the committee room while Bardsler's statement to Editor McWade was being read, then stood forward and requested that he be allowed to testify. "I have been anxious to appear ever since the question was raised mearding the stock of which I previously testified," said he. In answer to the question Mr. Wanamaker said his interest in the bank arose out of his acquaintance with President Lucas and his brother when they were young merchants. He stated that he never pledged the over-issue stock after he was told it was an overissue, and it was out of his hands at the time; that he did not know H. H. Yard, and had met Mrs. Lucas but once and that was at an interview about the over-issued stock. As to the story told by Bardsley McWade that he had threatened to close the bank unless he was paid for the over-issued stock and Lawyer Sulaberger and Johnson had forced him to return it, Mr. Wanamaker said it was absolutely false. Granville B. Haines and Samuel B. Huev went to Washington to see him about the over-issued stock and he told them that they must settle for it, and that if they did not, in justice to himself, he should inform the comptroller of the currency. After the bank closed he gave up the stock Bardsley's statement that Marsh obtained from him $200,000 for was absolutely untrue and without the slightest foundation, and invited the committee to inspect his books.

Reply of the Emperor to the Lord Mayor's LONDON, July 11.-The city was gala atttire yesterday on account of the kaiser's visit to Guildhall The emperor replied to the lord mayor's address in the following terms: "My lord: Please receive my heartfelt thanks for the warm welcome extended to us by the citizens of this ancient and noble metropolis. I beg your lordship to kindly transmit the expression of my feelings to those in whose name you have spoken. I have always felt at home in this lovely country, being the grandson of your queen, whose name will ever be remembered as that of a noble character and of a lady great in the wisdom of her counsels and whose reign has conferred lasting blessings upon England Moreover, the same blood runs in English as in German veins, and, following the examples of my grandfather and my ever lamented father, I will, so far as in my power, maintain the historical friendship existing between these our two nations which, as your lordship has mentioned, have so often been seen side by side in defense of liberty and justice. "I feel encouraged in my task when see that wise, capable men, such as are gathered here to-day, do justice to the earnestness and honesty of my intentions. My aim is above all the maintenance of peace; for peace alone can give the confidence necessary to a healthy development of science, art and greeted with applause because of the trade. Only so long as peace reigns are rival Epworth league work of the we at liberty to bestow earrest thoughts upon the great problems, the solution of which, in fairness and equity, I consider the most prominent duty of our time. "You may therefore rest assured that shall continue to do my best to maintain and to constantly increase the good relations existing between Germany and other nations. I shall always be found ready to unite with you and with them in common labor for peaceful progress, friendly intercourse and the advancement of civilization." A dinner in the Guildhall followed the proceedings in the library.

formal service by having the twentythird Psalm repeated by the audience. After singing, the annual report of tieneral Secretary J. W. Baer, of Boxton, was read. It stated that one year ago the membership records showed 11,013 societies an increase over the previous year of 3,341 societies. Therewere new 16,274 societies. Three hundred and seven societies were supported from across the water. There were others from whom the society have not heard. England has 128 societies: Austria, 28; Turkey 12 and China 7. The five leading Canadian provinces reported as follows: Ontario 458 societies, Nova Scotia 156, Quebec 33. New Brunswick 36 and British Columbia 25. The five leading society states were: New York 2.354 societies. Pennsylvania 1,463, Ohio 1,061, Illinois 1.043 and Massachusetts 918 A number of other states were close behind The banner for the state territory or province showing the largest percentage of gain was awarded to the territory of Oklahoma, British Columbia second. Nova Scotia third, Virzinia a close fourth, and Alabama, Arkansas and Mississippi with the same ratio, fifth, Another banner was decided on last year for the greatest aggregate gain and Pennsyl vania, having a gain of 645 local societies, would hold that banner for one year. New York was second with $59. 360, Arkansas 277. Kansas reported more gain than the entire membership the first five years. Town, city and district unions had been formed with much benefit. Philadelphia bad a union of 182 societies, Chicago 160, New York city 80, St. Louis 67, Brooklyn 63. There were four floating societies on men-of-war. Great growth was reported in the junior organization of which fifty-five societies were reported. Illinois led with 121. Among the denomination the Presbyteri ans had 4,195 Christian Endeavor societies: Congregationalists, 3,545 Baptists, 2,381, Methodists, 2,060, and Christian (Disciples) 801. As to the individul members the growth was mar velous. In Philadelphia in 1888, 31 000 members reported; at Chicago 485,000; at St. Louis last yer and now the 16,274 local seal 1,008,980 members. No money, lected from the societies, q penses being paid by the sale of literature and printing for local and ties. The Golden Rule, the paper of the society, was heartily commended. It was known that 282,000 members of the society had become church members within the year. He closed with an appeal for greater Christian endeavor General Secretary Baer read a number of telegrams, among others one from Bishop Vincent regretting his inability to be present on account of his bronchitis. He said Hishop Vincent told him in Chicago yesterday that had he been a Congregationalist or a Presbyterian he would not have started, but being a Methodist he thought he should try to come. This remark was Methodist church
