An autopsy was performed on the body of the late Commander Henry A. Gorringe at New York recently. The sixth dorsal vertebra was found to be attacked with soft cancer that had extended to the vertebra above and below and destroyed the spinal cord. In the lungs, liver, kidneys and other organs were found deposits of cancer which the doctors think had begun its growth many months before Mr. Gorringe was compelled to take to his bed.

A. K. Coney, the Mexican Consul at San Juan, in a recent interview on the subject of selling Mexican territory to the United States stated that the published reports on the matter were without significance as the Mexican Administration would not dare, in opposition to the prevailing public sentiment, to project the sale of any portion of Mexican territory. He further stated that there existed a prohibition in the Mexican constitution against the sale or dismemberment of any portion of the Republic.

CHOLERA TALK.

A Concal Tolls Who Are and Who Are Not Liable to Have H-Good Advice at Least. WASHINGTON, July 10.—United States Consul Frank H. Mason, of Marseilles, has sent to the Department a report concerning the cholera in which, after sketching briefly the experiences there during the epidemics since 1854, he says: In its choice of vie-William Wentel, a farmer residing near time, cholers is most precise and definite. the four following classes of persons: THE Valentine post-office has been made | Those who live under bad hygienic condiened and debilitated by alroholic excess; extent of producing lethargy or indigestion, the form of salads and the general use of invasion has reached those points.

THE SUSCEPTIBILITY OF DEUNKARDS to choleraic influences is proven by abundant evidence, among which may be cited the sweeping fatality of the disease whenever it attacked inmates of inebriate asylums. Anything in fact, whether of temporary Six of the Colby gang arrested at Cen- or chronic nature, which impairs the vigor tagion is transmitted by the inhalation of air infected, by clothing, rags, wool, etc., which have been tainted by contact with the disease and by water. Mr. Mason cites the case of a man who fled from Marseilles and was not taken ill until he had unfastened his trunk, taking contagion from the clothing therein. A servant girl went from Marseilles to a village of Omerques and after arriving there washed some of her infected clothes in a creek which supplies the village with water. Not only was the village decimated by cholera as the result, but also the territory below, through which the stream ran, while that above escaped. Mason says the authorities of Marseilles agree that the disease does not transmit itself directly from a cholera patient to a person in good health neither contact or inhalation. The dejections and vomit of the cholera patient usually contain the germ of the contagion which, although not immediately transmissible when placed under favorable conditions, quickly develops contagion. Six venders who were taken into custody this morning were arraigned this afternoon in afternoon editions, bids defiance to the auissues of the paper. It claims the honor vices of the rich, and declares that the best men of England support it in its crusade. The Gazette challenges the courts of London to prosecute it for the work it is engaged in, and says it might subpress half of the legislators of England to prove the accuracy of its revelations. The Gazette continues the work of adding to its revelations. The paper is selling at a great premium and the circulation is enormous. Hev. Mr. Spurgeon publishes a letter in this afternoon's Pall Mail Gazette approving of that ournal's exposures of the secret vices of the aristocrats of London. The letter is remarkable in many respects. The following are some of his expressions: "I feet howed down with shame and indignation, This is a loathsome business, but even the sewers must be cleaned;" "I pray that good may come from this exposure, which incidently must do harm, but whose great drift must restit in lasting benefit; don't think our churches have failed, for they have kept a pure remnant alive in the land;" "I believe that many are unaware of these dunghills reeking under their nospolice, to suppress this infamy;" light in without stint." The President Directs General Sheridan to Go to the Seese of the Indian Trouble and Take Charge - Movement of Tranpa-The Artsone Fight-A Diss preinted Del ceived a dispatch from Governor Martin, of has addressed the following letter to Gen Kansas, as follows: "The Adjutant General Sheridan: "In view of possible diseral sends me word from Larned that he turbance that may occur among the Indiana now in the Indian Territory and the contemplated concentration of troops in that locality, I deem it advisable that you proceed at once to the location where trouble is to be apprehended and advise with and direct those in command as to the steps to be taken to prevent disorder and depredations by the Indians and as to the disposition of the troops. Your acquaintance with the history and habits and customs of these Indians leads me to request that you invite statements on their part as to any real or fancied injury or injustice toward them, or any other causes that may have led to discontent, and to inform yourself as to their condition. You are justified in assuring them that any cause of complaint will be fully examined by the authorities, and if any wrongs exist they shall be remedied. I think I hardly peed say termination on the part of the Government to enforce their peaceful conduct by all the power it has at hand to prevent and punish acts of lawlessness and any outrage cowboys as well as the Indians in order, so upon our settlers." The Indian troubles. that the depopulation of the southwest as looked upon from Washington, are becoming more serious. General Sheridan left here last night for Fort Keno, I. T.

WASHINGTON, July 11,-The President
