COWLES.

During the fine weather of the past week farmers have been busy husking corn, some of which has been shelled and brought to this market.

Henry Fowler, one of the pioneers of this part of the county, has, after a few years absence, returned, thoroughly convinced that Nebraska is a good state to live in.

William Waller, of Hamilton county a former resident of Cowles, is here visiting with his relatives and friends, and looking after the interests of his farm near here. Mr. W. is agreeably surprised to see the improvements we have made in the last few months.

Mr. Wm. Gates of Red Cloud, was in our town and vicinity this week, wishing to buy a few cows.

The wild geese are going south in search of a more genial climate.

The sudden change in the weather on Tuesday made a demand for overcoats and mittens.

Families living twenty miles N. E. of Cowles are hauling lumber from here. Although they live near Fairchild and Blue Hill, they say they can save money by hauling from here, owing to the lower prices for the same grades of lumber.

Gifford & Buzick are shipping hogs this week to Kansas City. They paid $2.85 to $3.00.

Peak & Lutz have on hand a supply of parlor stoves, cook stoves, and tinware, cheap for cash.

Fuller & Reed have a full line of fence wire at bottom prices.

The new firm of Livingston & Son are opening up a new industry in Cowles: the manufacture of artificial stone for building purposes, flues, etc. They have some samples on exhibition, made this week, which have the appearance, and are said to be cheaper and more durable than brick.

Last, but not least, is a daughter born to Mr and Mrs Nelson Hurd, Oct 23d.

A Misrepresentation.

On the 26th the mail brought me the enclosed slip, taken from a recent issue of your paper. As an act of courtesy on your part, please do me the favor to tell your readers, that the statements are glaring misrepresentations, and I have reason to believe that your correspondent was aware of that at the time he put his hand to paper. I gave an opportunity for any one to reply or make such remarks as they might choose at the close of the meetings, but no one ventured a word; but your correspondent seemed to think, that distance lends enchantment to the scene, and that a cowardly stab in the back would be real cute. The clipping runs thus:

A Mormon preached in our school house last Sunday morning and evening. He said "Hell had the bottom knocked out of it and was closed for repairs, do as you please boys there is no danger until it has been repaired." It is shame for people to listen to such trash and the fellows that come around preaching it ought to be egged out of the country.

A lady who has been using your medicine, Athlaphoras, for about two weeks, finds herself greatly improved, and thinks it is a most valuable remedy for rheumatism. She says you are all angels for helping her.—Mrs. M. A. Morford, Long Pine, Neb.
