COMMERCIAL CONGRESS.

Plane For an Important Gathering of Westatives at Kansas City. TOPEKA, Kan., Feb. 26.—The resolution inviting the Western States to participate in a commercial congress for the economic questions affecting western interests has been passed by the Kansas legislature, receiving the votes of republicans, democrats and alliance men alike. It has been decided to hold the congress in Kansas City on the 15th day of April, the meeting to continue one week. The business men of Kansas City have entered fully into the spirit of the movement, and it has received the indorsement of the Commercial club of that city. The states and territories entitled to representation in the proposed congress, by the terms of the resolution adopted by the Kansas legislature, are: Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Michigan, Wisconsin, and Illinois east of the Mississippi river, and Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma Territory, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Utah, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Arizona, Nevada and California-twenty-one states and

Each state above named is entitled to nine delegates, four from the senate and five from the house of each legislature, the president of the senate and the speaker being added as members exofficio, making a representation of eleven for each state. The territories are each entitled to five delegates, three from the house and two from the council, together with the presiding officers of those bodies as members ex-officio, making a representation of seven from each territory, or a congress composed of 299 members in the event that each state and territory entitled to representation shall be fully represented. The governor of each state and territory is requested to name the delegates, in the event the legislatures of such states are not in session, otherwise the delegation is named by the sitting legislature.

DEPARTED IN PEACE.

Empress Frederick Leaves Paris Without Any Demonstrations on the Part of the People-Bitter Feeling at Berlin. Paris, Feb. 27.—Empress Frederick ft Paris this morning. There were no unpleasant incidents attending her departure, although it had been publicly inounced that the empress would leave for Calais at 11:10 a. m. She left he German embassy two hours earlier nd was driven rapidly to the depot for the northern railroad, where she entered a train for Boulogne. From Bouogne the empress will proceed to Calais, where the royal yacht is waiting to convey her to England. Despite the precautions taken several hundred people had watched with interest the movements of the ex-empress. They were quiet and orderly, and many saluted her as she passed. The exempress, who was perfectly composed, quickly entered the railway carriage. There were no disrespectful cries on the part of the crowd. From the fact that the time of departure was hastened it is inferred that the empress regarded the situation as a grave one. The general tone of the press is moderate. The allegations of the Cologne Gazette that the royal visitor has met with discourtesy are emphatically de-

At a reception given at the residence of M. Rothschild last evening M. Gervex, speaking in behalf of a number of French artists, expressed to ex-Empress Frederick their regret at not being able to send works of art to the Berlin exhibition for the reason that they could not place themselves at variance with their colleagues. The empress in reply said that she appreciated the justice of the motives of the French artists and regretted that they were not to be represented at the Berlin exhibition.

In an interview published this morning the president of the society of artists says he believes the French artists should send works of art to Berlin, though he yields to the opinion of his brother artists. La Justice says that the statements contained in the Cologue Gazette are the results of a bourse maneuver. Germany is well aware that France is attached to peace, although she will not hesitate to make any necessary sac-

Judge Blodgett Sends the Sait Brought to Test the McKinley Bill to the United States Supreme Court. CRICAGO, Feb. 25.-Judge Blodgett resterday morning decided the case of Marshall Field & Co. against John M. Clarke, collector of enstoms, involving Ar the validity of the McKinley bill. He said: "The best disposition the court and tred the appears may be lest, and just men can make of the matter is to affirm the the system craves the and of a reliable medicine decision of the appraisers at New York and resuch the blood, to crosse & good appealed and and allow the case to go directly to the sourcembe that tirel feeling. supreme court. I will say, however, that the court was much impressed with the chain of reasoning advanced by appellant, and it might be difficult for the argument to be met by the other side. However, the McKinley bill has become the operating mechanism through which the government collects its duties, and an adverse decision in this case might seriously disarrange the existing arrangement of this service. There should be a finding of facts that this court found the case of sufficient importance to warrant an appeal to the supreme court." An appeal will be prayed at once. The suit was to recover certain moneys paid by Marshall Field on imported woolens and embroideries since the McKinley act, which radically increased the duties on these goods. Mr. tutional. The importer held that the well known fact that the bill as it was signed by the president was not the same as the bill passed by congress, because in engrossing it and preparing it for the president's signature the clause in tobacco rebates had been left out, rendering the act null and void.

The effect of the modification of the rules made by the court is to compel the docketing of each case brought before it within thirty days from the time the appeal is taken from the decision of the lower court. All appeals, write of error and citations must be made returnable to the supreme court by the lower courts within this period of thirty days unless for some good reason a special order is made in any case. Heretofore many months might intervene between an appeal and its docketing on the records of the court, advantage being taken of this privilege in cases where the principal object of the appeal was to delay a final decision. The attention of the court was directed to this state of affairs by the proceed ings in the Jugiro electrocution case, and it was for the special purpose
