Journeying Up the Nile-The Great River and its Influences-Fulfillment of a Prophecy-Historic Scenes Described -Truth of the Scriptures.

text from Ezekiel xxix. 9, "The river of the year or the week or the day, and tons high up in the wall at Karnac imis mine and I have made it." He said: Aha! This is the river Nile. A brown, or yellow, or silver on which are hung more jewels of thrilling interest than on any river that has ever in the books of Deuteronomy, and time. Isaiah, and Zachariah, and Nahum, and on its banks stood the mighties of many ages. It was the crystal cradle all my lifetime, and our emotions pencil of the present day? But the White Nile would do little for its banks and Egypt would remain a desert. But from Abyssinia there comes what is called the Blue Nile. which, though dry or nearly dry half the middle of June rises to great momentum, and the Blue Nile dashes with for fish." sudden influx into the White Nile, which in consequence rises thirty feet, Egypt with a rich soil which drops on all the fields and gardens as it is conducted by ditches and sluices, and canals every whither.

The greatest damage that ever came to Egypt came by the drying up of the river Nile, and the greatest blessing by its healthful and abundant flow. The famine in Joseph's time came from the lack of sufficient inundation from the Nile. Not enough Nile is drought, too much Nile is freshet and plague.

What happens to the Nile happens to Egypt. The nilometer was to me very suggestive as we went up and down its stone steps and saw the pillar marked with notches telling just how high or low are the waters of the Nile. When the Nile is rising, four criers every morning run through the city announcing how many feet the river has risen-ten feet, fifteen feet, twenty feet, twenty-four feet-and when the right height of water is reached the gates of the canals are flung open and the liquid and refreshing benediction is pronounced on all the land As we start where the Nile empties into the Mediterranean sea we behold a wonderful fulfiliment of prophecy. The Nile in very melent times used to ave seven mouths. As the great river approached the sea it entered the sea at the seven different places. Isaiah prophesied: "The Lord shall utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea and shall smite it in seven streams." The fact is they are all destroyed but two, and Herodotus said these two remaining are artificial. Up the Nile we shall go, part of the way by Egyptian rail train and then by boat, and we shall understand why the Bible gives such prominence to this river which is the largest river of all the earth, with one exception. But before we board the train we must take a look at Alexandria. It was founded by Alexander the Great, and was once the New York, the Paris, the London of the world. Temples, palaces, fountains, gardens, pillared and efflorescent with all architectural and Edenie grandeur and sweetness Apollos, the eloquent, whom in New Testament times some people tried to make a rival to Paul, lived here. Here Mark, the author of the second book of the New Testament expired under Nero's anathema. From here the ship sailed that left Paul and Melita. Pompey's pillar is here.

This tower was built in honor of Diocletian for sparing the rebellious citizens. After having declared that he would make the blood run to his horse's knees and his horse fell with him into the blood and his knees reddened, the tyrant took it for granted that it was a sign he should stop the massacre and hence this commemorative pillar to his mercy. This is the city to which Omar came after building 1,400 mosques and destroying 4,000 temples and 35,000 villages and castles, yet riding in on a camel with a sack of eorn, a sack of figs and a wooden plate, all that he had kept for himself, and the diet to which he had limited himself for most of the time was bread and water.
