MERCHANTS ORGANIZATION.

Red Cloud Merchants Organize for Their Mutual Protection.

The retail merchants of Red Cloud met at the Gardner House last evening and organized a branch of The Retail Merchants Association of Iowa, Nebrasks and Kaneas. The system in use by this association has for its purpose the protection of retail merchants. A by laws furnished by the general association was offered and adopted. The first Thursday evening of each month was selected as the time for holding the regular monthly meeting, after which the following were chosen as officers: J. L. Miner president, A. Morbart vice president. E. M. Perkins, secretary, Frank Parker treasurer, F. E. Goble, Chas. Wiener, G. W. Lindsey,

This association uses no dishonorable means to force collections or settlements, but the merchants propose to exercise their legal right to refuse credit to a person who gains the reputation of not treating a member of the association bozorably. There is no law compelling merchants to seil their goods on credit. There is no law forbidding merchants refusing credit to any person they see fit, and when a merchant sells his goods on credit it is as an accommodation to the consumer, and if such consumer has no appreciation of the favor extended and willfully neglects to make a reasonable and honorable adjustment of his indebtedness, then he should be compelled to pay as he buys. It is better for him and much more profitable for the merchant. Many a poor worthy man has been refused credit for the necessities of lite because of the merchant's unpleasant experience with bad debtors, but this system will tend to obviate all that, because the man who does respect his credit will be known and have a standing among merchants, while the "dead beat" and others of his kind will also be known to the members of this association and be absolutely refused credit, no matter if he moves to another town or state his reputation as poor pay will follow him and the merchants in such new places of residence will also refuse him credit. This association issues no ratings on individuals. It issues a regular and legal Monthly Abstract of unsettled accounts. Each member agrees to forfeit twenty dollars to his branch as a penalty, in case he extends credit to a person whose unsettled account appears in the abstract and no account can appear therein until the debtor has had a full and fair opportunity to go to the merchant he owes and in some way arrange such indebtedness. The man who can pay and won't pay and the man who cannot pay, but will not go to the merchant and state his condition and make effort to arrange, is the person this association is after.

C. L. Cotting, G. H. Whitson, executive

This association does not interfere with the credit of men who deal bonorably, no matter if they are slow; neither does it in any way regulate prices. Its sole object is to compel men to be honest with merchants or to pay spot cash for goods purchased. Something of this kind has been needed for a long time and this system will work. "In combination there is strength." The members have the success or failure of this system in their own hands. Wherever merchants have properly combined the system has proven a great success. The west is being carefully covered by this association, and the merchants in all small towns are visited and solicited to join the county the Threshing Machines the in use were almost wholly of the class known as the "Endless Apron" style. Then it was that Nichols & Shepard, of Battle Creek, Mich., invented and began to develop an entirely new and novel style of Grain Thresher and Separator, which they very appropriately named the "Vibrator."

It was a revolution in Threshing Machines, and from a small beginning of five machines in 1858 they soon reached a product of 1,000 yearly.

Their Vibrator drove the "Endless Apron" machine out of market, and all other makers copied it as closely as they dared. Today all Threshing Machines of any reputation or merit use the principles of the old Vibrator. Nichols & Shepard have continued in the business without change of name, location, management; and during the past three years have brought out and developed another new Threshing Machine for grain and seeds, as superior to all existing machines as their former was to the 'Endless Apron.' They name this new and improved Thresher and predict as great a revolution in the trade, and as complete success over all rivals as they had thirty-one years ago.
