GEO A. DUCKER

A Woman's Invention, A Woman's Industry, A Woman's Enterprise, For Working Women!

The woman's canning factory has perfected its organization and began its work.

Its heart and inspiration is a slight, gray haired woman now moving about on crutches, the result of a fall, Miss Amanda T. Jones. She is a Christian woman with heart about with love for her fellow woman and a desire to seek and save that which is lost.

She was led into a study of the industrial conditions surrounding working women and to one knows better than she does the terrible environments of those "prisoners of poverty."

Her investigations led her into the great canning factories of the country, and in many of them she found girls working on such a mere pittance of salaries that they could hardly keep soul and body together, honestly; the result can be imagined. All these things sank deep into her heart, and her prayers day and night was, "Lord, open the way for relief."

The prayer was answered, how, is too long and too sacred a story to tell here, but to Miss Jones the answer seems as plain and audible as was the call to Saul on his way to Damascus. The germ thought of the invention which led to the patents of our title was a part of that answer. But like all germs it must grow, and it has been growing in the brain, in the laboratory of the chemist, the work shops of the machinist, till now it has burst forth in full bloom. The poetry has become practical prose, and the charter that voices it, creates an association for the purpose of canning all sorts of fruits, fruit pieces, vegetables, etc., without cooking or the use of chemicals, also to can or preserve meats by a new process, said process and machinery to carry them on being invented by the said Amanda T. Jones. Under this charter the stockholders met and organized a board of eleven. The principal canning works are in Chicago, the executive and business committee are also there. Other members of the boards are in various states from New York to Missouri.

Take your pick now of the overcoat at Wiener's Golden Eagle they are selling them cheap.

Fits and Mists.

Lulu.—Your grandpa is rich as cream, isn't he?

Estella.—Rich nothing, he's as poor as Job's turkey, but generous to a fault.

Lulu.—You mean he is generous to you, I suppose.

Estella.—That's right.

Farmers, if you want clothing, boots and shoes, dry goods or groceries, we will divide our profits with you. Call and see us.

A Pure Baking Powder.

A baking powder that can be depended upon to be free from lime and alum is a desideratum in these days of adulterated food. So far as can be judged from the official report, the "Royal" seems to be the only one yet found by chemical analysis to be entirely without one or the other of these substances, and absolutely pure. This, it is shown, results from the exclusive use by its manufacturers of cream of tartar specially refined and prepared by patent process which totally removes the tartrate of lime and other impurities. The cost of this chemically pure cream of tartar is much greater than any other, and it is used in no baking powder except the "Royal," the manufacturers of which control the patent under which it is refined.

Dr. Edward G. Love, formerly analytical chemist for the U. S. Government, who made the analysis of the New York State Board of Health in their investigation of baking powders, and whose intimate knowledge of the ingredients of all those sold in this country enables him to speak authoritatively, says of the purity, wholesomeness and superior quality of the "Royal":

"I find the Royal Baking Powder composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder, and does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substance."

Prof. Love's tests, and recent official tests by both the United States and Canadian Governments, show the Royal Baking Powder to be superior to all others in strength and leavening power. It is not only the most economical in use, but makes the purest, finest flavored and most wholesome food.

You can keep your feet warm this winter by buying your boots of Wiener as he finds that he is overstocked with boots and is selling them cheaper than you can buy them at regular prices.

Blankets, quilts, flannels, cotton batting, gloves, hose, anything you want very low.

ROYAL Baking Powder

is the only one made free from lime, alum, and all extraneous substances, and ABSOLUTELY PURE. It is in every way superior to every similar preparation. WITNESS:

The United States Government tests (Chemical Division, Agricultural Department) show Royal Baking Powder a cream of tartar powder superior to all others in leavening strength.—See BULLETIN 13, AG. DEPT., P. 599.

I find the Royal Baking Powder superior to all others in every respect. It is purest and strongest.

WALTER S. HAINES, M. D.,
Prof. Chemistry Rush Medical College,
Consulting Chemist Chicago Board of Health, etc.

I have found the constituents of Royal Baking Powder to be of a high degree of purity, free from adulteration or admixture of deleterious substances.

J. W. MALLEY, Ph. D., F. R. S.,
Prof. of Chemistry, University of Virginia.

I find the Royal Baking Powder far superior to the others. It is pure, contains none but wholesome ingredients, is of 23 per cent. greater strength.

F. X. VALANI, M. D.,
Public Analyst, Dominion of Canada.

The Royal Baking Powder is perfectly healthful, and free from every deleterious substance; purest in quality and highest in strength of any baking powder of which I have knowledge.

WM. McMURRIE, E. M., Ph. D.,
Late Chief Chemist Agricultural Department.

The Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure. It is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public.

HENRY A. MOTT, Ph. D.,
Late Chemist for U. S. Government.
