The author of the biography of General Boulanger, the publication of which has caused so much controversy, is Henri Depene. It was written at the time of General Boulanger's visit to the United States to represent France at the centenary of the battle of Yorktown, and was not intended to be satirical in any respect.

The recall of the French ambassador at the Vatican is regarded in Paris as the first step toward the disestablishment and the disendowment of the Church in France, which it is thought will be the result of the Pope's refusal to recede from the position he has taken in regard to China. It is thought that Prime Minister de Freycinet is debating the advisability of repealing the concordat.

PROBABLY the largest literary prize ever offered is one of $1,000,000 to be given in 1925 by the Russian National Academy for the best work on the life and reign of Alexander I. In 1825, shortly after the death of Alexander I, the sum of 50,000 rubles was offered by one of his favorite ministers to be given as a prize a century after his death, and it is this sum at compound interest which will amount in 1925 to $1,000,000.

A STATEMENT issued by the Bureau of Statistics of the Treasury Department regarding immigration, gives the total number of immigrants who arrived at the six principal ports of the United States during the month of July, 1886, as 31,318, an increase of 5,866 over the number arriving the same month last year. TWO HUNDRED car loads of California barley are booked for transportation by an eccentric route, and fifty car loads are on the way. They will be shipped from San Francisco by the Southern Pacific to New Orleans, thence to New York by water, thence to Buffalo by the Hudson River & Erie canal, thence to Milwaukee by the Anchor line. This roundabout way was taken because it is cheaper than by rail. The freight on grain by rail from San Francisco to Milwaukee is seventy-five cents per one hundred pounds.

THERE is no longer any reasonable doubt that the Government has fully decided to permanently remove from the Territory of Arizona those members of the Chiricahua and Warm Spring bands of Apaches now on the San Carlos reservation. The only important question not decided is said to be as to where they will be located. This has received earnest and thoughtful consideration, and there now seems to be a probability that they will be placed on the Fort Marion military reservation at St. Augustine, Fla., where Chihuahua and his band are quartered.

THE value of the exports of merchandise for the month of July, 1886, was $62,787,707, and of the imports, $65,530,709, while for the twelve months ended July 31, the exports of merchandise amounted to $686,555,499, and the imports to $641,852,378. The value of the imports and exports of the two precious metals for the same period was as follows: For July, 1886, exports, $1,175,311; of silver, $2,246,375; imports of gold, $580,072; of silver, $1,405,667. THE Democratic Congressional Committee has annulled the printing contract made with Gibson Brothers, of Washington, who are under the ban of the Typographical Union and the Knights of Labor. They employ non-union working men. The contract was transferred on the very day it was made and before any work had been done under it. Mr. Gibson, the head of the boycotted firm, interposed no objection whatever to the change. He expressed regret at the transfer of work, but said he apprehended the situation and was entirely willing to release the committee from obligations to his firm.

Mrs. JOHN SHERWOOD, in describing the gambling at Aix-les-Bains, says: "The play is bacarrat, and runs high. Every evening poor crippled men and women are brought in in chairs, or by their guides, nurses or maids, and seated at the tables, where they play until tired, then are trundled out. There are many gamblers who are not crippled, young and beautiful women, young men of every grade; and Mrs. Ratazzi, neither young nor crippled, but still pretty, although in her fifty-eighth year and married to a young man, a woman of remarkable celebrity, or infamy, as the case may be, and still a desperate gambler."

Earthquake Creates Consternation in Nebraska City. The earthquake at Nebraska City, Mo., Sept. 1.—A big shock, that little damage.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Between 8:30 and 9:00 o'clock last evening a shock of earthquake severe for this latitude—was felt in the eastern section of the country. It started from west to east, and the first violent shock was followed by a second, which was not so severe.

The shock was followed by a third, which was not so severe. The shock was particularly below the Ohio river, where the people were driven from buildings in terror by their shaking and swaying. The wave proceeded northward it seems to have dissipated itself, and about New York it was slightly felt. It was accompanied by all the usual symptoms of earthquake, such as the rumbling noise, the rattling of things, and the rattling of things.

THE DEADLY DAMP.

Terrific Explosion in a Pennsylvania Mine. Five Victims.—Scranton, Pa., Aug. 31.—A terrible explosion occurred in the Fallawn colliery this morning, which resulted in the death of five men and the serious injury of two others. John H. Holsie and J. Gallagher were standing at the head of the slope at the time of the explosion and felt the force of the explosion as the rush of air came out of the mine. They were the only ones who started to go in and ascertain the extent of the damage. The August quota of coal had been mined last week, and no men were employed in the mines. Work came to a standstill, and a party of six men had gone into the mine to clean up their chambers. Inspector Bigham happened to come along about this time, and he and Gallagher, with a party, entered the mine, going down to the third and lower veins and following the air course, attempting to repair damage to the lattice, etc., as they went along. Their progress was necessarily slow and the course they followed took them to the right hand of the mine, where they found a point where they found repairs necessary and returned to the foot of the mines for more material, when they learned that a large quantity of coal had been found in the mine before the accident near or about the entrance of one of the chambers a short distance from the foot of an inside plane about 150 feet from where the heading branched off. Three of them were alive and three dead. The killed were Hugh Conners, of Bellevue; Edward Gough and Michael Pyke. The first man brought to the surface was John Nalin, who is badly hurt about the face and arms. John Keegan was alive when found, and taken the strongest of all, but he died before being brought to the surface. The next was John Conner. He has two large scars on his head and neck, and another on the arm, while his face and hands were badly bruised. He was taken to the hospital. The body of Edward Fero, the first loss, was found about 150 feet from the mine.
