

THE RED CLOUD CHIEF

A. C. HOSMER, Proprietor

FRIDAY AUGUST 28, 1885.

A series of sermons now being delivered in the Baptist church of this city by the pastor, Rev Geo. H Brown, are very highly spoken of, and must be productive of much good. The large and appreciative audiences that gather to hear the Reverend gentleman must be very encouraging not only to the pastor, but to the society he represents. The secret of the gentleman's success in gathering together and holding for one steady year such large congregations, has been the subject of much comment. And while the reasons assigned, such as pulpit oratory, original manners of putting truths in different forms, peculiar subjects, great power of illustration, helps to draw the people. The Lord says "He that honoreth Me, I will honor." Rev Brown has, from his first sermon, preached the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, in a plain faithful, fearless manner; his voice has been raised in an earnest Christian remonstrance against the terrible evils of our day, and while some here feared that his plain preaching would not "take," His popularity as a Christian minister and citizen prove that people honor a man that dares to speak the truth as he understands it, even if they do not agree with him. May the time be far distant when Red Cloud has to lose Rev Brown.

A. LISTENER.

There will be services in the German Lutheran church Sunday, at 10 o'clock a.m., there will be German preaching, and the afternoon at 3 o'clock English services.

After using three bottles of it I was entirely cured. I cannot say enough to its praise. I wish every family knew its worth as I do, and I am sure they would never be without it. Mrs. E.
