The best anodyne and expectorant for the cure of colds and coughs and all throat, lung, and bronchial troubles, is, undoubtedly, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Ask your druggist for it and at the same time for Ayer's Almanac which is free to all.

The weakness and debility which result from illness may be speedily overcome by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This is a safe, but powerful tonic, assists digestion, regulates the liver and kidneys, and cleanses the blood of all germs of disease.

A party by the name of Frank Lambert was arrested by Marshal Shinkle last Sunday morning. He hailed from Ayr, Nebraska, and had been visiting at Drows, Kansas, where he enticed six gray hounds away with him. The marshal held him until the owner J. H. McMain arrived, when he compromised with the dog thief and he was released.

The cold snap this week makes a fellow think how the chaps up in Dakota keep warm. In that country a fellow builds an 8 x 10 room, puts in two large stoves, builds up red hot fire, and with a bear skin overcoat on, is supposed to stand between the stoves, during the winter season (which is said to be nine months winter and three months cold as, — well Hades) in order to keep old Boreas from making an ice berg of his anatomy.

Miss Mame Johnson, a niece of Harry Pond's, who resided here for several months, and well known to many of our young folks, was married on New Years, to a Mr. Web of Rochester N. Y. The happy couple have our best wishes.

The out-going county officers are all able and trustworthy men and THE CHIEF wishes them success in whatever undertaking they may go into. They have all served the county in an able manner and deserve the congratulations of their friends.

C. Schenck has moved his office over the post-office, where he will be glad to see his friends. He is a full fledged justice of the peace and can either judge between litigants unbiased, or he can tie a connubial knot in the most approved style. He is also a notary public.

It seems to us that the trustee of the street railway is withholding the funds from the proper authorities without any purpose. The money ought to be paid in to court and the affair settled up before more trouble brews. We can't see any use in dilly-dallying along as the trustee has in this matter.

What are the wild waves saying Annie, dear? Oh, we know they are just saying that Red Cloud wants a railroad, a sugar beet factory, a large increase in citizenship, more factories, more enterprise in the men who own the town site, a starch factory, a paper mill, an oil cake mill, an oat meal mill, a canning factory, a creamery, and a hundred and one other things to boom us. We have the water power for all of these enterprises.

A new tank line has come to the city, for the ostensible purpose of running Curt Evans out of business because he would not purchase his oil of the Standard Oil Co. We are not in possession of the full facts in the case, but if this is a fact, our people should stay by Curt to the last, as the Standard Oil Co. is one of the most monstrous monopolies in the world, and propose to rule or ruin. THE CHIEF is opposed to monopolies, big or small.

A Cure for Diphtheria.

The following remedy is said to be the best known, at least it is worth trying for physicians seem powerless to cope with the disease successfully. At the first indication of diphtheria in the throat of a child, make the room close; then take a tin cup and pour into it a quantity of tar and turpentine, equal parts. Then hold the cup over the fire so as to fill the room with fumes. The little patient on inhaling the fumes, will cough up and spit out all the membranous matter, and the diphtheria will pass off. The fumes of the tar and turpentine loosen the matter in the throat, and thus afford the relief that has baffled the skill of physicians.—Scientific American.

NEWSY NOTES BY CORRESPONDENTS. Scanty and Interesting Items From all sections of the County.

WALNUT CRISIS. I sat by my fire on New Years eve, feeling mighty glad, I thought of the years that had just slipped by, and again, of the years to come. I thought of our great big bounding crop, the biggest for many a day, and I also thought to Hades with such crops, when you have to give 'em away. I thought of protected barons, who for years the farmers have bled, and I felt clean down in my pocket, and found not even a red. I thought of the campaign we had last fall, and the question arose to me whether, it didn't resemble the lion and lamb, that once did lie down together. And while on that subject, I still thought on and I could hear the wails of the dyin', for when they arose that poor little lamb was sleeping inside of the lion. A 'ad thought thereupon struck me, and I remarked, py tam, the big 8 are the lion, we democrats the lamb. I thought of our good Chris Fassler, his election, by dang was a socker, but alas, how soon do bright things fade, he has gone to (Davey) Jones locker. I thought of happy Charles Hunter, of the words he gaily said "when it comes to public pap my boy, half loaf beats no bread." And I further thought of another thing, it sat on me awful tough, that big 8 crowd have taken their half right out of the center of the loaf. And now the saddest thought of all, I thought of Jimmy Vance, who said "press where you see my red head shine" for my name is never pants. Ah Jimmy, Jimmy, this country was saved, when you came over the seas, and I honestly think they should make you, keeper of the book of fees. I thought our democrat editor, had commenced to use his claws, and that he and the mammoth 8 at last, were using different straws. I thought that of all the chumps on earth, democrats take the cake, but I soon dropped that subject, for I found it gave me the stomach ache. And another thought then struck me, and it has been striking many days, where in the name of all that's holy, am I going to make a raise. I thought of the year that had just slipped by, with its plenitude of wrecks, and you bet after living through 89 I can stand what may come next. We can stand the heat of the furnace and never will a wilt, when it comes to going hungry, why that's the way democrats are built. MAN IN THE MOON.

A great many of the farmers are losing cattle from eating corn stalks.

Mr. McClintock lost a very fine cow by breaking its neck in the stable.

I want to inform Dennis for the benefit of the Farmers Alliance, and his own, that if he must appeal the order to bear in mind the purpose he avowed to maintain, and to remember Davy Crockett's famous remark, "This to all men when I'm dead, be sure you are right then go ahead." But 'tis Dennis did not do, for he asserts the farmers burnt countless gallons of oil causing each other, and finally decided that the greatest outrage was the price they had to pay for that most necessary article of the household.

Now there is not a word of truth in the statement and he knows it, and forthwith they are letting their light shine a great deal better than Dennis, for reasons that he knows very well himself.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, Dr. King's Life Pills, medicine, anodyne and electric battery, and have never had a complaint that we do not well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. These remedies have won great popularity purely on their merits.

Two Guide Book men were in Red Cloud this week. It seems that an old feud had existed between them for some time. It was renewed on this instance and had it not been for the bystanders a case of manslaughter might now be in progress.
