Every once in a while a "shover of the queer" is taken in, in this neck 'o the woods for plying his trade in bogus coin. Thursday night Sheriff Scott had two or three young fellows in tow for that offence, and they were treated to a cold reception in the new steel cells in the county jail. A couple of the fellows proved their innocence and were released, but a chap named Heller from Barr Oak will probably go to Omaha for an interview with Judge Dundy.

The American Building and Loan Association of Minneapolis, is now represented in Red Cloud by a local board of which the officers are, Jos. Graves, president; S. M. Seal, secretary; and L. H. Deyo, treasurer. This company offers good inducements either to intending borrowers or to those who would invest their monthly savings with a view to the accumulation of capital. Mr. L. H. Deyo has authority to take applications for membership and receive payments and will give all necessary information to those who are interested.

After mature deliberation Henry C. Scott decided not to be an independent candidate for sheriff, although he had many warm solicitations of support from friends from all parts of the county. Henry is a strong and ardent republican and would not injure the prospects of his party by an independent run for sheriff. His decision was certainly a wise one. During his four years of official duties as sheriff he has made many warm friends who would have been glad to have seen him secure the nomination for another term, but inasmuch as he was not successful in the convention in securing the nomination it would have been unwise for him to come out as an independent candidate, at least under the circumstances.

Mr. Brewer is a pioneer in the printing business, but left it some years ago to enter the grain business, in which he has been very successful. It does the younger members of the profesh good to meet such men, for the heroic days of yore are past and the modern edition of the knights of the stick and rule know but little about them, when each "devil" before he graduated had to serve an apprenticeship at pounding glue and molasses, take care of the editor's baby, if he were able to support such a luxury saw wood, make fires and sweep out the office before six o'clock in the morning, and only wish for the day to come when he could assume the position of editor, advertise the circus for free tickets or drink beer with the "Kunnel" and be called Major, boss the boys around, and have a cub brush his Sunday suit of clothes with a turkey wing that neighbor Thompson made him a present of last muster day—Campbell Press.
