

The Red Cloud Chief.

A. C. HOSMER, Proprietor.

SOME good reliable attorney should be elected to the office of county attorney. That office will require legal talent and an able lawyer. We have heard of several names mentioned but do not feel at liberty to mention them yet.

CHECKING news comes from all parts of the state that the crops this season are splendid. This makes our "Big Injun" happy, as nearly every state in the Union is suffering from drought, while Nebraska has had plenty of rain to insure good crops.

Tis said the Winner passeth the plug hat. At times it graces the pate of ye senior editor, alternately the junior catches on, and at times the devil is given to wearing it. Poor hat we pity thee for the aching voids thou art obliged to cover.

THE political cauldron has not even begun to get warm in Webster county. There is not a soul that wants office. What a horrible state of affairs this is—to think that there are numerous offices to be filled that have no seekers. Can such things be?

SENATOR VAN WYCK is now engaged in canvassing the state. The old man would be pleased to receive the office of Senator again, but we are very much afraid that his "goose is cooked" and that he will be compelled to settle down among the common herd while some good straight republican fills his senatorial chair.

Another Candidate.

Mr. A. E. Clarence, superintendent of the public schools of Fremont, Nebraska, a highly educated and pleasant gentleman, made The CHIEF office a very pleasant call on Tuesday. Mr. Clarence is a candidate for state superintendent of public instruction and is now engaged in canvassing the state.

He is a gentleman in every way qualified to fill that important position, and The CHIEF would be pleased to see him nominated by the republican party of Nebraska. None but educated men who have the work at heart, should fill the office of state superintendent.

Must Have a Water System.

Red Cloud is the next enterprising city which has come to the conclusion that a good water works system is something to be desired. Accordingly a committee consisting of F. R. Gump and Charles Buschow was appointed to visit Lincoln and other cities for the purpose of selecting a system. The works at Beatrice were visited and yesterday the Red Cloud councilmen were shown through the Lincolns works by Water Commissioner J. L. Lyman, who explained in a satisfactory manner the beauties and possibilities of the system. The visitors were highly pleased with their visit and expressed their intention to copy after the Lincoln enterprise. Red Cloud will shortly begin the laying of mains through five miles of streets, the same to cost $20,000.—State Journal.

To the Electors of Nebraska.

In a country governed by the people for the people, the highest prerogative of the elector is the free and untrammeled choice of the public servants who administer the government. While the national senate represents the sovereignty of the states each senator should be the true representative of the the sovereign people of the commonwealth. This was the aim and object of the framers of our state constitution when they made provision for the expression of the popular choice in the selection of a senator. For ten years this provision of our constitution has been a dead letter.

Although a law framed in conformity with the constitutional privilege was passed by the legislature years ago, and officers of election are required to make returns of the vote upon the electors' preference for United States senator, no aspirant has, as yet, ventured to ask the people for a direct expression of confidence or preference. Without presumption on my part that any has a vested right to public office, however meritorious or faithful he may be, I desire to appeal to the people of Nebraska for a direct vote expressing their preference for United States senator. There are doubtless others in this state more worthy of your confidence than I am, and it will afford me great pleasure to meet any of them for a public discussion of the living vital issues of the day. The office of United States senator is a position of great responsibility, and the people should know the views of every man who desires to represent Nebraska in the upper house of congress. I trust that it is not inappropriate in this connection to refer briefly to my services in behalf of the state during my term now drawing to a close. By that record let judgment be given. I have doubtless erred in some instances, as all men do, but even my worst enemies cannot point to any act that would impeach my personal integrity or reflect discredit upon the state which has honored me. While I claim to have done only my duty in the light in which I was able to see it, and claim no credit for the faithful discharge of the trust committed to me, I only desire to exercise the right which I have in common with all citizens to challenge my co-senators for the senatorial position to a submission to a popular verdict of their respective claims to the senatorial succession.

C. H. VAN WYCK.

We can not see as such a course would decide the question: "Do the republicans want Van Wyck?" The Senator reminds us of the boy who would just be so awfully good if his mother would just give him "another piece of pie." The Senator also promises to be so awfully good should the voters of Nebraska (he don't ask the republicans to help him out) give him another term as senator. We are afraid the boy will go without pie.

The usual story of the remarkable travels of a pin is at hand. This time the scene is laid in Newton, Iowa, where fifteen years ago Mrs. Cyrus Gage dropped a pin in her ear. The pin in course of time dropped into her throat and was swallowed. The other day a doctor took it out of her left leg near the ankle.

One of the most ingenious processes which has lately come into vogue in the treatment of iron—an Austrian invention—is that of giving to the metal a silver surface, this being effected by first covering the iron with mercury and then silver by the galvanic process. By heating to 300 degrees, C., the mercury evaporates and the silver layer is fixed.

"Lord Rowton," says the London World, "is very angry about the publication of Lord Beaconsfield's early letters. He regards it as a direct and unwarrantable infringement of his rights as his late chief literary executor, and as calculated to diminish the interest of the great work which has occupied his exclusive attention during the last two years."

Henrietta Alsatian, is one of the few artists in Paris who sell all their pictures for good prices in hard times as well as good. To a friend who admiringly remarked to him that he must be making $40,000 a year, "Very likely," he said, "I keep no account of it. But I might earn still more if I were not bothered and hindered. These bourgeois are such cattle."

A huge California hawk swooped down on a sleeping cat at Santa Rosa the other day and bore it squalling and scratching high in the air. When about 500 feet high the hawk lost its grip and the cat came down with fearful velocity, but the hawk caught it again just before it struck the earth and was carrying it off when suddenly both fell like lead to the ground. The cat had bitten through the hawk's head, killing it instantly, and the fall killed the cat.

Play Martindale of Kirkland, O., is a well-to-do, but apparently very lazy, not so heartless farmer. He had 300 sheep when winter set in and plenty of grain and fodder; but the other day an agent for the humane society found seventy-one of the sheep dead forty being piled in the basement of one barn and twenty-three in another, and others scattered about the place. They had all started to death.

Alabama is in luck in her effort to catch up to Pennsylvania as a producer of iron. Her good fortune as to iron and lime deposits had just begun to attract attention when Pennsylvania's development of natural-gas wells again renewed our former advantages, and it is now reported that a supply has been found near Birmingham, and that pipes are to be laid to the mills without loss of time.—Philip Ledger.

The thirteen States of Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, Oregon, Rhode Island, Vermont, and West Virginia, with an aggregate population which does not exceed that of New York alone, have twenty-six United States senators to New York's two. From the five States of New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Massachusetts, and Ohio the government derives one-half of all its postal revenues.

Steamboat Frank, a Modoc Indian who was captured at the time of the Modoc war, and who is still a prisoner of the United States, is attending the permit of the government, the Old Grove Seminary in Maine.
