Now is the time to build. I can save you 25 percent on all building material. Bids solicited. Perkins old stand. D. B. HEARD.

It is said of our illustrious democratic contemporary that he divides the word push, "pu." He is evidently a brother to the fellow who divides the word have "ha."

The Fair store has moved into the frame building adjoining the Moon block and has just received a fresh stock of useful articles including crockery and glassware, etc., J. Murray proprietor.

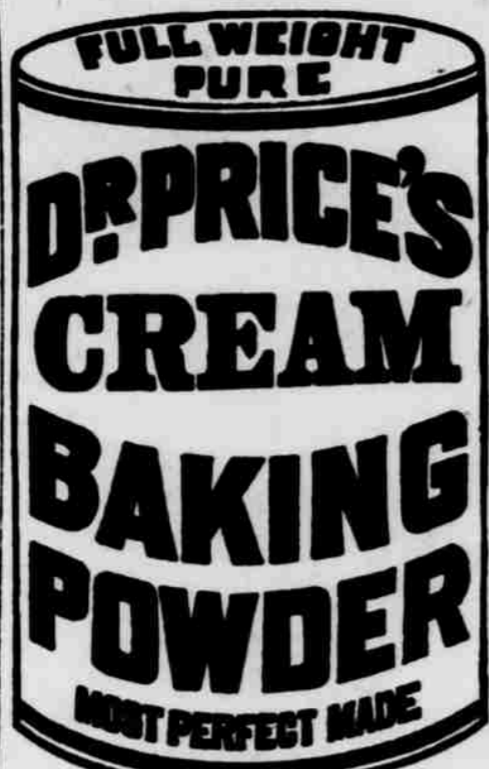

Mr. Henry Ludlow who was a former employee of this office will go to Bloomington, Monday, to take a position on the Echo of that place. Henry is a good workman and the Echo people will find him a good hand.

On Sunday, October 6, while Jailer Myers was feeding Heller, the counterfeiter, the prisoner grabbed Myers and threw him into the corridor. bolted the door and escaped. Van Benson gave chase but could not capture the fellow.

Tom Jones' boy, Wallace, aged 7 years, while playing with Ed Smith's little two-year old son, climbed up and got a loaded revolver, and discharged it, the ball taking effect in his right breast, making a serious, though not fatal wound.

James M. Kincaid and Miss Jennie Lee were united in marriage Thursday at Justice S. West's office. The groom is one of Dundly county's prosperous farmers and the bride is one of her fair maidens. The Pioneer joins their many friends in wishing them a happy journey through life.—Bankman Pioneer.

Lepman's display of fruit and ornamental trees, flowering shrubs vines etc., to say the least was a grand success and would convince the most skeptical that fruit trees will grow here and a look at the table in the hall which was covered with apples, pears, peaches, grapes, etc., will also convince one that the trees will bear fruit here in Webster county as abundantly as in most of our eastern states.

Its superior excellence proven in millions of homes for more than a quarter of a century. It is used by the United States government. Endorsed by the heads of the great universities as the strongest, purest, and most healthful.

Watch these columns for D. B. Heard's "ad" next week he will surprise you. In the mean time go in and see him and he will save you money.

Our Walnut correspondent "Dennis" is a rattler. He gets up a very spicy communication and is a good contributor. THE CHIEF always appreciates such items.

The recently imported Missouri donkey who manages the big 8 sheet, with a mortgage larger than the paper has been braying again this week. You'd better go to Denver again, docky, and shake your cloven feet again with, with—well with the boys, of course.

M. E. Church Appointments. The Nebraska conference of the M. E. church in session at York, Neb., have made the following appointments for Webster county:

Red Cloud—Rev. E. A. Randall. Cowles—Rev. Jno. P. McVey. Blue Hill—Rev. Leander Morrison. Guide Rock—Rev. C. B. Lenfest. Inavale—Rev. A. L. Folden.

At the democratic convention Thursday, the following ticket was placed in the field:

For Clerk—Pat McGuire. For Treasurer—C. Fessler. For Sheriff—Reese Thompson. For Judge—T. J. Ward. For Surveyor—Frank Keuhn.

Mrs. King and Dr. Schenk republican nominees were endorsed by the democrats as county superintendent and coroner. The gentlemen nominated are good average democrats but of course cannot expect to be elected in a good strong republican county, especially when they have to buck as good a ticket as has been placed in the field by the republicans.

Mated for Life. On last Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. Milton Wilson near this city occurred the marriage of their accomplished daughter, Miss Clara to Mr. Chas. M. Myers, of Pleasant Hill, Rev. C. E. Taggart officiating.

The young couple are well and favorably known in this city and their hosts of friends take pleasure in congratulating them on the event and hope that their union in wedlock will prove one of years of happiness to both alike, that life's troubled waters may be made smoother by the conjugal ties that bind them for life. The happy couple were the recipients of numerous presents. After the wedding feast had been spread and the numerous guests had partaken thereof the newly made twin departed for their new home at Amboy, which had been prepared prior to the wedding, at which place they will make their future home. THE CHIEF wishes them much happiness and prosperity.

Republican Caucus. The republican electors of Red Cloud township will meet at the fair grounds October 19th, 1889 at 2 p. m. to nominate town officers.

N. SANFORD, Committeeman. Begins' Cherry Cough Syrup. It is giving splendid satisfaction to the trade and the sales are positively marvelous, which can be accounted for in no other way except that it is without doubt the best on the market. Ask for and be sure you get the genuine. We keep it on hand at all times. C. L. Cottling, Druggist.

Notice is hereby given that I will examine all persons who may desire to offer themselves as candidates for teachers of the public schools of this county, at Red Cloud, on the third Saturday of each month. EVA. J. KING, County Sup't.

WALNUT CREEK.

Hang your banners on the outer wall. The coming man is named McCall.

There are times and again there are other times and Saturday, September 28, was one of the times inasmuch as twenty four of the democrats of Walnut creek gathered themselves together at one time under one roof for the purpose of electing 3 delegates to help nominate Webster county's first set of democratic officers and to nominate a township ticket. The following delegates were elected. A. McCall, W. W. McCrary, A. C. Sanford. The following township ticket was nominated, supervisor A. McCall; Clerk, W. W. McCrary, Justices, J. M. Stoddard and A. C. Sanford, Assessor, F. D. Hutchinson, Treasurer Elias Goble, Constables Frank Stokes and John Mitchell, road overseers A. Pardon and Robt. Mitchell. The foregoing nominations for town board can come squarely before the people on their record for economy and reform in public affairs and will make the opposition hustle to beat them.

The father and mother of Wm. McCrary of Indiana are making him a visit. The father is reported as saying that he never saw anything like Nebraska and the mother at saying that it beats the creation how a batch keeps house.

The cry is, "Still they come." A new Democrat is registered at Alf McCall's, bearing the euphonious name of Grover Cleveland McCall. Had Alf set up the cigars as he should have done Dennis would never have told the young man's name.

A prominent citizen of Inavale seems to be between several fires. The night of the republican convention he came home from Red Cloud and sacredly promised Sanford that he would vote the democrat ticket this fall. The next morning he promised his wife that he would vote the probio ticket and now certain parties have notified him that they will seal him if he bolts the republican nomination. The good wife and Sanford both refuse to release him from his promises and what in thunder is the poor fellow going to do.

It is a common remark on Buffalo creek that if Walnut creek raises enough money to fix up their graveyard without holding festivals and jollification of like character for them to come over and Buffalo will see what they can do for them in the way of voluntary contributions. It looks very much like dancing on the graves of the dead.

Walnut creek has a democrat within her gates who voted for Jackson in 1828 and has continued to so vote ever since; not for Jackson but the democratic ticket.

Wm. Reeves who has had charge of J. C. Holcomb's hacienda for the past season starts for the west in a few days in search of a homestead. The chances are that after viewing that boundless prairie he will come bounding back.

Last week Republican says "all things come to him that waits." The outlook is that unless things change and very radically at that the only thing that will come to most of us will be the sheriff.

As usual my name is DENNIS.

What a Fortune. Is a good healthy, peary skin. Few are aware of the short time it takes for a disorder liver to cause blotches on the face and a dark, greasy skin. One bottle of BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP and BLOOD MAKER will restore this organ to its natural and healthy state, and cleanse the blood of all impurities. It is meeting with wonderful success. We guarantee every bottle, C. L. Cottling, Druggist.

BLADEN. Wallace Andrews, of McPleasant, Pa, is here on a business trip.

The Congregationalists of this place will hold communion services next Sunday.

Mrs. Dr. Ackley of Juniata has been spending a few days with friends of this place.

Miss Zeller who has been visiting her parents in Washington county Kansas returned to this place last Saturday.

Mr. Wm. Huffman's niece returned to her home in Nebraska City last week.

There will be a Sunday school concert next Sunday in the G. A. R. hall.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Clark of Hitchcock county are visiting their daughter Mrs. John Barnett of this place this week.

A Mr. Perry has rented Robt. White's blacksmith shop and will attend to the wants of the farmers of this vicinity. He comes well recommended as being a No. 1 smith and an accommodating fellow. Give him a call. SADIE.

A Good Cough Syrup. There is nothing parents should be so careful about as selecting a cough syrup. Begins' Cherry Cough Syrup costs no more than the cheap and inferior nostrums thrown on the market. The best is none to good, be sure and get BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP. We keep it on hand at all times. C. L. Cottling, Druggist.

SOUTH WEST CORNER. The so called democratic caucus of Walnut creek, came off on the 28th.

It was composed of representatives of all political creeds, except republicanism. The democrats took the nominations for the best offices, dealing them out two to a family, but did not seem to have enough good men, even at that, for all the offices, so they endorsed one republican nomination, and nominated a few republicans. All says, "we have to depend on republican votes." The caucus declared their independence of free trade England, and their willingness for representatives to retire to private life, even if he does threaten to run for a second term in the Webster county congress "in spite of 'em," and Dennis will tell you the rest.

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could not live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought a large bottle; it helped her more, bought another and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. For full particulars send stamp to W. H. Cole, druggist, Fort Smith. Trial bottles of this wonderful discovery free at Henry Cook's drug store.

There will be a musical and concert social at Mrs. Wm. Cather's next Tuesday evening, Oct. 8. Everybody come and bring your friends. Music by some of Red Cloud's most accomplished pianists. Cake and ice cream refreshments.

Euppepy. This is what you ought to have, in fact you must have it to fully enjoy life. Thousands are searching for it daily, and mourning because they find it not. Thousands upon thousands of dollars are spent annually by our people in the hope that they may attain this boon, and yet it may be had by all. We guarantee that electric bitters, if used according to directions and the use persisted in, will bring you good digestion and out the demon dyspepsia and install instead euppepy. We recommend electric bitters for dyspepsia and all diseases of liver, stomach and kidneys. Sold at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle by Henry Cook, druggist.

PROBATE NOTICE. Notice is hereby given to all persons having claims and demands against Charles C. Webster estate of Webster county, deceased, that the time fixed for filing claims against said estate is six months from the 1st day of October 1889, all such persons are required to present their claims with the vouchers to the county judge of said county at his office here in, on or before the 1st day of April 1890 and all claims so filed will be heard before the said judge on the 24th day of April, 1890, at 10 o'clock a. m. Dated September 24th 1889. F. H. A. SWEET, County Judge.

PERSONAL AND IMPERSONAL.

John Wilkes was as remarkable for his ugliness as for being universally a favorite with the fair sex. On being asked the secret of this, he replied that it took him but five minutes to talk away his face.

It appears that Mr. Gladstone's ancestors were pirates. In 1665 Halbert Gladstone, a merchant in Edinburgh, was a member of the crew on board the George, which sailed from Glasgow to prey on the Dutch merchantmen.

C. P. Huntington, the railway magnate, does not work on Saturday or Sunday, because of his natural religious feeling. He says he isn't certain whether Saturday or Sunday is the day appointed by divine decree for rest, so he observes both.

In Buffalo recently John Grabenstoler and wife, Germans, celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. One feature of the event was a walk to the church where they were married, followed by twelve of their children and one grandchild.

An old man living in Weldsport, N. Y., wanted to be buried in a barrel when he died, and although he had had the barrel in his house for nineteen long years his wife managed the funeral to suit herself and he went into a fifteen dollar coffin instead of the barrel.

There is in New York no more tireless theater-goer than Colonel Bob Ingersoll. It is said that he has seen over one hundred performances the last year. He is more fond of comedy and spectacular pieces than of high tragedy, and he laughs consumedly at the funny characters, or scenes, or passages.

There is a young married lady in Elberton, Ga., who is a snake charmer. She has no fear of these reptiles, and will venture with her hands upon any snake that she finds in the woods, and has tamed several of them for pets. Once she captured a large snake that seized her hand. This lady did not experience any trouble from its fangs and continued her sport of capturing them. She seems to have a strange power over reptiles, and it is seldom that they offer any resistance.

Mr. Wolff, the famous violinist, has been for six years musician to the King of the Netherlands. "The King," he says, "has been a good patron to music, and is a most appreciative auditor. I well remember when I was first presented to his Majesty. At that time I had an abnormally dark complexion, and the King saluted me with the words: 'What is this black crew? What does he want with me?' But after I had played his Majesty thanked me very kindly."

Helen Chambers, the daughter of the noted Scotch divine, lives in Edinburgh, in one of the finest sections of the city. Her home consists of a few rooms in an alley. The drunkenness, poverty and suffering of men and women distress her, but she is constantly with the fallen. Every night she goes out into the lanes of the city with her lantern to light her way before her, and she never returns to her quarters without one or more girls or women she has taken from the street. These people love her, and she is never molested or insulted.

"A LITTLE NONSENSE." "What's the reason you don't start your raft? Are you waiting for more water?" asked a native of the ancient citizen. "Yes, that's what we rafter," said the latter.

Brown—"I thought you were a vegetarian, but I hear you eat mutton." Robinson—"I am not a bigoted vegetarian. I only eat the meat of such animals as live on vegetable food."—Texas Siftings.

"O how stupid you are!" ejaculated Mrs. Foofoo, as her daughter Jennie made some opaque remark. "I don't believe you know the difference between a whale and a fried oyster." "Yes I do," said Jennie. "One's cooked and the other isn't."

Bessie—"I'm sure Mr. Concord whispered something to Dolly about me last night." Jennie—"I could have told what it was from the movement of his lips, no matter how low he whispered." Bessie—"No you couldn't. You know he always talks through his nose."—Town Topics.

Mary—"George, I have heard you spoken of frequently as a successful business man." "I am that. Why?" "Well, considering the fact that you have been visiting me for three years, I think you should maintain your reputation and talk business."—Nebraska State Journal.

Willie (regretfully)—"I'd like just awfully to kiss you, Gracie, but I spect it wouldn't do. You know your mamma said you mustn't never kiss the boys." Gracie—"Yes, that's what she said. That is, it's about what she said. I member just as well! She says to me, she says: 'Gracie, don't you ever let me see you kissin' the boys.' Mamma, she's gone over to Mrs. Bibb's."—Chicago Tribune.

A woman called at police headquarters the other day, and reported that her husband was missing. "When did you see him last?" asked an officer. "Yesterday morning. He went up to the third story to get a memorandum out of the inside pocket of my dress, hanging up in the closet, and—" But the officer wanted to hear no more. He rushed off to the woman's house, proceeded to the third story, and as he entered a room he heard issue from a door a faint exclamation: "Thank Heaven, I found it at last!" The speaker was the missing husband.—N. Y. Ledger.
