The Saviour's Burial and the Lessons Drawn From It-Appropriateness of Floral Decorations-Easter Typical of Peace.

Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage preached to where the Lord lay." He said: Visiting any great city we are not cemetery. We examine all the styles of cenotaph, mausoleum, sarcophagus, crypt and sculpture. Here lies buried a statesman, yonder an orator, here a poet, out there an inventor, in some other place a great philanthrophist. But with how much greater interest look upon our family plot in the cemetery. In the one case it is a matter of this morning there are gathered all kinds of stupendous interest. At this sepulchre, I have to tell you, in this pulchre there were buried a King, a Alas! for Sheridan. Poor Sheridan! From New York to Liverpool at every contribute my opinion, but be instructed the spot, and the solution of the enigma Brother, a Christ. Monarch of the universe, but bone of our bone, and flesh of our flesh, and sorrow of our sorrow, and heart of our heart. "Come, see the place where the Lord lav." It has for surroundings, the manor in the suburbs of Jerusalem, a manor owned by a wealthy gentleman by the name of Joseph. He was one of the court of seventy who had condemned Christ, but I think he had voted in the pegative, or being a timid man had been absent at the time of the casting of the vote. He had laid out the parterre at great expense. It was a hot climate and I suppose there were broad branched trees and winding paths underncath them, while here the waters rippled over the rock into a fishpool, and yonder the vines and the flowers clambered over the wall, and all around there were the beauties of the kiosk the ignominious resolutions with the iron gates of the modern vaults. The Secretary of State Leigh, of Kentucky, and arboriculture.

After the fatigues of the Jerusalem in these suburbs botanical and pomological. I walk a little further on in the parterre and I come across a cluster of the sculptor's chisel. I come still closer and I find that there is a subterranean recess, and I walk down the over the doorway—and architecture of gates of the necropolis. The dead can- gler left behind. All! all! And now fruits and flowers chiselled by the hand of the sculptor. I go into the portico and on either side there are rooms, two or four, or six rooms of rock; in the walls, niches, each niche large enough to hold a dead body. One of these rooms of rock is especially wealthy with sculpture. It was a beautiful and charming spot. Why all this? The fact was that Joseph, the owner of the parterre, of that wealthy manor, had recognized the fact that he could not always walk those gardens, and he sought this as his own last resting place. What a beautiful plot in which to await for the resurrection! Mark well the mausoleum in the rock. It is to be the most celebrated tomb in all the ages. Catacombs of Egypt, tomb of Napoleon, Mahal Taj of India, nothing compared with it. Christ had just been murdered and His body must be thrown out to the dogs and ravens ns was customary with crucified bodies, unless there be prompt and effective hindrance. Joseph, the owner of the mausoleum, begs for the body of Christ, and he takes and washes the poor and mutilated frame from the blood and the dust, and shrouds it and perfumes it.

I think embalmment was omitted. When in olden times they used to embalm a dead body, the priest with some pretension of medical skill would show the point between the ribs where the incision was to be made. Then the operator would come and make the incision, and then run for his life, else he would be slain for violating the dead body. Then the other priests would come with salt of nitre and cassia, and wine of palm tree, and complete the embalment. But I think in this case embalmment was omitted lest there be more excitement and another riot.

The funeral advances. Present, Joseph, the owner of the mausoleum; Nicodemus, who brought the flowers, and the two Marys. Heavy burden on the shoulders of two men as they carry the body of Christ down the marble stairs and into the portico and lift the dead weight to the level of the niche in the rock, and push the body of Christ into the only pleasant resting place it ever had. These men coming forth close the door of rock against the recess. The government, afraid that the disciples would steal the body of Christ and play resurrection, put upon the door the scal of the Sanhedrim, the violation of that seal, like the seal of the United States government, or of the British govern-

A regiment of soldiers from the tower of Antonio is detailed to guard that mausoleum. At the door of that tomb, a fight took place which decided the question of all graveyards and cemeteries. Sword of lightning against sword of steel. Angel of God against the military. The body in the crypt begins to move in its shroud of fine linen and slides down upon the pavement, moves through the portico, appears in the doorway, comes up the marble steps. Christ having left His mortuary attire behind him, comes forth in the garb of a workman as I take it, from the fact that the women mistook him for the gardener.

We are all glad that in the short time of the Saviour's inhumation He lay amid flowers and sculpture. I cannot quite understand what I see in the newspapers where, amid the announcement of obsequies, the friends request "send no flowers." Why, there is no place so appropriate for flowers as the casket of the departed. If your means allow-I repeat, if your means allow-let there be flowers on the casket, flowers on the hearse, flowers on the grave. Put them on the brow; it means coronation. Put them in the hand; it means victory. Christ was buried in a parterre. Christ was buried in a garden.

Flowers are types of resurrection. Death is sad enough anyhow. Let conservatory and aboretum do all they can in the way of alleviation. Your little girl loved flowers while she was alive. Brooklyn has no grander glory than her Greenwood, nor Boston than her Mount Auburn, nor Philadelphia than her Laurel Hill, nor Cincinnati than her Spring Grove, nor San Francisco than her Lone Mountain. What shall I say of those country graveyards where the vines have fallen down and the slab is aslant, and the mound is caved in, and the grass in the pasture ground for the sexton's cattle. Are your father and mother of so little account you have no more respect than that for their bones? Some day gather together and straighten up the fence and lift the slab, and bank up the mound, and tear out the weeds and plant the shrubs. After a while, you yourself will want to lie down to the last slumber. If you have no regard for the bones of your ancestors, your children will have no deference for your bones. Do you say these relies are of no importance? You will see of how much importance they are when the archangel takes out his to the grinding process, has discovered

Our Convicta. The number of convicts in the United States, as given by the recent census, is 45,233, an increase of thirteen to the Pike's Toothache Drops Cure in one minu millin as compared with the previous census. Of these the foreign born clement furnished 14,725, the colored population 14,687, and the native whites 13,715. These figures are rather striking. By the census of 1880, and the same proportions still hold good the native white population was in round numbers 37,000,000, and the foreign ,670,000, and the colored 6,580,000. The foreign born and colored population, therefore, furnishes two-thirds of the convict class with only one-third as great numbers as the native white population. The latter, numbering 37,000,-000, has but 13,715 convicts. The two former, numbering 13,250,000, has 29,412 of the convict population.-Toledo
