address him personally by letter without delay, and to report in person at Hastings for examination July 14th at noon.

LET THE EAGLE SOAR.

It is now time that Red Cloud make some effort to celebrate the 4th, if such is the intention. Only a few days now remain to get the plans made out. Every surrounding town of any note will celebrate, and the Gate City of the Valley should do likewise. Hoop up the eagle, boys!

A NEW BOOK.—"Our Famous Women"

is the name of a grand new book for the ladies. It is superbly illustrated and is a first-class book in every respect, and is an excellent history of the famous women of America, written by twenty of the most distinguished authors. Mr. A. C. Watt is now canvassing for this celebrated book and will call on you in a few days.

STOCK SALE.

I will sell at public sale at my farm about 15 miles southeast of Bismarck and about 12 miles south-west of Red Cloud, 1 mile north of Judson post-office, on half of Buffalo creek, on Thursday, June 23rd, the following stock: About one hundred head of cattle, consisting of cows and heifers. Young stock in general, most of them good grades. One short-horn pedigree bull, one bull, Jersey cow, and one cow. Terms—Trade cash, time given without interest, with approved notes. If not paid when due, ten per cent interest from date of sale. THOMAS EYAL.

MEMORIAL SERVICES COMPLETED.

We held in grateful remembrance those who have arms honorably in the conflict to save our country, but especially now the fallen. Some fell where

FROM CHINA.

FROM CHINA. (From our own correspondents.) Peking, China, March 23, 1885. Dear Editor and Friends:—Perhaps it may be of interest to this side, and to know that we are still in the enjoyment of peace, that the Franco Chinese war has not yet ended, as here in the north we have thus far been confined to the southern border, where they have been fighting in the open ports. Thus far it has been quite evident that the French and has rendered it self-evident that with their present forces they are unable to gain entrance to China, much less force her to accept any of her propositions. The power of China is in her numbers as well as in her advanced position for defense, and not in skilled soldiery. Whilst we are free from the immediate ills of the war, we can but feel the unsettled condition of things which exists to a certain extent throughout the country. No one has yet been able to tell just where it will end. It is clearly to be seen that China is preparing for her defence, already having great armies around the north and heavy forts at the mouth of the Pei-ho will prevent the enemy gaining access to the river which would endanger the seat of government. If it were possible I would like to give you some idea in regard to a Chinese soldier and then you may imagine what a tremendous army they make. Whilst these things are going on and the sentiment of freedom moves a people to sustain the right. In the death roll the historian preserves their names—honored names—for the general public but comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic, fathers, mothers, wives, children, sisters, brothers, who you suffered in the sacrifice, memory more vividly keeps the page, for to you death meant more than a seal to principle. It meant self denial and hardship; it meant empty chairs and sorrowing hearts; it meant lonely hours, not for a day, but five, ten, twenty years; but it meant a seal of love to country that can only be broken when earth's course is run and the godly greet the new heavens and the new earth. Sacrifice will live when other words and works are forgotten. And now we turn from the white road to the extended sympathy where the world of sorrow wrung from the heart of a wife or mother who grieved the treasure. I have stood on the field of strife, amid the groans of the dying and the imploring cries of the suffering, and thought of the lonely homes and hearts, the wails and tears of anguish when the record of the day's doings should be made up and the column should be read under this title, "List of the Killed," in any mountain cottage, valley home or city mansion. But sacrifice was not all on the side of loyalty. Our misguided citizens of the south made heroic sacrifices, and southern homes like northern homes were shrouded in the gloom of the deepest sorrow, because of the loss of loved ones that should no more return. I will mention a sad incident at the battle of Franklin in Tennessee. It was my lot to be in command of the skirmish line, both before and after the battle. Among the general officers killed in the front of my command was Brigadier General Adams. I did what I could for him till death relieved him from suffering, and then I secured his personal effects, among which I found a letter of recent date from his wife and served to cast a gloom over the minds of all who knew him, and for the last quarter of a century he has lived to enjoy the honors of nations and subjects as reward to him for his honor and bravery during his prison life in this same city. Those who are familiar with English history can recall to mind Lord Egmont's second Embassy to China in 1860 in which it was necessary for him to bring China to terms by the active measures of war, and after capturing of Taku forts made his way to Tientsin and finally to Peking. It was during their march to this city that the treachery of the Chinese were manifested and under a flag of truce they captured some dozen prisoners, one of the two survivors was the illustrious Sir Harry Parkes, and just how a man could endure such brutal and cruel torture from the hands of the Chinese as he did and yet maintain his courage is a question that but two have been able to answer. It will be quite enough to tell you that they were after having their hands lashed behind their backs, thrown into two wheeled carts which were driven at full speed over a rough road for twelve miles when they were brought to the Hall of punishment here in this city where they one after another perished in agony. Parkes being the only one refused any conciliation in his own favor other than that offered to his fellow prisoners, but finally the British Minister released by a Mandarin just two hours before their death sentence came from the Emperor, and they by that time had been gladly welcomed into their comrades quarters, who by the 23 days that had elapsed since their capture had succeeded in taking possession of the emperors summer palace. Soon negotiations were entered into the treaty signed, and the British Parks appointed as England's Minister to this place where he discharged his duty to the entire satisfaction of all who knew him. Thus ended the life of a great and glorious man. Yours respectfully, L. D. DENNER.

THE NAVAL CADERSHIP, SECOND DISTRICT.

Congressman Laird has concluded to throw the appointment of a naval cadet from the Second congressional district open to competitive examination. He desires all candidates of his district to address him personally by letter without delay, and to report in person at Hastings for examination July 14th at noon.

LET THE EAGLE SOAR.

It is now time that Red Cloud make some effort to celebrate the 4th, if such is the intention. Only a few days now remain to get the plans made out. Every surrounding town of any note will celebrate, and the Gate City of the Valley should do likewise. Hoop up the eagle, boys!

A NEW BOOK.—"Our Famous Women"

is the name of a grand new book for the ladies. It is superbly illustrated and is a first-class book in every respect, and is an excellent history of the famous women of America, written by twenty of the most distinguished authors. Mr. A. C. Watt is now canvassing for this celebrated book and will call on you in a few days.

STOCK SALE.

I will sell at public sale at my farm about 15 miles southeast of Bismarck and about 12 miles south-west of Red Cloud, 1 mile north of Judson post-office, on half of Buffalo creek, on Thursday, June 23rd, the following stock: About one hundred head of cattle, consisting of cows and heifers. Young stock in general, most of them good grades. One short-horn pedigree bull, one bull, Jersey cow, and one cow. Terms—Trade cash, time given without interest, with approved notes. If not paid when due, ten per cent interest from date of sale. THOMAS EYAL.

THE RED CLOUD CHIEF.

On last Thursday Calanthe Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Red Cloud, was visited by the grand chancellor of the jurisdiction of Nebraska, Mr. J. C. McNaughton, a prominent bank official of Brownville. The order is fast gaining prevalence over the land as one of the most benevolent and flourishing institutions in America, and from close adherence to and teachings of Friendship, Charity and Benevolence has attracted the attention of the masses, and as a consequence large numbers are seeking admission within its mystic vales, and to-day the membership in the United States and Canada alone reaches an aggregate of