A Trip to Blue Hill

Ed. Chief: On Monday of this week two business gentlemen of Red Cloud and myself went to Blue Hill on business. Arriving there at 10:40 we at once proceeded to attend to our business, and at 12:30 the inner man gave notice that he wished to be attended to, so we proceeded to the City Hotel. There we met the kind and courteous proprietor Mr. H. B. Munson. After making our toilet we were shown to the dining room where we were served with an elegant dinner. Mr. Munson is a hospitable and attentive gentleman who uses every effort to entertain and make his guests feel comfortable and at home. Parties stopping there will find everything in excellent order, and a person who once stays at this house will be sure to call again. The hotel is situated on the main street, and 2 1/2 blocks east of the depot. We bespeak for the City Hotel a liberal share of the public patronage. Also met Aug. Martin, the genial proprietor of one of Blue Hill's substantial meat markets, who is doing a flourishing business.

Loans made with the Nebraska & Kansas Farm Loan Co. can be paid at home.

Mr. Edw. F. WIENER, has been kind enough to translate the following jokes and anagrams for THE CHIEF from the Fliegende Blatter, probably the wittiest paper in the world, and hopes that the reading public may appreciate and laugh over them:

IN THE GREEN ROOM. Dude to Premiere Danseuse: "Are you really made of stone, Ludmilla?" Ludmilla: "Oh, yes! very tough so. My heart is as hard as a diamond, and you know that only one diamond will cut another."

A REPLY. Post (Indignantly): "My dear sir, I will have to give me an explanation of your criticism. It was you, sir, who made my last comedy so miserable."

Critic: "No, most respected sir, it was yourself who did it."

A hollow head pines less than a hollow tooth.

Idea are like violets—when you find one you find many.

Shoddy: "The landscape suits me well enough, but it is a little dead and flat. Couldn't you paint a couple of birds in it? How much would that be?" "Four dollars."

"What four dollars? Why, live ones are cheaper."

Farmer: "What are you painting now?"

Artist: "Oh! nothing."

Farmer: "Have a frame for it?"
