Camp Fire.

Extensive preparations are being made by Garfield Post, No. 80, G. A. R. for their camp fire to be held next week, Wednesday, May 19, in the court house park. Gen. John M. Thayer, Commander of the Department of Nebraska and other prominent speakers from abroad, will be present. The program for the occasion has not as yet been completed, but visiting guests can come with the assurance of being well entertained and having a rousing good time. The Red Cloud veterans are noted for their enthusiastic hospitality. The patriotic fire burns as brightly on the altar of their hearts today as it did in the memorable days of '91-'95. Come to Red Cloud on Wednesday and enjoy the day and evening with them.

An Revolt, Willie.

After dumping a column full of the most sickening slush into the Helmet on Tuesday, Willie King shook the dust of Red Cloud from off his feet, and took his departure with the unanimous consent of the community. In the future, according to his own version, he is to be a "satellite" (whatever that means) in the Omaha Herald print shop. However, if Omaha has any use for it, they can have it. Red Cloud is not stuck on that kind of "satellite" cats. Finally, in reference to Willie's departure we have only to say "good riddance to bad rubbish." Red Cloud's prosperity is now assured.

It is announced that the issue of the second volume of General Grant's Memoirs has been again postponed, the publisher not expecting to get it out before May 10. The book has a hundred more pages than the first volume contained. There are nearly double the number of cuts there were in the former, and there are two steel engravings, one of them, the frontispiece, being a portrait of General Grant from a photograph taken when he was in command of all the armies of Red Cloud delivery about the 20th instant. Kindly request all subscribers to be ready to receive book at that time. WILLIS G. BROWN, Agent.

ROLAND LAYTON, late proprietor of the Central Iowa Guide, as in the city, and will soon commence the publication of another paper here.—Blue Hill Times.

THE CHIEF extends the sympathetic hand. It's no picnic to establish and make a success of a newspaper in a wild western hamlet.
