RED CLOUD.

What the Needs to Have Railroads and Manufacturers.

The time for the people of Red Cloud to act is now, and what she needs is railroads and manufactures we have one of the best located cities in the great west and would be greatly developed if railroads could be secured. Red Cloud is by natural location the gate to the great Republican Valley and the railroads that have stopped at some of our sister cities are bound to reach for the immense traffic that comes from this part of Nebraska. Let our people be in earnest now and we will soon have Red Cloud on the highway for a general boom.

As to manufactures there is not a city in Nebraska that has one half the water power that Red Cloud has. Besides the great republican river we have numerous creeks with fall enough to run mills and manufacturing institutions. Now is the time to act and act hard. We must have one or more of the great railways that are headed this way.

Railroad Accident at Blue Hill.

While engaged at building the side-tracks for the new town being laid out 6 miles east of Blue Hill, a section hand by the name of C. Raschke fell from a push car loaded with dirt which rather small and can be pushed by hand, the wheels passing over one of his legs, breaking the bone below the knee and mangling the flesh in an ugly manner.—Hastings Republican.

County Attorney Willcox leaves this week for Paris, Texas, where he goes to attend the trial of the murderers of his brother, which took place in No Man's Land over a year ago. The chances are that Sam Robinson will stretch hemp for his part in the murder.

Floyd Reynolds was very much excited this week and those who did not know what was the matter thought he was getting loose, but on investigation it was learned that he was the daddy of a bouncing baby girl. Cigars are certainly in order.

Public Notice.

To water consumers at 7 o'clock in the morning and 9 o'clock in the evening of each day (Sundays excepted) the whistle at the water works will be sounded to observe each signal and positively must not keep water running after such time. Non-observance of these rules will impel me to perform an unpleasant duty, and without further notice upon satisfactory information the water will be shut off. Respectfully, Thomas J. Vann, Water Commissioner.

COTTING POINTERS.

A Good Citizen Goes.

When R. D. Jones left Red Cloud for his new home in the state of Washington, Red Cloud lost one of its most enterprising and valuable citizens. In the few years that the editor of this paper has had the pleasure of his acquaintance, we have found him to be every inch a man, and the founder of more substantial enterprises for Red Cloud than can be said of any other man that has ever lived here. He was the founder of the Nebraska Lumber company, the Red Cloud and Ambey roller flouring mills, the Red Cloud electric light plant, and a strong supporter of the water works, and in fact helped to make Red Cloud a good city. He may have had his enemies but notwithstanding that fact, the city will lose in Mr. Jones removal a man whose whole interests were for the upbuilding of Red Cloud. The Chief wishes him all the prosperity possible in his new home in the far west and the city he located in can consider themselves fortunate in having him come among them. May he live long and prosper in our best wish. He will for the present be located at Tacoma, Wash.

C. Wiener has, by offering his children's and women's shoes at cost and below that price, nearly closed out the line, and is offering rare bargains to buyers if in need of any shoes. His low prices on men's goods can not be beaten.

It is lots of four these days to see the sleek politicians hobnobbing to the Alliance people. They appear in the city on Saturdays with bagged holes in their hair, one suspender dangling from their pants, a rough hat and sub pipe (or nearly so) and you can not hear them talk on anything but the grievances of the poor farmer. One would think that they were very anxious to do something to alleviate their wrongs, but the facts are that they are trying to play the "Red Riding Hood" act on the Alliance people, but as luck will have it the boys have them spotted. A consistent supporter of the Alliance cause is no hypocrite. Selah!

As an evidence that gentle Spring is about to fall upon us, we point with pride to the meek and lowly tramp printer who has already begun to bloom in our various offices. They are just as sure to come with the flowers that bloom in the Spring as the stars are sure to shine in the firmament. A tramp printer can be said of him—he is a fountain head of intelligence. You can not keep him on any subject but what he will discuss it with you thoroughly. His greatest enemy is a good whisky, but with all his shortcomings, he is generous to a fault.

Our young and returned friend, Walter C. Jones, left last Friday morning for his new home in Portland Oregon, where he goes to seek his fortune. Walt is a No. 1 young man and will make his mark in the New West. He leaves many friends in Red Cloud who will always be pleased to hear of his prosperity. He has collected Portland as his future home and there proposes to settle down to making a fortune. The Chief will follow him to his new home and keep him advised of Red Cloud events. Success is the best wish of Walter's many friends in this city.

Our friend, Mr. Lester of Lincoln is one of the most ingenious men we have ever met. He has one of the most novel fish hook attachments we have ever seen, besides several other patents, among which was a fine paper holder and a contrivance for hanging wall ornaments, pictures, etc. He will certainly make his fortune out of some of them for they are all useful.

John Keeler, for a number of years, off and on, an employe of this office has gone to Newcastle, Wyo., where he has accepted a job as foreman of the News at that place. John has the ability to run a good paper and we hope to see him installed as editor before long. We hope he will make a mint of money at his new home.

Follow the crowd and go to Mrs. F. Newhouse's.
