THE PRISONER STRONGLY GUARDED.

Fears That He May Be Attacked By the Excited People-Fainted Twice After his Capture, But Maintains His Innocence.

PERTH, Australia, March 19. - Deening, who is accused of having murdered his wife and four children in England, was brought to the city yesterday by officers, going to Melbourne, where court proceedings will be taken against him. The prisoner was strongly guarded and every precaution taken by the authorities to prevent him from attempting to make his escape and to guard against his being attacked by tained of a dangerous outbreak of popular feeling against the murderer. The railroad station was jammed with a great crowd of persons when the train bearing the prisoner and his guards reached the city.

As soon as the cars came to a standstill the crowd, which had been patiently waiting at the station for a long time, made an exciting rush toward the car which the Deening party occupied for the purpose of catching a glimpse of the now famous criminal. The constables who had charge of the prisoner at once hurried Deening from the train to a vehicle which had been held in readiness to convey him to the jail. A yelling, hooting mob of men and boys started after the carriage, but the driver whipped up his borses and soon outran his pursuers and in a short time had safely landed Deening in the institution where he will remain for a few days until the formal magisterial inquiry is held and he is remanded.

The detectives who hunted the prisoner down were interviewed after their arrival here. They said that when Deening was arrested and was quostioned about the terrible charges made against him, he affirmed his complete innocence of the crimes. He gave his name as Swanston, and declared that he had no knowledge of the man known as Williams, He said that he was a resident of Windsor.

The detectives also gave the information that the prisoner had fainted twice during the journey but that otherwise he appeared to be in a cheerful frame of mint. He was voluble reimposing duties on certain exports and was very willing to talk about the from Venezuela, Hayti and Colombia murders attributed to him. He seemed will lead again to a test of the validity to be confident that when the proper of the reciprocity clause of the McKintime came he would be able to prove ley bill. The proclamation opens the his innocence. The police claim to pos- way for the direct question to be sess prove of his identification. Count Von Zedlitz-Trutschler Resigned-The Primary Education Bill the Cause. Berlin, March 19 .- It now appears certain that Count Von Zedlitz-Trutschler resigned his office at the termination of the cabinet council Thursday, erate as a great hardship on Americans and that he was prompted to take this engage in that trade. The constitustep by the statement made by Emperor William that he did not wish the primary education bill passed by the courts. The question would be a one-sided majority. The withdrawal of the bill after forcing it through the committee in a practically amended form would be a confession of great weakness on the part of the government, Chancellor Von Caprivi's attitude in regard to the much discussed measure having been quite as that of Baron Von Zedlitz-Trutschler.

The emperor sent Dr. Lucanas to induce Count Von Zedlitz to reconsider but it is believed that he declined to withdraw his resignation.

Chancellor Von Caprivi's intention to resign is becoming more decided. He carry it up the supreme court and get has represented to the emperor that he a decision upon the direct question of must identify himself with Count Voa the right of congress to delegate a law-Zedlitz, whose views he personally making power to the president." shared. In the event of the chancellor resigning, it will be difficult to anticipate his successor or a possible combination for a new ministry. Dr. Miguel, Prussian minister of finance, is calmly awaiting events.

It is stated that Chancellor Von Caprivi desires to postpone a definite decision on the produce bill, but that the emperor insisted that he would brook no delay and the country's objections to the bill must be respected. The emperor would not have left Berlin if Chancellor Von Caprivi had resigned.

No decision anent Count Von Zedlitz will be taken till the emperor returns. His sudden departure, coupled with the secrecy of the proceedings of the councit, has filled the air with political rumors. Chancellor Von Caprivi vainly tried to dissuade Count Von Zedlitz from resigning, as this result will probably greatly embarrass the government. The conservatives and Catholics are dismayed.

The Great Stattion Bace Declared Off. GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 19.-The great stallion race booked for the August meeting is declared off, word having been received from C. W. Williams, owner of Allerton, declining to enter the race. He says he is afraid that should he bring Allerton here and enter him in the race with Axtell against him the other horses would crowd him in favor of Axtell. He will. therefore, not take Allerton away from home until he has met Axtell alone. The horsemen have, therefore, given up the big $20,000 race and substituted a $10,000 race for stallions.

BOODLE ALDERMEN.

Chicago Enjoying a Genuine Sensation-Several of tier Aldermon Accused of Having Received Boodle From Corpora-

CHICAGO, March 18 .- As a sequel to the recent passage by the city council of an ordinance granting permission to the Chicago Power Supply & Smoke Abating Co., better known as the Compressed Air Co, to use the streets and alleys of the city in about any manner it might see fit, the indictment of a number of aldermen by the grand jury for alleged boodling is promised. The men who have been active in working up these cases have spared no expense and have made sure of each step. They have witnesses who have seen large sums of money paid by the representatives of corporations to individual aldermen and who have heard the alderman promise on receiving the money to cast his vote on a certain measure in a certain way. The money was paid in various ways. Some received it at their homes from messenthe excited people, fears being enter- gers. Some were paid in the precincts of the city hall and it is said that two sold their votes in the lobby of the council chamber.

When the Northern Pacific ordinance was passed and when the active support of the Economic Gas proposition was made by prominent members of the counci!, suspicion was created, and when in one instance at least this suspicion grew to positive certainty of corruption, the investigation was set on foot which, it is now said, will end only when several present members of Chicago's city council are wearing the stripes of Joliet penitentiary.

Among the witnesses who are subprenaed are two members of the council who were dragged into the boodling operations and who have expressed a willingness to tell all they know.

States Attorney Longenecker says he expects to show that all three of the ordinances-the compressed air, the Northern Pacific and the economic gas -were passed by the virtue of the purchase of votes for hard cash. "I don't be the biggest upheaval ever seen in this city. When all the facts are finally made public the result will be the most sensational of any in the city's history." He added that he would be aided by three of the city's most prominent attorneys.

The claim set up in this case was that the whole bill was rendered invalid by the presence of this clause in the bill, but the validity of the clause itself was not tested. Now any importer importing coffee from Venezuela and being required to pay duty on the import may contest the validity of this levy of duty imposed merely by an executive proclamation and applicable to similar imports from this country. WILL TAKE A HAND.

Russia Declares That She Gave Uncle Sam a Deed to Alaska and the Behring Sea and that She Stands Ready to Delend the Title.

WASHINGTON, March 17.-There is likely to be a new and very interesting feature added to the Behring sea question. A report comes through a ery reliable diplomatic source that Russia has been observing the progress of matters between the United States and Great Britain with interest. If the arbitration treaty is likely to be ratified, Russia will protest against any such action for three reasons. The first is that Russia conveyed Alaska, and the rights and the privileges claimed now, to the United States for a money consideration. Russia cannot stand still unheard when by arbitration the right of the Russian government to take the action it did is by implication to be called in question by a European power.

Second-Russia stands ready to guarantee all she conveyed to the United States and make good her title in any manner necessary. Russia feels that for the United States to permit the title to what she had conveyed to be arbitrated is to call that title in question, to intimate that there was a lack of authority to make such a conveyance. This, if persisted in, must inevitably affect the standing of the Russian empire among the treaty-making powers. To this Russia will not submit. Alexander, emperor and king, will not permit any proceeding of Russia to be thus treated.

Third-If any power of Europe claims or implies that the czar conveyed to the United States with Alaska rights and privileges that were not his to convey, Russia demands, under the comity of nations, that she be permitted to deal with any such claimant in order that the imperial ukase of the late ruler, Alexander II., be not placed in contempt, thus lowering the standing of the empire among nations, and permitting powers not interested, nor party to the conveyance, to pass upon Russia's solemn treaty, made and ratimind saying," said he, "that there will | fied by that nation and the United States.

This the czar asks as his right under the equities between the two nations. This is the substance of the Russian protest. The state department is unusually non-committal on the subject. Mr. Wharton refuses to answer any questions concerning the Russian note, for that is the shape it comes in, but a member of the cabinet, deeply interested in the present proceedings, said that the above statement fairly covers the facts.

It was reported last summer that Russia would protest against having her actions questioned by Great Britain, and at the time it was stated in an inspired article in the Washington Post that if it comes to trouble between the United States and Great Britain, Russia and France would be on the American side. The injection of a continental quantity into the question pending between England and the United States may cause some unexpected turns on with the deepest interest. The president will probably inform the foreign relations committee of the senate of the Russian attitude before the treaty is acted upon.

PRODDING JOHNNY BULL.

The President Anxious to Know the Intention of the British Government. WASHINGTON, March 17 .- Acting Secretary Wharton has been instructed to inform Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British minister, that the president desires to know at as early a date as possible the intention of the British government with regard to the proposed renewal of the modus vivendi of last year for the preservation of the seal fisheries, pending the settlement by arbitration of the question of the jurisdictional rights of the United States in Behring sea. The British minister was requested to call Lord Salisbury's attention to Mr. Wharton's note of the 8th instant insisting on the necessity of the modus vivendi, with the suggestion that the President would like to have a response as soon as possible in order that he might act understandingly in the matter. The president's desire for speedy action is said to be due to the fact that it is essential that he should know whether Great Britain will co-operate in keeping the sealers out of Behring sea, as otherwise, the execution of that duty falling solely the United States, will necessitate the making of arrangements that can scarcely be effective unless completed at an early day. The character of the instructions to our naval and revenue vessels designed for duty in Behring sea this season will depend almost altogether on the attitude to be assumed by Great Britain, and as the vessele will have to be in the vicinity of the sea by May 1, it will be seen that there is very little time to spare in premaring.
