It has been brought to notice of THE CHIEF, that some one has been guilty of hauling dead horses, and other animals, down on the river road and there leaving them to decay and pollute the air. Whoever is guilty of the act should be compelled to bury the aforesaid carcasses.
The board of supervisors have settled with M. B. McNitt, ex-county treasurer, and have found that his books tally exactly, and that the county funds are perfectly safe, which puts to shame all those fellows who willfully lied about him and the county funds last fall.

Happy Wed.

On Monday evening, there occurred at the residence of our esteemed friends, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Haeker, the marriage of their oldest and accomplished daughter, Miss Namie, to Mr. Will Parker, a well known young man of this city, Rev. Geo. O. Yeiser saying the mystic words that bound the happy couple for life. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the family circle, immediately after which the young folks departed on their wedding tour to St. Joseph, Chicago and other points. THE CHIEF, along with their numerous friends, wishes them a long and happy life.

Married at the residence of the brides parents, in this city, on Jan. 25th, Miss Lulu Sanford and Mr. Dan Conover. The ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. Randall of the M. F. Church. There were present, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Ross, Mrs. Henry Ross, Mr. Geo. Ross, and Miss Clara Ross, Mr. and Mrs. P. Conover, Master Herbert and Miss Blanche Conover, Mr. Theo Ponsor, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wilcox and daughter. After the ceremony the guests sat down to an elegant supper which was enjoyed by all. The happy couple were the recipients of some reminders of the affection of their friends. A long and happy life attend them.

Our citizens should remember that the city election is only a few weeks away, and it behooves them to adopt remedies for the most rigid economy for the next year. Will you complacently stand by and see the funds scattered so carelessly, citizens of Red Cloud? If our aldermen have not the backbone to do the right thing, we must have those who will. Cut the salaries of the city officers by all means. "Economy is the road to wealth," a good motto for our aldermen to put up in the city council chamber for 1890.

THE CHIEF is pleased to learn that Mr. E. F. Highland, for many years one of the efficient road-masters of the B. & M. with headquarters in this city, has been promoted to assistant superintendent of the Holyoke lines with headquarters at Holyoke, Colorado. Ed is a deserving fellow and has won his way to the present position by strict integrity and fidelity to the company. His present promotion was made over several who have been longer in the employ of the company than he has. THE CHIEF is pleased to hear of his prosperity.

Ground-hog day will settle the weather for the next six weeks. Inasmuch as the day for the "Bage of Sauageville" to make his prophecy come on Sunday, we hope he will improve the shining hours in fixing up his calendar for an early spring. "We will send him the Red Cloud Republican one year, if he does well, no matter whether he pays for it or not," and if that don't make him grunt, we'll send him a picture of the Jersey Lilly, which will have the desired effect.

A business change has taken place and our energetic friend, Oscar Patmor has purchased the flour and feed store of I. Frisbie, and will continue to run it at the old stand. Oscar is one of our best citizens, and in his hands we have every reason to believe that the business will prosper. THE CHIEF takes pride in seeing the young men of Red Cloud coming to the front, and wishes Oscar success and prosperity in his new business.

Miss Daley Stoddard, who has made her name famous in this country by her wonderful oratorical efforts in contending for the great Democrat model, will entertain the people of Red Cloud this evening. Every person in this city should hear this "little wonder" as it will repay them a hundred fold. She is one of America's brightest jewels and THE CHIEF hopes she will have a fall bouquet. She is certainly deserving of it.

The contest for the Democrat medal at the N. E. church was not satisfactory to our people. The committee awarded the medal to a great big strapping fellow from Franklin, when in fact Blanche Sherman or Nellie West should have had it. The entertainment was very interesting however, and especially the declamation by little Emory Young. All of the children did well.

S. H. Seal adds his name to the great F. W. this week.

The City Schools.

(BY A. S. WOOD.)

I have, for some time past, had a mind to say, through the medium of the press, a few words to the patrons of the schools looking to an increased efficiency of their educational organization. The following propositions will, I presume be accepted without argument by my readers.

Inasmuch as a mental and moral condition is paramount to a more physical one, and mental culture more to be desired than mere dollars and cents, our schools as the chief, the only public means, of the furtherance of mental growth are more important to the community than factories, railroads or other means of enhancing personal, or corporate wealth. The best schools are the products of the joint efforts of people, pupils, and teachers.

The people alone cannot make the best schools. The pupils alone cannot do this. The teachers alone cannot do this.

The schools are a system, an organization of which, the patrons, the pupils and the teachers are organized parts, as in the human system when one of the organs, as the stomach fails to perform, or performs imperfectly its office, the whole system is deranged and disease follows. So in the school system, when one of the parts fails or neglects to perform the proper function, or but imperfectly does its part the efficiency of the whole is impaired. I have abundant opportunity to talk to the pupils and to the teachers, regarding their part of the work and I have not hesitated to do so repeatedly, plainly and emphatically, but no opportunity is afforded, except through the medium of the newspapers, for speaking to the parents respecting their part of the work. Now how is this performed? The first half of the year is completed, there has been in the high school so far eight visitors, of these four are not patrons of the city schools, leaving a total of four visits of patrons in a little less than five months. I find by reports of teachers that this has been about the average number of visitors throughout the city.

When in the performance of duty the teacher has required of pupil acquiescence in certain regulations made for the common good, in many instances there have come from the parent such sentiments as these, viz: "If the teacher would act with a little judgment," or "I am of the opinion that my boy's teacher is imposing upon him," or "I conceive of no possible reason for such a requirement," or "I know my child was not delinquent," or "I have been as well brought up as my child's teacher," or something else equally irrelevant or absurd, when the only possible source of information the parent has had, has been the report of the child which, no matter how honest his intentions may be, is sure to be colored in accordance with the child's biased, partial and necessarily imperfect view of the case.

There have been some exceptions to this, some who instead of widening the breach made by the pupil have sought to heal it, who instead of throwing stumbling blocks in the way have removed those already there, who instead of concluding off hand that whenever the child complained that the blame was wholly on the part of the teacher, have looked into the matter first and acted afterward. These are the parents who in some measure, at least, are doing the parent's part in promoting the highest interests of the schools.

I make no deductions, I draw no conclusions, I offer no criticisms. I simply present the propositions as the head of this article and some facts relative to them. I have not hesitated to sharply criticize both pupils and teachers when they pursued a course, which in my judgment, was inconsistent with their duties and with their relations to the schools, but I am satisfied with a bare presentation to the patrons of some truths, feeling sure that intelligent men and women are capable of making correct deductions and of drawing just conclusions, and that right minded men and women change their course when they see they are going in the wrong direction.

At Cost, At Cost.

Save Your Hair

By a timely use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. This preparation has no equal as a dressing. It keeps the scalp clean, cool, and healthy, and preserves the color, fulness, and beauty of the hair. "I was rapidly becoming bald and gray," but after using two or three bottles of Ayer's Hair Vigor my hair grew thick and glossy and the original color was restored."—Melvin Aldrich, Canaan Centre, N. H.

"Some time ago I lost all my hair in consequence of a sore. After long waiting, no new growth appeared. I then used Ayer's Hair Vigor and my hair grew."

Thick and Strong.
It has apparently come to stay. The hair is thick and strong and of a natural color. —J. B. Williams, Florence, Texas.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past four or five years and find it a most satisfactory dressing for the hair. It is all I could desire, being harmless, causing the hair to retain its natural color, and requiring but a small quantity to render the hair easy to arrange."—Mrs. A. Bailey, 9 Charles Street, Haverhill, Mass.

"I have been using Ayer's Hair Vigor for several years, and believe that it has saved my hair to retain its natural color."—Mrs. H. J. King, Dealer in Dry Goods, &c., Indianapolis, Ind.

The transition from long, hairing and painful shampoos to robust health made by an application of the Hb of the individual. Such a remarkable event is treasured in the memory and the agency whereby the good health has been obtained is gratefully remembered. It is that so much is heard in terms of Electric Bitters. No man feels they owe their restoration to health, to the use of the Great Alterative and Tonic. If you are troubled with any disease of Kidneys, Liver or Stomach, of long or short standing you will surely find relief by use of Electric Bitters. Sold at 50c and $1 per bottle at Henry Cooke Druggists.

Begging carriages, and good carts for sale at cost on long time on what tel security by C. L. Wilcox, the commission merchant who will give your price in the city or any part of the county. Attention G. & B.
Council of administration of Red State District Session, next Monday Feb. 2nd, at two o'clock, p. m. Camp fire at night.

This to the Red Cloud Wood.
The following telegram was received at Kearney on the 25th.
Jersey City, N. J., Jan. 29
F. J. Heits—Will city council grant right of way on Nineteenth St. for one track from Avenue K to 7th avenue? Answer quick.

F. P. BURNELL.
The above simply means that Burnell is in conference with Jay Gould and we may look for a favorable proposition at an early day. Mr. Heits interviewed some of the city authorities and immediately telegraphed a favorable reply in answer. Let's have the Missouri Pacific and the Gulf road after which all northwest branches will take care of themselves on short order. Kearney will have some additional trunk lines during the year 1890,—if the dues not made her substance upon a stub which goes nowhere.—Kearney Journal.

Calendartical Entertainment.
The Ladies Aid Society of the M. K. church will give a Calendartical Entertainment, Feb. 14th, particulars later.
