

ALL THINGS NOW READY

Dr. Talmage Discourses on the Greatest of Banquets.

The Saviour Ever Ready to Receive All. The Church Open to All Who Desire to Enter—No Unnecessary—Necessary—Come Now.

In a late sermon at Brooklyn Rev. T. Dewitt Talmage's subject was: "The Saviour Ever Ready to Receive All."

Why are there sermons that do not get their ring under the people? Why are there prayers that get no higher up than a hunter's halloo? Because there is a missing link that only the Holy Spirit can make.

It was an exciting time in English history when Queen Elizabeth I. visited Lord Leicester at Kenilworth castle.

Do you notice that sometimes that Spirit takes an insignificant agency to save a soul? I think it is very often that at just one passage of Scripture, just one word of Scripture, a soul is saved because the Holy Spirit gives it supernatural power.

Do you know what it was that saved Martin Luther? It was that one verse: "The just shall live by faith."

Do you know what it was that brought Augustine from his horrible dissipation? It was that one verse: "Put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make no provision for the flesh, to fulfill the lusts thereof."

Do you know what it was that saved the man at the well? It was that one passage: "Now thou art glorified forever and ever."

STOCK ITEMS.

Uniformity in size, color and weight will add to the value of a lot of goods when they are ready to market.

The most important requisite in horse shoeing is the adoption of a correct system, not the use of any special form of shoe.

Of the seven to nine months required to feed a hog for market, from five to seven of them should be spent in good pastures.

Feed influences breed to a very large extent. In producing mutton a very inferior mutton sheep can be raised to a considerably high standard by proper feeding.

Horses may look alike when standing side by side, but nothing short of being bred alike will insure matching in action.

No advantage follows the retention of shoes on the feet of a horse for more than four weeks, as the growth of the horn in that time produces a disproportionate hoof.

An Illinois farmer very properly objects to the term "breaking" colts. That which usually goes under that name should never mean anything more than educating the animals to do certain kinds of work that will increase their value and usefulness.

"People do not talk to their horses enough," says a gentleman to a questioner. "Horses are highly intelligent and while they cannot talk to you, seem to understand almost everything said to them."

The first year of the colt's life should be fruitful of instruction. The colt will learn more easily when six months old than one year old.

OBJECTIONABLE PEOPLE.

A Man of the World Says Many Things That Shock the Moralists.

"There are a good many things going on right under my eyes every day that make me exceedingly tired," remarked a somewhat cynical but very observing man of the world the other afternoon.

"In the first place, it seems to me that I observe the horse craze, loudly dressed, full-mouthed fellows who loiter around the front portals of certain so-called 'sporting' saloons, and pose as gamblers."

"Then, too, I am fatigued beyond expression by the horrid efforts made by hundreds of young men working for small remuneration to appear as the glass of fashion and the mold of form."

"These chaps double up and sleep in cramped, dingy, uncomfortable quarters, and eat in the most squalid, bare, and filthy restaurants."

"I am also made the victim of over-powering ennui when I see youths ranging in years from sixteen to twenty-one, walk into a saloon, saunter up to the bar, nod familiarly to the attendant and draw out 'whisky and 'polly water.'"

"I am also made the victim of over-powering ennui when I see youths ranging in years from sixteen to twenty-one, walk into a saloon, saunter up to the bar, nod familiarly to the attendant and draw out 'whisky and 'polly water.'"

FARM NOTES.

If well fed from the start ducks ought to be ready for market in ten weeks old, and at that age should average five pounds.

As the weather gets warmer more care is necessary to pick up the eggs regularly. A day or two under a hen in hot weather will spoil eggs.

To a considerable extent the quality of the hay depends upon the stage at which it is cut and the manner of curing it.

Grass can be cut, gathered up and stacked in the field or moved away in the barn by horse power much more economically than by hand.

Mustard seed may be sown as early in the spring as the ground can be properly prepared.

Wise farmers plow under clover, rye or buckwheat for improving the condition of the soil.

Nearly all kinds of fruit should be picked a little green if it is to be sent any distance.

"O, Jim, O, Jim! Hurry as fast as ever you can!"

"What's all this yelling about?" demanded an officer who had just crossed the street.

"'Who's Jim?'"

"The kid carrying that grip down the street."

"And he turned from the officer and pitched his voice about one vest button higher, and shouted:

"'O, Jim, but there's a feller up here rolling a barrel of sugar into a grocery, and one of the heads is loose and he's blind on that side and can't see it, and it's going to fall out and scatter more'n a ton of sugar on the sidewalk! Hurry right up, and get all the boys you kin, and find all the papers you kin, it's the plumpest chance in a big city that you ever heard tell of!'"

"A Depraved Little Wretch."

An Austin widow was contemplating the preparation of matrimony for a second time, when the rumor reached the ears of her little boy, Johnny, who burst into the room where the widow was entertaining the young man who had been mentioned in that connection, and exclaimed:

"If pa was alive he would cure you of wanting to get married again," Texas Siftings.

"Mrs. Malaprop sometimes hits the nail on the head. It rained in Toronto as she left the church Sunday morning without an umbrella. 'How interesting this is!' she ejaculated."

TOBACCO IN ENGLAND.

The reason that they have better smoking tobacco in England than here is that our best tobacco is sent there.
