AND HOSIERY.

It is our intention to be attentive to the wants of our customers and place before them an opportunity to purchase such goods as they require, at the least possible cost.

Operating large stores in the East, and buying goods in large quantities, enables us to sell goods at retail, and below what most merchants have to pay.

It is a fact surmised, that people in this neighborhood require for immediate and future wants, a large supply of goods of our supply station, There is no store in the larger cities that will worth your while, if you come for overburdened with delicious fruits of great credit, especially in the selecoffer better goods, or lower prices than you can buy of the

A Blow at Despotism.

That was a hard blow that our "Jeems" McNeny gave the independent party at Minden the other day, engine out for the day's work, Lew convention: The convention wanted to exact an un-American pledge from from their subjects, but Mr. McNeny was not to be caught by any such chaff. If he could not be nominated on his merits, unpledged and unhampered, he did not want the office, and money nor fame would not induce him to sacrifice his rights as a citizen in any such manner, and all good citizens should frown upon every attempt of any political, secret or other institution that attempts to tramp upon customary rights of the people to be free and untrameled. The Minden Gazette says of Mr. McNeny: McNeny was next on the program and when presented with a paper for his signature, emphatically declined. It created a sensation and if a dynamite bomb had been thrown upon the stage it would not have created more of a surprise. McNeny made his speech, but it was not the kind expected. He denounced in plain English such an exhibition of demagogueism and attempt to degrade and disgrace the judiciary by pledges calculated for the benefit of one class against all others regardless of justice or equity. It was a manly, honorable course to pursue, in contradistinction to the eager and over anxious spirit of all the other candidates to get up and Cloaks, Underwear, sign away their manhood, then boast of the act. It is needless to say that McNeny was not voted for again.

The Reunion.

Only a few more days till the old soldiers' reunion takes place. The people of the country should bear this in mind, and also bear in mind that they are specially invited to come and time and help honor the brave boys of '61-65 who did so much to preserve done to make the reunion enjoyable that money and hard work can do, and THE CHIEF expects fully 40,000 people in Red Cloud on that occasion, and hopes that its expectations will be fully realized.
