EDITORIAL NOTES.

Senator Paddock's postoffice bill has passed the senate. Nebraska is more ably represented to day by Senators Manderson and Paddock than she has ever been. The state of Nebraska can feel proud of her republican representatives in congress, for they are excellent workers and never miss an opportunity to do good work for the state.

With the return of prosperity, THE CUTLER returns to its accustomed size, a six column quarto. There is no particular money in newspaper subscriptions, especially at one dollar per year, yet we feel that to keep abreast of the times, it is necessary to change the paper. We have always done our level best to give our patrons the news and shall continue to do so. We hope our friends will assist us in gathering news and sending in new subscriptions.

Governor Boyd of Nebraska has published his decision not to call an extra session of the Legislature. The members of that body are averse to leaving their work and business for another session and it would be unconstitutional to reappoint the State into legislative and congressional districts. Thus are blasted the Democratic hopes of another grotesquely artistic gerrymander and of the theft of one or two more presidential electors from a Republican State—Denyer Sun.

The so-called decision of the United States supreme court in the Thayer-Boyd case doubtless appears more absurd to every sensible citizen with each days consideration. The idea of the whole sale making of citizens without their request, knowledge or consent, is repugnant alike to propriety and patriotism. Should such a decision be good law, every Indian in the territory at the time of Nebraska's admission is made a citizen as fully as Mr. Boyd. But since the court stood on the alleged decision four for and four against, it is to be hoped early steps will be taken to deny its validity.—Hebron Journal.

Did you ever stop to think that Red Cloud had the best water power in the state of Nebraska, and it is not artificial either. The Republican river at this point has a decided fall, much greater than elsewhere, and with a very little expenditure, a ten to fifteen thousand horse power can be developed. Eastern capitalists and manufacturing institutions who are looking after immense power, that is both cheap and plentiful should investigate it. The water power surpasses Kearney, and any other Nebraska point. We have good shipping facilities to all parts of the world via the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railway, one of the greatest roads in America, besides other roads are coming this way. Red Cloud has a natural drainage and is a beautiful little city of about 3000 souls. Come and see us and be convinced of what we say.

Disease never successfully attacks a system with pure blood. De Witt's Sarsaparilla makes pure, new blood and enriches the old. C. L. Cotting.

People's Mass Convention.

The voters of the city of Red Cloud without regard to party affiliation are invited and requested to meet in a people's mass convention at the court house on Monday evening March 21, 1892, at 8 p. m. sharp, for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the several city offices to be voted for at the regular city election, to be held Tuesday, April 5th, 1892. Also to nominate two members of the board of education.

A self-binder has been invented and patented, using instead of twine or wire the straw of the grain being cut. It promises to revolutionize the harvest business and knock the life out of the twine trust. The next thing in order will be a straw trust, and when it comes to that the farmers will hold the grain end.

It seems that McKeighan in his little five minute speech in Washington the other day remarked, "That the democrats would take care of the silver bill." This little remark inadvertently slipped out but the democrats are always sure to find him upon any important matter to them. We never doubted that he was a sincere democrat, only that his outside coat is alliance, while his regular garment is democratic.—Nelson Gazette.

State Sunday School Day.

The first Sunday in April (the 3d ult.) is State Sunday-school day, when every Sunday-school in Nebraska is invited and expected to devote at least a portion of their regular session to a season of prayer for the Sunday-school work of the State at large and especially for the State Association and the forthcoming convention. Or if thought best by the individual schools they may have a special service for this purpose. Each Sabbath-school is also asked to give a collection at the rate of two cents per member, to aid in th's work on that day. Said collection to be sent to the secretary at Hastings, who will properly receipt for the same.

S. S. Convention.

Report of the Sunday school convention held March 9th at Cowles, Neb. On arriving at Cowles in the early morning we made our way directly to the Congregational church. We were the first arrivals but others soon began to come in. When we found that the president of this association, Rev. H. D. Platt, was sick and could not be in attendance, Charles Kelsey of Hastings was called on to preside. E. B. Knight was appointed assistant secretary. Rev. Randall conducted devotional services. The first topic, "The relation of the S. S. to piety and character," was assigned to Rev. Randall and his treatment of the subject was interesting and edifying. "The relation of the S. S. to reforms," led by Mrs. Hayes of Cowles, and "The S. S. as the fore-runner of the church" led by Mr. Kelsey; all of these topics were freely discussed by Revs. Pulsis, Randall and Ely, Mr. Kelsey, Mrs. Hayes, Platt, Knight and Miss Hayes.

At noon a bountiful dinner was served in the church by the ladies of the city. All were ready for, and freely discussed the refreshments. At two p. m. the house was called to order by the presiding officers. Devotional services were led by Miss Addie Hayes. Prayer by Rev. Pulsis. The topic of "Push in the S. S." was then taken up by Rev. Ely and handled in his usual happy manner, and was discussed by nearly all present who took part in the convention. "Lights and shadows of S. S. work" was led by Chas. Kelsey in an able manner, and was fully discussed by the convention. The question box was found to contain a large number of questions which were assigned to the different members and the answers were very instructive and amusing. Then came the election of officers with the following result: Emma B. Knight, Pres.; Rev. E. L. Ely, Vice-Pres.; Addie Hayes, Sec. and Treas.; C. L. Eddy, H. D. Platt and J. D. Pulsis, members of the executive board.

A set of resolutions were presented by the committee appointed for that purpose, consisting of Revs. Pulsis and Randall and Mrs. H. D. Platt. These resolutions were to the effect that the members pledge themselves to greater faithfulness in their work and their lives. That they tender their thanks to the people of Cowles for their hospitality and their sympathy to the president of the society in his affliction and their gratitude to press of the county for favors received. Adjourned to meet at the call of the Ex. board. E. B. Knight.
