CURRENT COMMENT.

The blood vessels in the white of the eye are so small that they do not admit the little red corpuscles to which the ordinary red appearance of the blood is due.

Mrs. Sarah Tittle Bolton, once famous as the pioneer poet of Indiana, best known by her production, "Paddle Your Own Canoe," is still living in Indianapolis at the age of 77.

Among the instrumental resources of the Johns Hopkins university is a thermometer valued at $10,000. The graduations on the scale are so fine that a magnifying glass is required to read them.

The skeleton of a whale over 100 feet long has been discovered buried in the sands on the shore of Baranoff island, off Alaska, far above the high tide mark. It is supposed to have been there hundreds of years.

Queen Margaret, of Italy, though somewhat inclined toward ebullience, is nevertheless a beautiful woman even yet. It is said that on the day of her marriage (in 1868), when receiving the foreign ambassadors and ministers, she spoke to each of them in their own language.

Josephine J. Jarocki, a Polish countess and a grandniece of Count Pulaski, of revolutionary renown, is occasionally seen in the streets of Washington. For twenty years she has been fighting for a fortune left by Count Pulaski, and now, at 50, she is in a state of abject poverty.

Divers who helped to lay the foundation of the great Eads bridge, at St. Louis, found that while they were under a pressure of four "atmospheres," or sixty pounds to the square inch, the ticking of a watch was absolutely painful to the ear. They also found it impossible to whistle.

A late scientific authority states that by saturating a bullet with vaseline its flight may be easily followed with the eye from the time it leaves the muzzle of the rifle until it strikes the target. The course of the flight is marked by a beautiful ring of smoke, caused by the vaseline being ignited on leaving the muzzle of the gun. This smoke ring will remain suspended in the air for some time after the bullet strikes if the day is not too windy.

Ward McAllister's only daughter was visiting not long ago in Philadelphia, and at a luncheon given in her honor assumed airs of superiority which caused the other women present mingled amusement and rage. During the luncheon she remarked in a supercilious tone to a bright girl on her right: "Ah, have you any one here who fills the somewhat important place in society that papa does in New York?" "O, yes, several," sweetly replied the girl addressed; "but they're all colored men."

In that enormous waste known as the Gobi desert, north of China, showers sometimes fall during the summer, and the torrents of a day fill the dried-up water courses through which water seldom runs. It is in these channels that the Mongols dig their wells, expecting to find a little water, when upon the surface of the plateau itself the soil has lost all traces of humidity. It is owing to the fact that a part of the moisture falling during a few rainy days is thus preserved within reach that it is possible for caravans to cross the desert.

ITALIAN commerce for the first two months of 1892 showed imports amounting to 161,609,876 lire, against 174,235,312 lire for the same period in 1891, and exports of 155,052,434 lire, against 126,700,550 lire for the same period in 1891. Everything points toward a speedy conclusion of the negotiations pending between Switzerland and Italy for the conclusion of a commercial treaty. Although Italy has been obliged to make greater concessions to Switzerland than had been expected, still the conclusion of the treaty is welcomed in every quarter.

CURIOS evidence shows that a cubic inch of air at sea level contains about 350,000,000 molecules. If the law of regularly diminishing density holds good, a cubic inch of air at the height of 100 miles will contain about 350,000 molecules, and at less than 222 miles only one molecule. Opinions differ, however, as to the actual height of the atmosphere's upper surface. Prof. Young declares that no definite upper limit can be stated, while Prof. Forster, of Berlin, contends that a thin air, connected with that of the earth, pervades the whole solar system.

Statistics in regard to the frequency of thunderstorms in various parts of the world are given as follows by a German periodical: Java has thunderstorms on the average 97 days in the year; Sumatra, 86; Hindostan, 56; Borneo, 54; the Gold Coast, 52; Rio de Janeiro, 51; Italy, 38; West India, 36; South Guinea, 33; Buenos Ayres, Canada and Australia, 23; Baden, Wurtemberg and Hungary, 22; Silesia, Bavaria and Belgium, 21; Holland, 18; Saxony and Brandenburg, 17; France, Austria and South Russia, 16; Spain and Portugal, 15; Sweden and Finland, 8; England and the high Swiss mountains, 7; Norway, 4; Cairo, 3. In East Turkestan, as well as in the extreme north, there are almost no thunderstorms. The northern limits of the thunderstorms are Cape Ogle, northern part of North America, Iceland, Nowaja Semeloa and the coast of the Siberian ice sea.

CONGRESS.

The Week's Proceedings Condensed For Convenience of the Reader.

MANY petitions were presented in the senate on the 1st for closing the world's fair on Sundays. Mr. Morgan's resolution on the silver question was permitted to go over until Monday. The Indian appropriation bill was taken up. After various amendments had been agreed to in committee of the whole the bill was reported to the senate. After an executive session the senate adjourned until Monday. After considerable filibustering on unimportant motions the house finally went into committee of the whole on the free wool bill. It was finally agreed that debate should close Saturday (the 3d) and the house took a recess, the evening session to be for the consideration of private pension bills.

THE senate was not in session on the 21 and debate on the free wool bill continued in the house. Messrs. McKinney (N. H.), Wilson (Mo.) and Cummings spoke in favor of the bill and Mr. Burrows (Mich.) spoke in opposition. The debate was closed by Messrs. Bryan (Nebr.) and D'Armond (Mo.) in favor of the bill and the house adjourned.

WHEN the senate met on the 24th there was a feeble attempt to head off the silver debate by putting the matter before the senate on the 24th. Mr. Sherman attempted to call up the bill for the classification of grain but failed, and the appropriation bill got in the way but Mr. Dawes withheld the matter temporarily. Mr. Morgan then proceeded to address the senate in favor of silver, and in the course of his remarks said the matter would be speedily adjusted but for the number of presidential aspirants who had friends among senators. To test the matter Senator Sherman then moved to table the resolution, which brought out some remarks from Senator Teller. Mr. Stewart spoke in favor of free coinage. The matter then went over and the senate adjourned.

IN the house, after about thirty minutes' consideration the Chinese exclusion bill passed by a vote of 178 yeas to 63 nays. It prohibits any subject of China, except diplomatic and consular officers and servants, from entering this country and those leaving the country are not permitted to return. Visitors are permitted under certain rules. The senate resolution to print 800 copies of the eulogies on Senator Plumb was concurred in. The debate on free wool was then resumed under the limits and Mr. Springer closed the debate by submitting some remarks which he had Mr. Bryan (Nebr.) read for him as he had not sufficiently recovered to speak in person. Mr. Springer was warmly received by the members when he appeared in the house. Pending consideration of the bill, amid much confusion, the house adjourned.

WHEN the senate met on the 5th the vice-president laid before the body Mr. Berry's resolution of inquiry as to the construction of the Memphis bridges. Mr. Morgan offered an amendment to his resolution, which provides for the coinage of gold and silver on equal terms, etc., which was ordered printed. The Indian appropriation bill was then considered until adjournment. The pending question being a motion to strike out the provision authorizing army officers as agents, after preliminary business in the house the free wool bill was taken up and Mr. McMillin's motion to limit debate met with earnest opposition from a majority and under the lead of Mr. Burrows filibustering was inaugurated, and without accomplishing anything the house finally adjourned.

WHEN the senate met on the 6th Mr. Webster (Neb.) spoke in favor of silver. He severely criticized the president for his opposition to free coinage and arraigned those members who a few months ago were advocates of free silver but had gone over to the opposition under the party lash. Senator Webster's speech was the sensation of the day. The matter went over and the Indian appropriation bill was taken up and considered until adjournment.

Soon after the house met it went into committee of the whole on the free wool bill. The filibustering of the day before having been abandoned. After a long discussion the committee rose and reported the bill to the house. Adjourned.

AFTER routine business in the senate on the 7th Mr. Teller offered a resolution, which was agreed to, calling on the secretary of the treasury for a statement as to the amount of silver offered each month and the prices paid for silver bullion. Mr. Stewart made a personal explanation of the resolution and severely denounced a correspondent of a temperance paper who accused him of drinking. He had the letter read and denied the charge, while other members alluded to "acknowledged the soft impeachment." On motion of Mr. Burrows the letter was expunged from the record. A resolution to expunge Mr. Funston's remarks from the record as indecorous to a woman (the correspondent) was permitted to lie on the table, under assurance that objectionable language would be eliminated. After briefly considering the Turner cotton bagging bill the house adjourned.

Caprivi Will Take the Cure.

BERLIN, April 8.—The North German Gazette says that Chancellor von Caprivi will go to Carlsbad after Easter to take the cure.

Rather risky—the offer that's made by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Risky for them. For you, if you have Catarrh, it's a certainty. You're certain to be cured of it, or to be paid $500. That's what they offer, and in good faith—they cure you, or pay you, no matter how bad your case, or of how long standing. But—is it so much of a risk? They have a medicine that cures Catarrh, not for a time, but for all time. They've watched it for years, curing the most hopeless cases. They know that in your case there's every chance of success, almost no chance of failure.

Wouldn't any one take such a risk with such a medicine?

The only question is—are you willing to make the test, if the makers are willing to take the risk?

If so, the rest is easy. You pay your druggist fifty cents and the trial begins.
